CHAPTER I: DISPOSITION OF THE REPEATED VERSES IN TEN CLASSES

Classification according to extent and interrelations of the Repeated Matter

As stated above (p. 4), the number of repetitions in the RV. which involve metrical lines singly, or in distichs, or in stanzas, or in groups of stanzas is about 2,400. This number is exclusive of repetitions of verse-lines within one and the same hymn; exclusive of refrain pādas; and exclusive of catenary repetitions. But this number includes the pāda pairs or groups, described on p. 10, which show considerable similarity, yet not enough to entitle them to be regarded as full repetitions. These are taken account of only occasionally in the following classification.

In the majority of cases repetitions may be said to be sporadic, that is, a single pāda appears in two or more different parts of the Saṁhitā. This class is taken for granted, and is not further considered. But repetition is by no means restricted to repetition of single pādas: every conceivable group or mass of pādas, even up to an entire hymn (see p. 13), is occasionally repeated, in such a way as to call for arrangement according to the size or nature of this group or mass. Accordingly it has been found convenient to deal with this matter under the following ten heads:

1. Groups of stanzas are repeated.
2. Entire single stanzas are repeated unchanged, as refrains at the end of hymns.
3. Entire single stanzas, not refrains, are repeated in any part of a hymn.
4. Substantially identical stanzas are repeated with changes.
5. Similar stanzas.
6. Distichs are repeated unchanged.
7. Distichs are repeated with changes.
8. Single pādas are repeated with an added word or words.
9. Two or more unconnected pādas recurrent in the same pair of hymns, or in a pair of adjacent hymns.
10. Stanzas containing four or three or two pādas repeated in different places.

1. Groups of Stanzas are repeated

There are 9 groups of two to four stanzas which occur twice or more in the text. They involve altogether $21\frac{1}{2}$ stanzas repeated a total of 43 times:

1.23.21-23 (ascribed to Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 10.9.7-9 (ascribed to Triṣiras Tvāṣṭra), both addressed to the waters (Āpaḥ). They are preceded in each book by another, almost identical stanza whose form is better in 10.9. The entire passage bears the mark of secondariness in 1.23; see under 1.23.21.

3.4.8-11 (ascribed to Viçvāmitra Gāthina) = 7.2.8-11 (ascribed to Vasiṣṭha Māitravaruṇi), both groups of āpri-stanzas. The repetition in 7.2.8-11 is galita, as also in the case of the āpri-stanza 1.13.9 = 5.5.8 (below, p. 495). Considering the traditional hostility between the families of Viçvāmitra and Vasiṣṭha¹ their partnership in so large a number of consecutive āpri-stanzas is a curious and unexplained circumstance.

5.42.16^{cd}, 17, 18 = 5.43.15^{cd}, 16, 17, ascribed to Atri Bhāuma, and addressed to Viṣve Devāḥ. Two and one-half refrain stanzas at the end of each hymn, presumably by the same author. Note also that 5.41.8^d = 5.42.16^b ~~17.21~~.

6.47.12, 13 (ascribed to Garga Bhāradvāja) = 10.131.6, 7 (ascribed to Sukīrti Kakṣivata); addressed to Indra Sutṛāman. Pādas b and d of the first stanza, and pādas a b of the second stanza occur also elsewhere. The stanzas seem to be more original in the connexion of 10.131; see under 6.47.12.

9.36.4, 5 (ascribed to Prabhūvasu Āṅgīrasa) = 9.64.5, 6 (ascribed to Kaçyapa Mārīca). Both passages are addressed to Pavamāna Soma, but in the first soma is treated in the singular; in the second in the plural (somāḥ), so that the second pair makes the impression of an ūha of the first pair. See under 9.36.4, 5.

10.42.10, 11 = 10.43.10, 11 = 10.44.10, 11, ascribed to Kṛṣṇa Āṅgīrasa, and addressed to Indra. Two refrain stanzas at the end of the hymns; presumably by the same author.

5.40.2, 3 (ascribed to Atri Bhāuma): 8.13.32, 33 (ascribed to Nārada Kāṇva); both to Indra. This case also involves intentional parallelism of two pairs of successive stanzas. But they are identical only in their respective first distichs, the second distichs being entirely or partially refrains. I have assumed that the version of the fifth book is the primary one; see under 5.40.2, 3.

In two cases either the materials of one single stanza are worked up by additions into two stanzas, or the converse process has taken place, i. e. two stanzas have been condensed, by omissions, into one stanza. Thus 5.22.2

(ascribed to Viṣvasāman Ātreya) distributes its four pādas through the two stanzas, containing six pādas, of 5.26.7, 8 (ascribed to Vasūyava Ātreyaḥ). Both are addressed to Agni. It seems to me that the expanded stanzas are secondary; see under 5.22.2.

The first distichs of 10.33.2 and 3 (ascribed to Kavaṣa Āilūṣa) are contracted into the single stanza 1.105.8 (ascribed to Trita Āptya, or Kutsa). Both are addressed to Indra. There seems to me good reason to believe that the abbreviated version is secondary; see under 1.105.8.

2. Entire Single Stanzas Repeated Unchanged as Refrains at the end of Hymns

The majority of single stanzas that are repeated verbatim are refrain stanzas at the end of hymns, usually ascribed to the same author or family of authors. But there are also a considerable number of single stanzas, scattered through the collection, which are repeated, either because the subject strongly invites the use of the same material (as in the case of the Āpri-hymns), or because of the general habit of the poets to stand upon one another's shoulders. In the case of such borrowing of a single stanza the original source is even more difficult to determine than in the case of one or more pādas, because the stanza is a rounded whole whose meaning does not hinder it from amalgamating with various surroundings.

The following 43 refrain stanzas, occurring a total of 129 times, are found at the end of hymns. They regularly (except 10.89.18 and 10.104.11, repeating in galita 3.30.22) recur in the same book, and they are invariably treated as galita in their repeated occurrences. Books 8 and 9, and they only, are totally lacking in refrain stanzas, a fact which characterizes the eighth book in a particular degree, because it is especially rich in refrain pādas and refrain appendages (see the List of Refrain-lines in Part 3). Books 3 and 7 are especially prominent in this class of repetitions:

- 1.95.11 = 1.96.9 (Kutsa Āngirasa; to Agni)
 1.100.19 (Rjṛāçva) = 1.102.11 (Kutsa). To Indra
 1.165.15 = 1.166.15 = 1.167.11 = 1.168.10 (Agastya, or Agastya Māitravaruṇi; to Maruts)
 1.175.6 = 1.176.6 (Agastya; to Indra)
 1.183.6 = 1.184.6 (Agastya; to Aṣvins). Note also 1.183.3^d = 1.184.5^c.
 2.1.16 = 2.2.13 (Gr̥tsamada; to Agni)
 2.11.21 = 2.15.10 = 2.16.9 = 2.17.9 = 2.18.9 = 2.19.9 = 2.20.9 (Gr̥tsamada; to Indra)
 2.13.13 = 2.14.12 (Gr̥tsamada; to Indra)
 2.23.19 = 2.24.16 (Gr̥tsamada; to Brahmanaspati). Second distich also at 2.35.15^{cd}
 2.27.17 = 2.28.11 = 2.29.7 (Kūrma Gār̥tsamada, or Gr̥tsamada; to Varuṇa)
 3.1.23 = 3.5.11 = 3.6.11 = 3.7.11 (Viṣvāmitra Gāthina) = 3.15.17 (Utkila Kātya) = 3.23.5 (Devagravas Bhārata, and Devavāta Bhārata). To Agni
 3.30.20 = 3.50.4 (Viṣvāmitra; to Indra)
 3.30.22 = 3.31.22 = 3.32.17 = 3.34.11 = 3.35.11 = 3.36.11 = 3.38.10 = 3.39.9 = 3.43.8 = 3.48.5 = 3.49.5 = 3.50.5 = 10.89.18 = 10.104.11 (Viṣvāmitra, or his descendants; to Indra)

Part 2, Chapter 1: Ten Classes of Repeated Passages [494]

- 4.13.5 = 4.14.5 (Vāmadeva Gāutama; to Agni). The two hymns are imitative throughout; see p. 13.
- 4.16.1 = 4.17.21 (Vāmadeva Gāutama) = 4.19.11 = 4.20.11 = 4.21.11 = 4.22.11 = 4.23.11 = 4.24.11 (Vāmadeva). To Indra.
- 4.43.7 = 4.44.7 (Purumīḥa Sāuhotra, and Ajamīḥa Sāuhotra; to Aṣvins)
- 5.42.17 = 5.43.16 (Atri Bhāuma; to Viṣve Devāḥ)
- 5.42.18 = 5.43.17 = 5.76.5 (Atri Bhāuma) = 5.77.5 (Avasyu Ātreya). To Aṣvins. Note also 5.43.11* = 5.76.4°.
- 5.57.8 = 5.58.8 (Ṣyāvācva Ātreya; to Maruts)
- 6.2.11 = 6.14.6 (Bharadvāja Bārhaspatya; to Agni)
- 7.1.20 = 7.1.25 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Agni). Since 7.1.20 is repeated in the same hymn it is evidently a final stanza. The redaction has welded two hymns. Cf. Oldenberg, Prol. pp. 122, note 2, 142.
- 7.3.10 = 7.4.10 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Agni)
- 7.7.7 = 7.8.7 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Agni)
- 7.20.10 = 7.21.10 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Indra)
- 7.24.6 = 7.25.6 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Indra)
- 7.28.5 = 7.29.5 = 7.30.5 (Vasiṣṭha Maitrāvaruṇi; to Indra)
- 7.34.25 (Vasiṣṭha; to Viṣve Devāḥ) = 7.56.25 (Vasiṣṭha; to Maruts)
- 7.39.7 = 7.40.7 (Vasiṣṭha; to Viṣve Devāḥ). Pādas b and c also in 7.62.3° and 7.1.20°
- 7.41.7 = 7.80.3 (Vasiṣṭha; to Uṣas)
- 7.60.12 = 7.61.7 (Vasiṣṭha; to Mitra and Varuṇa)
- 7.62.6 = 7.63.6 (Vasiṣṭha; to Mitra and Varuṇa)
- 7.64.5 = 7.65.5 (Vasiṣṭha; to Mitra and Varuṇa)
- 7.67.10 = 7.69.8 (Vasiṣṭha; to Aṣvins)
- 7.70.7 = 7.71.6 (Vasiṣṭha; to Aṣvins)
- 7.72.5 = 7.73.5 (Vasiṣṭha; to Aṣvins)
- 7.82.10 = 7.83.10 (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Varuṇa)
- 7.84.5 = 7.85.5 (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Varuṇa)
- 7.90.7 = 7.91.7 (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Vāyu)
- 7.97.10 = 7.98.10 (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Bṛhaspati)
- 7.99.7 = 7.100.7 (Vasiṣṭha; to Viṣṇu)
- 10.11.9 = 10.12.9 (Havirdhāna Āṅgi; to Agni)
- 10.63.17 = 10.64.17 (Gaya Plāta; to Viṣve Devāḥ)
- 10.65.15 = 10.66.15 (Vasukarṇa Vāsukra; to Viṣve Devāḥ). Note also that 10.65.9° = 10.66.4°; that each hymn consists of fifteen stanzas; and that the author, according to the express statement of our stanza, is a Vasiṣṭha. See p. 16.

3. Entire Single Stanzas, not Refrains, Repeated in any part of a Hymn

A considerable number of stanzas that are not refrains are repeated throughout the collection, either in the same or in different maṇḍalas, and without being confined to the end of hymns. The Anukramanī is not disturbed by these recurrences; the hymns in which occur the repeated stanzas are cheerfully assigned to different authors and are said, at times, to be addressed to different divinities. Such repetitions are frequently, but by no means always, written out in full (not galita). To some extent these repeated stanzas are ritualistic, and a few are cosmic or theosophic, in accordance with the marked tendency of brahmodya stanzas and motifs to repeat themselves throughout the mantra literature. The number of these stanzas is 23, repeated each a single time, so as to yield a total of 46 occurrences:

- 1.13.9 (Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 5.5.8 (Vasūcruta Ātreya). Apri-stanza to Tisro Devyāḥ. Repeated as galita in 5.5.8, as also is the case in the repetition of 3.4.8-11 in 7.2.8-11 (above, p. 17)
- 1.13.8 (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Indra Marutvant) = 2.41.15 (Gr̥tsamada; to Viṣve Devāḥ). R̥tuyāja-stanza (cf. p. 17), repeated as galita in 2.41.15.
- 1.91.3 (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa; to Soma) = 9.88.8 (Uṣanas Kāvya; to Soma Pavamāna). Ritual stanza, repeated as galita in 9.88.8.
- 1.91.16 (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa; to Soma) = 9.31.4 (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa; to Soma Pavamāna). Ritual stanza, repeated in full.
- 1.124.12 (Kakṣīvat Dāirghatamasa) = 6.64.6 (Bharadvāja). To Uṣas, repeated as galita in 6.64.6.
- 1.147.3 (Dirghatamas Aucathya) = 4.4.13 (Vāmadeva Gāutama). To Agni, repeated in full.
- 1.164.31 (Dirghatamas Aucathya; to Viṣve Devāḥ) = 10.177.3 (Pataṅga Prājāpatya; Māyābhedaḥ). Brahmodya, repeated in full.
- 1.164.50 (Dirghatamas Aucathya; to Sādhyāḥ) = 10.90.16 (Nārāyaṇa; to Puruṣa). Brahmodya, repeated in full.
- 1.174.9 (Agastya) = 6.20.12 (Bharadvāja). To Indra, repeated as galita in 6.20.12. Note also the correspondence of 1.174.2^b with 6.20.10^c
- 2.1.2 (Gr̥tsamada Bhārgava, &c.) = 10.91.10 (Aruṇa Vāitahavya). To Agni. Ritual stanza repeated in full.
- 2.41.13 (Gr̥tsamada) = 6.52.7 (R̥jīvan Bhāradvāja). To Viṣve Devāḥ. Repeated in full.
- 3.9.9 (Viṣvāmītra Gāthina; to Agni) = 10.52.6 (Agni Sāucika; to Devāḥ). Repeated in full.
- 3.41.6 (Viṣvāmītra) = 6.45.27 (Çaṁyu Bārhaspatya). To Indra, repeated as galita in 6.45.27.
- 3.47.5 (Viṣvāmītra) = 6.19.11 (Bharadvāja). To Indra, repeated as galita in 6.19.11.
- 3.52.3 (Viṣvāmītra) = 4.32.16 (Vāmadeva). To Indra, repeated in full. Cf. 3.62.8.
- 4.12.6 (Vāmadeva Gāutama; to Agni) = 10.126.8 (Kulmalabarhiṣa Çāllūṣi, &c.; to Viṣve Devāḥ). Repeated in full.
- 4.32.13 (Vāmadeva) = 8.65.7 (Pragātha Kāṇva). To Indra, repeated in full.
- 6.15.12 (Vītahavya Āṅgirasa, or Bharadvāja) = 7.4.9 (Vasiṣṭha Māitrāvaruṇi). To Agni, repeated as galita in 7.4.9.
- 8.6.45 (Vatsa Kāṇva) = 8.32.30 (Medhātithi Kāṇva). To Indra, repeated in full.
- 8.11.8 (Vatsa Kāṇva) = 8.43.21 (Virūpa Āṅgirasa). To Agni, repeated in full.
- 8.13.18 (Parvata Kāṇva) = 8.92.21 (Çrutakakṣa Āṅgirasa, &c). To Indra, repeated in full. Note also the correspondence of 8.13.14^b with 8.92.30^c.
- 8.32.29 (Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 8.93.24 (Sukakṣa Āṅgirasa). To Indra, repeated in full.
- 9.25.6 (Dṛḥacyuta Āgastya) = 9.50.7 (Ucathya Āṅgirasa). To Soma Pavamāna. Ritual stanza, repeated in full.

4. Substantially identical Stanzas Repeated with Changes

One of the features in the repetition of stanzas is that they are repeated with variations. We have seen (above, p. 492) that the pādas of one given stanza may appear distributed among two, along with other kindred devices. Similarly there are cases in which a certain stanza reappears with an added pāda. Thus in the following two cases involving four stanzas:

- 1.23.20 (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Waters)
apsu me somo abravīd antar viṣvāni bheṣajā, agnim ca viṣvaçambhuvam āpaç ca viṣvabheṣajīḥ.

9.65.20 (Bhṛgu Vārūṇi, or Jamadagni Bhārgava; to the same) apsā indrāya vāyave varuṇāya marudbhyaḥ, somo arṣati viṣṇave.

Pāda 9.34.2^a also at 5.51.7^a.

10.159.4 (Çaci Pāulomī), almost = 10.174.4 (Abhivarta Āngirasa; Rājñāḥ stutiḥ) yenendro haviṣā kṛtvya abhavad dyumny uttamaḥ, idaṁ tad akri devā asapatnaḥ (10.174.4, asapatnā) kilābhuvam.

5. Similar Stanzas

At this point the discussion carries us out of the domain of repeated stanzas to that of similar stanzas. A close definition of the term similar stanzas is impossible, because an identical pāda, or some other more or less identical group of words implies similarity. I group here such stanzas as have one or two repeated pādas, and have in addition more or less additional identical or parallel words. What is perhaps even more important, they are pervaded by the same spirit to such an extent as to preclude the possibility that the authors of the second hand did not have in mind the pattern stanzas as a whole. The modifications on the part of the imitative stanza are freer and cover a wider range of change of subject. Grammatical and lexical change, change of divinity and subject have here full play, but the pattern stanza is always traceable in the secondary result. Needless to say we cannot for the most part tell which is the pattern stanza. I have indicated above that there are in the Rīg-Veda a number of similar stanzas in which no one pāda of one is exactly like the other, yet whose general tenor is more or less definitely, or more or less vaguely the same (p. 12). Such resemblance pervades, e.g., almost every one of the corresponding stanzas of 9.104 and 105 (p. 13). The similarities of the present class fade out to the point where it becomes doubtful whether they really extend through a given stanza, or merely through one or more of its component units, pāda, or distich.

This class may be established for the following 39 examples, involving 80 stanzas, to wit:

1.3.10 : 6.61.4	1.121.5 : 10.61.11
1.23.1 : 8.82.2	1.174.2 : 6.20.10

 9.83.5 : 9.86.40
 9.90.5 : 9.97.42
 9.104.2 : 9.105.2¹

As apt illustrations of this class I may cite in full the following dozen or so cases, for the purpose of showing to the eye this style of repetition :

- 1.3.10 (Madhuchandas Viçvāmītra ; to Sarasvatī) pāvakā naḥ sarasvatī vājebhir vājinīvatī, yajñam vaṣṭu dhiyāvasuḥ.
 6.61.4 (Bharadvāja ; to Sarasvatī) pra ṇo devī sarasvatī vājebhir vājinīvatī, dhīnām avitry avatu.
 1.25.10 (Çunaḥçepa Ājigarti, alias Devarāta ; to Varuṇa) ni śasāda dhṛtavrato varuṇaḥ pastyāsv ā, sāmṛājyāya sukratuḥ.
 8.25.8 (Viçvamanas Vāiṇya ; to Mitra and Varuṇa) ṛtāvanā ni śedatuḥ sāmṛājyāya sukratū, dhṛtavrataḥ kṣatriyā kṣatram āçatuḥ.
 1.37.4 (Kāṇva Ghāura ; to Maruts) pra vaḥ çardhāya ghr̥ṣvaye tveçadyumnāya çuṣmīne, devattaṁ brahma gāyata.
 8.32.27 (Medhātithi Kāṇva ; to Indra) pra va ugrāya niṣṭure 'śālāya prasakṣiṇe,
 devattaṁ brahma gāyata.

There is a subtle likeness in these stanzas which goes beyond the mere verbal parallelism. See under 1.37.4.

- 1.47.7 (Praskanva Kāṇva ; to Açvins)
 yan nāsatyā parāvati yad vā stho adhi turvaçe, ato rathena suvṛtā na ā gataṁ sākaṁ sūryasya raçmibhiḥ.
 8.8.14 (Sadhvaṇsa Kāṇva ; to Açvins)
 yan nāsatyā parāvati yad vā stho adhy ambare, ataḥ sahasranirñijā rathenā yātam açvinā.

The second hemistich of 8.8.14 also at 8.8.11.

- 1.117.25 (Kakṣivat Dāirghatamasa ; to Açvins)
 etāni vām açvinā vīryāni pra pūrvyāṇy āyavo 'vocan, brahma kṛtvanto vṛṣaṇā yuvabhyāṁ suvirāso vidatham ā vadema.
 2.39.8 (Gṛtsamada ; to Açvins) etāni vām açvinā vardhanāni brahma stomam gṛtsamadāso akran, tāni narā jujuṣānopa yātam bṛhad vadema vidathe suvirāḥ.
 1.121.5 (Kakṣivat Dāirghatamasa ; to Indra, or Viçve Devāḥ) tubhyāṁ payo yat pitarāv anitām rādhaḥ suretas turape bhuranyū, çuci yat te rekṇa āyajanta sabardughāyāḥ paya usriyāyāḥ.
 10.61.11 (Nābhānediṣṭha Mānava ; to Viçve Devāḥ) makṣū kanāyāḥ sakhyāṁ naviyo rādho na reta ṛtam it turanyan, çuci yat te rekṇa āyajanta sabardughāyāḥ paya usriyāyāḥ.

4.46.3 (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Vāyu)

ā vām sahasraṁ haraya indravāyū abhi prayah, vahanu somapītaye.

8.1.24 (Pragātha Kāva, formerly Pragātha Ghāura; to Indra)

ā tvā sahasraṁ ā çatam yuktā rathe hiraṇyaye, brahmayujo haraya indra keçino vahanu somapītaye.

4.46.4 (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Vāyu)

ratham hiraṇyavandhuraṁ indravāyū svadhvaram,
ā hi sthātho diviṣṛçam.

8.5.28 (Brahmātithi Kāva; to Açvins)

ratham hiraṇyavandhuraṁ hiraṇyābhīçum açvinā,
ā hi sthātho diviṣṛçam.

Cf. also the correspondence of 4.46.5^a with 8.5.2^a.

5.51.3 (Svastyātreyā Ātreya; to Viçve Devāḥ) viprebhir vipra santya prātaryāvabhir ā gahi, devebhīḥ somapītaye.

8.38.7 (Manu Vāivasvata; to Viçve Devāḥ)

prātaryāvabhir ā gataṁ devebhir jenyavasū, indrāgnī somapītaye.

5.75.3 (Avasyu Ātreya; to Açvins)

ā no ratnāni bibhratāv açvinā gachataṁ yuvam, rudrā hiraṇyavartanī juṣāṇā vājīnivasū mādhvī mama çrutam havam.

8.8.1 (Sadhvaṇsa Kāva; to Açvins)

ā no viçvābhir ūtibhir açvinā gachataṁ yuvam, dasrā hiraṇyavartanī pibataṁ somyam madhu.

Pāda 5.73.3^a is refrain in 5.75.1^a-9^a, and pāda 8.8.1^d is a common formula, 6.60.15^d (q. v.)

8.5.18 (Brahmātithi Kāva; to Açvins)

asmākam adya vām ayaṁ stomo vāhiṣṛtho antamaḥ, yuvābhyam bhūtv açvinā.

8.26.16 (Viçvamanas Vāiyaçva, or Vyaçva Āṅgīrasa; to Açvins) vāhiṣṛtho vām havānām stomo dūto huvan narā,

yuvābhyam bhūtv açvinā.

8.14.6 (Goṣūktin Kānvāyana, and Açvasūktin Kānvāyana; to Indra) vāvṛdhānasya te vayam viçvā dhanāni jigyuṣaḥ, ūtim indrā vṛṇīmahe.

9.65.9 (Bhrgu Vāruṇi, or Jamadagni Bhārgava; to Soma Pavamāna)

tasya te vājino vayam viçvā dhanāni jigyuṣaḥ, sakhitvam ā vṛṇīmahe.

8.18.3 (Irimbiṭhi Kāva; to Ādityas)

tat su naḥ savitā bhago varuṇo mitro aryamā, çarma yachantu sapratho yad imahe.

10.126.7 (Kulmalabarhiṣa Çāllūṣī, or Āṇhomuc Vāmadevya; to Viçve Devāḥ) çunam asmabhyam ūtaye varuṇo mitro aryamā, çarma yachantu sapratha ādityāso yad imahe ati dviṣaḥ.

For the future of the higher criticism of the Rig-Veda stanzas which reflect one another as a whole are of particular importance. A single pāda easily assumes a formulaic character, is easily remembered and repeated. But when an entire stanza reflects the spirit and diction of another we are face to face with a definite historical question which, theoretically at least, is solvable. Similarity in the preceding group of stanzas is by no means equally thoroughgoing in each case: it fades out into stanza correspondence of still lower degree. I add here, without writing them out in full, a considerable number of citations in which the greater part of one stanza is parallel to the greater part of a second stanza; each contains additional elements. Yet, again, the spirit of the two stanzas is enough the same to make it very likely that one stanza, as a whole, served as a pattern for the other. Thus, e.g.:

5.26.1 (Vasūyava Ātreyaḥ; to Agni)

agne pāvaka rociṣā mandrayā deva jīhvayā,

ā devān vakṣi yakṣi ca.

6.16.2 (Bharadvāja; to Agni)

sa no mandrābhīr adhvaṇe jīhvābhīr yajā mahaḥ,

ā devān vakṣi yakṣi ca.

Or, more subtly, because the word forms, rather than the word sense, are changed:

7.77.4 (Vasiṣṭha; to Usas) antivāmā dūre amitram uchorvīm gavyūtim abhayam kṛdhi naḥ, yāvaya dveṣa ā bharā vasūni codaya rādho grāte maghoni.

9.78.5 (Kavi Bhārgava; to Soma Pavamāna)

etāni soma pavamāno asmayuḥ satyāni kṛṇvan draviṇāny arṣasi, jahi çatrum antike dūrake ca ya urvīm gavyūtim abhayam ca nas kṛdhi.¹

The following cases are more or less of this sort. They are not always separated by a hard and fast line from the preceding group:

1.13.8 : 1.142.8 : 1.188.7	5.26.2 : 7.16.4
1.92.13 : 4.55.9	5.46.3 : 7.44.1
1.124.3 : 5.80.4	6.45.25 : 8.95.1
1.124.10 : 4.51.3	6.48.8 : 7.16.10
3.9.6 : 10.118.5	6.53.10 : 9.2.10
3.12.4 : 8.38.2	6.70.3 : 8.27.16
3.41.7 : 7.31.4	7.77.4 : 9.78.5
4.7.8 : 4.8.4	8.6.15 : 8.12.24
5.9.3 : 6.16.40	9.1.4 : 9.6.3 : 9.51.5 : 9.63.12
5.13.5 : 8.98.12	9.35.2 : 9.62.26
5.20.3 : 7.94.6	9.41.4 : 9.42.6 : 9.61.3
5.26.1 : 6.16.2	9.46.5 : 9.65.13

6. Distichs Repeated Unchanged

The next variety of repetition is that of distichs, or any given pair of pādas in one stanza recurring together within the limits of another stanza. This takes place on a rather surprising scale, there being no less than 62 distichs which are repeated without variation, and 79 which are repeated with more or less variation. This count, of course, aside from the stanzas repeated entirely:

¹ Even the words yāvaya dveṣaḥ, in 7.77.4, and satyāni kṛṇvan, in 9.78.5, paraphrase one another in a remote fashion.

their collective distichs heighten the total greatly, in accordance with the preceding counts. Distichs, like stanzas, usually represent a rounded unit of thought, easy to fit into various situations, therefore the relative chronology or priority of their occurrences does not, as a rule, betray itself. A brilliant example of relative chronology, by way of illustration, is offered by the familiar Uṣas-stanza 1.124.2 :

aminatī dāivyāni vratāni praminatī manuṣyā yugāni, īyusñām upamā ṣaṣvatīnām āyatinām prathamosa vy adyāt.

The two organically antithetic pādas of the first distich are distributed pointlessly into two unfit connexions in 1.92.11^c, 12^c. And the second distich, again, reappears, 1.113.15^{cd}, in the variant form, īyusñām upamā ṣaṣvatīnām vibhātīnām prathamosa vy aṣvāt, where the obviously intentional antithesis of īyusñām and āyatinām is frivolously thrown overboard ; see under 1.92.11. In a few cases a distich is derived from one pāda by the insertion of an extra word ; thus 9.100.9^{ab}, tvām dyām ca mahivrata pṛthivīm cāti jabhriṣe : 9.86.29^c, tvām dyām ca pṛthivīm cāti jabhriṣe ; see p. 523.

The following list contains 62 pāda-pairs repeated without changes, and arranged in the order of their occurrence in the maṇḍalas. They make up a total of 132 pāda-pairs in the same stanza, to which may be added the two pairs of catenary distichs 9.67.31^{ab}, 32^{ab}, and 10.162.1^{cd}, 2^{ab}, listed on p. 8 :

- 1.13.6^{ab} (Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 1.142.6^{ac} (Dīrghatamas Āucathya). Āpri, to Devīr Dvāraḥ : vi grayantām ṛtāvṛdhāḥ, dvāro devīr asaṣcataḥ.
1.34.11^{cd} (Hiranyastūpa Āṅgīrasa) = 1.157.4^{cd} (Dīrghatamas Āucathya). To Aṣvins : prāyus tāriṣtam nī rapāṁsi mṛkṣatām sedhataṁ dveso bhavataṁ sacābhuvā.
1.36.7^{ab} (Kāṇva Ghāura ; to Agni) = 8.69.17^{ab} (Priyamedha Āṅgīrasa ; to Indra) : tam ghem itthā namasvina upa svarājam āsate.
1.53.11^{cd} (Savya Āṅgīrasa ; to Indra) = 10.115.8^{cd} (Upastuta Vārṣṭihavya ; to Agni) : tvām stoṣāma tvayā suvirā drāghīya āyuh prataram dadhānāḥ.
1.91.10^{ab} (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa ; to Soma) = 10.150.2^{ab} (Mṛṇika Vāsiṣṭha ; to Agni) : imam yajñam idam vaco jujuṣāna upāgahi.
1.92.12^c, 11^c (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa) = 1.124.2^{ab} (Kakṣīvat Dāirghatamasa). To Uṣas ; praminatī manuṣyā yugāni, aminatī dāivyāni vratāni.
1.105.14^{cd} (Trita Āptya, or Kutsa) = 1.142.11^{cd} (Dīrghatamas Āucathya). To Agni ; agnir havyā suśūdati devo deveṣu medhiraḥ.
1.106.7^{ab} (Kutsa) = 4.55.7^{ab} (Vāmadeva). To Viṣve Devāḥ : devāir no devy aditir nī pātu devas trātā trāyatām aprayuchan.
1.121.5^{cd} (Kakṣīvat Dāirghatamasa ; to Indra, or Viṣve Devāḥ) = 10.61.11^{cd} (Nābhānediṣṭha Mānava ; to Viṣve Devāḥ) : guci yat te rekṇa āyajanta sabardughāyāḥ paya usriyāyāḥ.
Cf. also pāda b of each stanza.
1.124.3^{cd} (Kakṣīvat Dāirghatamasa) = 5.80.4^{cd} (Satyaṣravas Ātreya). To Uṣas : ṛtasya panthām anv eti sādhu prajānativa na diṣo mināti.
1.127.9^{cd} (Paruccheḥpa Dāivodāsi ; to Agni) = 1.175.5^{ab} (Agastya ; to Indra) : guṣmintamo hi te mado dyumnintama uta kratuh.
1.142.4^{ab} (Dīrghatamas Āucathya) = 5.5.3^{ab} (Vasuṣruta Ātreya). Āpri, to Agni : īlito agna ā vahendram citram iha priyam.

- 2.11.4^d, 5^a (Grtsamada) = 10.148.2^{bc} (Prthu Vāinya). To Indra: dāsīr viçāḥ sūryeṇa sahyāḥ, guhā hitam guhyam gulham apsu.
- 3.1.19^{ab} (Viçvāmītra Gāthina; to Agni) = 3.31.18^{cd} (Kuçika Āiṣirathi, or Viçvāmītra; to Indra): ā no gahi sakhyebhiḥ gīvebhir mahān mahībhir ūtibhiḥ saranyan.
- 3.31.21^{cd} (Viçvāmītra Gāthina; to Agni) = 3.59.4^{cd} (Viçvāmītra; to Mitra) = 6.47.13^{ab} (Garga Bhāradvāja; to Indra) = 10.131.7^{ab} (Sukīrti Kākṣivata; to Indra): tasya vayan sumatāu yajñīyasyāpi bhadre sāumanase syāma; and, with a slight ūha, 10.14.6^{cd} (Yama Vāivasvata; to Liṅgoktadevatāḥ): teṣāṃ vayan sumatāu yajñīyānām api bhadre sāumanase syāma.
- 3.52.1^{ab} (Viçvāmītra) = 8.91.2^{cd} (Apālā Ātreya). To Indra: dhānāvantaṃ karambhiṇam apūpavantaṃ ukthinam.
- 3.55.13^{ab} (Prajāpati Vāiçvāmītra, &c.; to Viçve Devāḥ) = 10.27.14^{cd} (Vasukra Āindra; to Indra): anyasyā vatsaṃ rihati mimāya kayā bhuvā ni dadhe dhenur ūdhaḥ.
- 3.62.9^{ab} (Viçvāmītra; to Pūṣan) = 10.187.4^{ab} (Vatsa Agneya; to Agni): yo viçvābhi vipaçyati bhuvanā saṃ ca paçyati. Both stanzas begin their third pāda with sa naḥ.
- 4.17.16^{ab} (Vāmadeva Gāutama) = 10.131.3^{cd} (Sukīrti Kākṣivata). To Indra: gavyanta indraṃ sakhyāya viprā açvāyanto vṛṣaṇam vājayantaḥ.
- 4.41.5^{cd} (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Varuṇa) = 10.101.9^{cd} (Budha Sāumya; to Viçve Devāḥ, or R̥tvikstutīḥ): sā no duhiyad yavaseva gatvi sahasradhārā payasā mahi gāuḥ.
- 4.46.4^{ac} (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Vāyu) = 8.5.28^{ac} (Brahmātīthi Kāṇva; to Açvins): ratham hiraṇyavandhuram, ā hi sthātho diviṣṛgam. Note that 4.46.5^a = 8.5.2^b.
- 4.47.4^{ab} (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Vāyu) = 6.60.8^{ab} (Bharadvāja; to Indra and Agni): yā vām santi puruṣṛho niyuto dāçuse narā.
- 4.50.11^{cd} (Vāmadeva; to Indra and Brhaspati) = 7.97.7^{cd} (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Brahmanaspati): aviṣṭaṃ dhiyo jigṛtaṃ puramdhīr jajastam aryo vanuṣāṃ arātīḥ.
- 4.55.10^{ab} (Vāmadeva; to Viçve Devāḥ) = 8.18.3^{ab} (Irimbiṭhi Kāṇva; to Ādityāḥ): tat su naḥ savitā bhago varuṇo mitro aryamā.
- 5.23.4^{de} (Dyumna Viçvacarṣaṇi Ātreya) = 6.48.7^{de} (Çamyu Bārhaspatya). To Agni: revan naḥ çukra dīdīhi dyumat pāvaka dīdīhi.
- 5.42.16^{cd} = 5.43.15^{cd} (Atri Bhāuma; to Viçve Devāḥ): devo-devaḥ suhavo bhūtu mahyam mā no mātā prthivī durmatāu dhāt. In each case this distich, followed by two more identical stanzas concludes the hymn.
- 5.45.3^{ab} (Çamyu Bārhaspatya) = 8.12.21^{ab} (Parvata Kāṇva). To Indra: mahīr asya praṇī-tayaḥ pūrvīr uta praçastayaḥ.
- 5.75.7^{ab} (Avasyu Ātreya) = 5.78.1^{ab} (Saptavadhri Ātreya). To Açvins: açvināv eha gachataṃ nāsatyā mā vi venatam.
- 6.45.33^{ab} (Çamyu Bārhaspatya; to Br̥bu Takṣan) = 8.94.3^{ab} (Bindu Aṅgīrasa, &c.; to Maruts): tat su no viçve aya ā sadā gr̥nanti kāravaḥ.
- 6.51.15^{ab} (R̥jicvan Bhāradvāja) = 8.83.9^{ab} (Kusidīn Kāṇva). To Maruts: yūyam hi ṣṭhā sudā-nava indrajyeṣṭhā abhidyavaḥ.
- 7.35.15^{cd} (Vasiṣṭha) = 10.65.15^{cd} = 10.66.16^{cd} (Vasukarna Vāsukra). To Viçve Devāḥ: te no rāsantām urugāyam adya yūyam pāta svastibhiḥ sadā naḥ. Note that 7.35.15^b = 10.65.14^b, and see under 7.35.15.
- 7.39.7^{bc} = 7.40.7^{bc} (Vasiṣṭha; to Viçve Devāḥ) = 7.62.3^{bc} (Vasiṣṭha; to Mitra and Varuṇa): ṛtāvāno varuṇo mitro agniḥ, yachantu candrā upamaṃ no arkam.
- 7.59.2^{cd} (Vasiṣṭha; to Maruts) = 8.27.16^{ab} (Manu Vāivasvata; to Viçve Devāḥ): pra sa kṣayam tirate vi mahīr iṣo yo vo varāya dāçati.
- 7.104.23^{cd} (Vasiṣṭha; to Prthivī and Antariṣa) = 10.53.5^{cd} (Agni Sāucika; to Devāḥ): prthivī naḥ pārthivāt pātv anhaso 'ntariṣaṃ divyāt pātv asmān.
- 8.2.32^{bc} (Medhātīthi Kāṇva) = 8.16.7^{bc} (Irimbiṭhi Kāṇva). To Indra: indraḥ purū puru-hūtaḥ, mahān mahībhiḥ çacibhiḥ.
- 8.4.1^{ab} (Devātīthi Kāṇva) = 8.65.1^{ab} (Pragātha Kāṇva). To Indra: yad indra prāç apāç udān nyag vā hūyase ṛbhiḥ. Note the correspondence of 8.4.12^d with 8.64.10^c, the latter also a hymn ascribed to Pragātha Kāṇva.
- 8.8.18^{ab} (Sadhvaṇsa Kāṇva) = 8.87.3^{ab} (Dyumnika Vasiṣṭha, &c.). To Açvins: ā vām viçvā-bhir ūtibhiḥ priyamedhā ahūṣata. The two hymns share three more pādas; see in their order.

- 8.13.15^{ab} (Nārada Kāṇva) = 8.97.4^{ab} (Rebha Kāçyapa). To Indra: yac chakrāsi parāvati yad arvāvati vṛtrahan.
- 8.47.18^{ab} (Trita Āptya; to Ādityas and Uṣas) = 10.164.5^{ab} (Pracetas Āṅgīrasa; Duṣṣvapna-ghnam): ajāiṣmādyāsanāma cābhūmānāgasō vayam.
- 8.51 (Vāl. 3).6^{cd} (Çruṣṭigu Kāṇva) = 8.61.14^{cd} (Bhargha Prāgātha). To Indra: taṁ tvā vayam maghavann indra girvaṇaḥ sutāvanto havāmahe.
- 8.52 (Vāl. 4).6^{cd} (Āyu Kāṇva) = 8.61.10^{cd} (Bhargha Prāgātha). To Indra: vasūyavo vasupatim çatakraṭum stomāir indram havāmahe.
- 8.93.6^{ab} (Sukakṣa Āṅgīrasa; to Indra) = 9.65.22^{ab} (Bhṛgu Vāruṇi, &c.; to Soma Pavamāna): ye somāsaḥ parāvati ye arvāvati sunvire.
- 8.98.3^{ab} (Nṛmedha Āṅgīrasa; to Indra) = 10.170.4^{ab} (Vibhrāj Sūrya; to Sūrya): vibhrājaṇ jyotiṣā svar agacho rocanam divaḥ.
- 9.1.1^{bc} (Madhuchandas Vāicvāmitra) = 9.100.5^{bc} (Rebhasūnū Kāçyapāu). To Soma Pavamāna: pavasva soma dhārayā, indrāya pātave sutaḥ.
- 9.2.4^{bc} (Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 9.66.13^{bc} (Çataṁ Vāikhānasāḥ). To Soma Pavamāna: āpo arṣanti sindhavaḥ, yad gobhir vāsaiṣyase.
- 9.13.3^{ab} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.42.3^{bc} (Medhyātithi Kāṇva). To Soma Pavamāna: pavante vājasātaye, somāḥ sahasrapājasah. Note 9.13.1^a = 9.42.5^c, and 9.13.4^b = 9.42.6^c.
- 9.16.3^{bc} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.51.1^{bc} (Ucathya Āṅgīrasa). To Soma Pavamāna: somaḥ pavitra ā sṛja, punihindrāya pātave.
- 9.16.6^{bc} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.62.19^{bc} (Jamadagni Bhārgava). To Soma Pavamāna: viçvā arṣann abhiçriyaḥ, çūro na goṣu tiṣṭhati.
- 9.17.3^{bc} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.37.1^{bc} (Rāhūgaṇa Āṅgīrasa). To Soma Pavamāna: somaḥ pavitre arṣati, vighnann rakṣāṁsi devayuh. With slight ūha, 9.56.1^{bc} (Avatsāra Kāçyapa; to Soma Pavamāna): āçuḥ pavitre arṣati, vighnann rakṣāṁsi devayuh.
- 9.20.7^{bc} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.67.19^{bc} (Vasiṣṭha). To Soma Pavamāna: pavitraṁ soma gachasi, dadhat stotre suvīryam.
- 9.22.3^{ab} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.101.12^{ab} (Manu Sāmvarana). To Soma Pavamāna: ete pūtā vipaçcitāḥ somāso dadhyāçiraḥ.
- 9.23.4^{ab} (Asita Kāçyapa, &c.) = 9.107.14^{ab} (Sapta Ṛṣayaḥ). To Soma Pavamāna: abhi somāsa āyavaḥ pavante madyam madam.
- 9.30.6^{ab} (Bindu Āṅgīrasa) = 9.51.2^{cb} (Ucathya Āṅgīrasa). To Soma Pavamāna: sunotā madhumattamam, somam indrāya vajriṇe. Note the reversed order; and cf. also 7.32.8^{ab}.
- 9.33.2^{bc} (Trita Āptya) = 9.63.14^{bc} (Nidhruvi Kāçyapa). To Soma Pavamāna: çukrā ṛtasya dhārayā, vājam gomantam akṣaran. Note that 9.33.6^c = 9.63.1^a.
- 9.40.3^{bc} (Bṛhanmati Āṅgīrasa) = 9.65.21^{bc} (Bhṛgu Vāruṇi, &c.). To Soma Pavamāna: asma-bhyam soma viçvataḥ, ā pavasva sahasriṇam. With slight ūha, 9.33.6^{bc} (Trita Āptya; to Soma Pavamāna): ... sahasriṇaḥ. Cf. 9.62.12; 63.1.
- 9.40.6^{ab} (Medhyātithi Kāṇva) = 9.100.2^{ab} (Rebhasūnū Kāçyapāu). To Soma Pavamāna: punāna indav ā bhara soma dvibarhasam rayim.
- 9.53.4^{bc} (Avatsāra Kāçyapa) = 9.63.17^{bc} (Nidhruvi Kāçyapa). To Soma Pavamāna: hariṁ nadiṣu vājinam, indum indrāya matsaram.
- 9.63.2^{bc} (Nidhruvi Kāçyapa) = 9.99.8^{cd} (Rebhasūnū Kāçyapāu). To Soma Pavamāna: indrāya matsarintamaḥ, camūṣv ā ni ṣidasi.
- 9.63.8^{bc} (Nidhruvi Kāçyapa) = 9.65.16^{bc} (Bhṛgu Vāruṇi, &c.). To Soma Pavamāna: pavamāno manāv adhi, antarikṣeṇa yātave. Note that 9.63.1^a = 9.65.21^c.
- 9.63.29^{bc} (Nidhruvi Kāçyapa) = 9.67.3^{bc} (Bharadvāja). To Soma Pavamāna: abhy arṣa kani-kradat, dyumantaṁ çuṣmam uttamam. Note that 9.63.19^c = 9.67.16^b.
- 9.68.10^{cd} (Vatsapri Bhālandana; to Pavamāna Soma) = 10.45.12^{cd} (Bhālandana Vatsapri; to Agni): adveṣe dyāvārthivi huvema devā dhatta rayim asme suvīram.
- 10.31.7^{ab} (Kavaṣa Āilūṣa; to Viçve Devāḥ) = 10.81.4^{ab} (Viçvakarman Bhāuvana; to Viçvakarman): kiṁ svid vanaṁ ka u vṛkṣa āsa yato dyāvārthivi niṣṭatakuḥ.

7. Distichs Repeated with Changes

The number of distichs repeated with greater or lesser variation is rather larger than that of the distichs repeated intact. The class involves 79 instances of a total of 162 distichs. Moreover, it naturally fades out into another very prevalent class of repetitions in which there is one identical pāda together with one or more words repeated in a pāda adjacent to the identical one; see the next class. Here, as in previous cases, I have been guided in my classifications by the spirit and general intention of the passage, rather than by the completeness of the verbal correspondence; see, e.g. the relation of 4.17.7^{cd}: 4.19.3^{cd}. The present class, on the whole, shows even more instructively, and on a larger scale than the preceding ones, the persistence, and at the same time the freedom, with which the Vedic poets availed themselves of existing types of expression in order to serve their ends. Grammatical, lexical, and metrical change, and adaptation to different purposes, notably different divinities, are an almost constant element in these repetitions; nowhere do the Vedic poets show better that they regarded the entire body of Vedic composition as common property, freely to be used for new purposes and conceived in later moods:

- 1.12.1^{ab} (Medhātithi Kāṇva) = 1.36.3^{ab} (Kāṇva Ghāura). To Agni: agniṁ dūtaṁ (1.36.3^a, pra tvā dūtaṁ) vṛṇīmahe hotāraṁ carsaṇīnām. Cf. 8.19.3.
 1.12.11^{ac} (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Agni) = 9.61.6^{ab} (Amahīyū Āṅgīrasa; to Soma Pavamāna): sa naḥ stavāna (9.61.6^a, punāna) ā bhara, rayiṁ vīravatīm iṣam. Cf. 8.24.3; 9.40.5.
 1.18.2^{ab} (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Brahmanaspati) = 1.91.12^{ab} (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa; to Soma): yo revāṇ yo amivahā (1.91.12^a, gayasphāno amivahā) vasuvit puṣṭivardhanaḥ.
 1.18.3^{ab} (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Brahmanaspati) = 7.94.8^{ab} (Vasiṣṭha; to Indra and Agni): mā naḥ caṇṣo (7.94.8^a, mā kasya no) araruṣo dhūrtilḥ prapaṇaṁ martyasya.
 1.22.21^{ab} (Medhātithi Kāṇva; to Viṣṇu) = 3.10.9^{ab} (Viṣvāmitra Gāthina; to Agni): tad viprāso (3.10.9^a, taṁ tvā viprā) vipanyavo jāgrvāṇsaḥ samindhate.
 1.25.15^{ab} (Ḣunaḥḥepa Ājigarti, &c.; to Varuṇa) = 10.22.2^{cd} (Vimada Āindra, &c.; to Indra): uta yo mānuṣeṣv ā (10.22.2^c, mitro na yo janeṣv ā) yaçaç cakre asāmy ā.
 1.34.12^{cd} (Hiraṇyastūpa Āṅgīrasa) = 1.112.24^{cd} (Kutsa). To Aṇvins: çṛṇvantā vām avase jōhavīmī (1.112.24^c, adyūtye 'vase ni hvaye vām) vṛdhe ca no bhavataṁ vājasātāu.
 1.36.15^{ab} (Kāṇva Ghāura; to Agni): pāhi no agne rakṣasaḥ pāhi dhūrter arāvṇaḥ = 7.1.13^{ab} (Vasiṣṭha Māitrāvaruṇi; to Agni); pāhi no agne rakṣaso ajuṣṭāt pāhi dhūrter araruṣo aghāyoh.
 1.39.6^{ab} (Kāṇva Ghāura) = 8.7.28^{ab} (Punarvatsa Kāṇva). To Maruts: upo ratheṣu pṛṣatīr ayugdhvaṁ (8.7.28^a, yad eṣāṁ pṛṣatī rathe) pṛṣtīr vahatī rohitāḥ.
 1.45.4^{bc} (Praskaṇva Kāṇva; to Agni) = 8.8.18^{bc} (Sadhvaṇsa Kāṇva; to Aṇvins): priyamedhā ahūṣata, rājantam (8.8.18^c, rājantāv) adhvarāṇām. The first two pādas of 8.8.18 are repeated at 8.87.3.
 1.47.1^{ab} (Praskaṇva Kāṇva; to Aṇvins) = 2.41.4^{ab} (Grtsamada; to Mitra and Varuṇa): ayaṁ vām madhumattamaḥ (2.41.4^a, mitrāvaruṇā) sutaḥ soma rtāvṛdhā.
 1.47.7^{ab} (Praskaṇva Kāṇva) = 8.8.14^{ab} (Sadhvaṇsa Kāṇva). To Aṇvins: yan nāsatyā parāvati yad vā stho adhi turvaḡe (8.8.14^b, adhy ambare). For other correspondences between 1.47 and 8.8 see under 1.47.2.
 1.47.8^{ab} (Praskaṇva Kāṇva; to Aṇvins) = 8.4.14^{cd} (Devātithi Kāṇva; to Indra): arvāncā vām (8.4.14^c, arvāncāṁ tvā) saptayo 'dhvaraçriyo vahantu savanēd upa.

- 1.48.14^{ab} (Praskaṇva Kāṇva; to Uṣas): ye cid dhi tvām ṛṣayaḥ pūrva ūtaye juhūre 'vase mahi = 8.8.6^{ab} (Sadhvaṇsa Kāṇva; to Aṇvins): yac cid dhi vām pura ṛṣayo juhūre 'vase narā.
 1.81.5^{cd} (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa) = 7.32.23^{ab} (Vasiṣṭha). To Indra: na tvāvān indra kaṣ cana (7.32.23^a, na tvāvān anyo divyo na pāthivo) na jāto na janisyate.
 1.84.11^{ab} (Gotama Rāhūgaṇa) = 8.69.3^{ab} (Priyamedha Āṅgīrasa). To Indra: tā asya pṛṇanā-yuvāḥ (8.69.3^b, sūdadohasaḥ) somaṁ ḡṇanti pṛṇayāḥ.
 1.113.15^{cd} (Kutsa) = 1.124.2^{cd} (Kakṣivat Dairghatamasa). To Uṣas: iyuṣinām upamā ṣaṣva-tinām vibhātinām prathamōṣā vy aḡvāt (1.124.2^d, āyatinām prathamōṣā vy adyāt). Note the correspondence of 1.113.7^a with 1.124.3^a, and 1.113.7^d with 1.123.13^c.
 1.117.20^{cd} (Kakṣivat Dairghatamasa) = 10.39.7^{ab} (Ghoṣā Kakṣivatī). To Aṇvins: yuvāṁ ṣaṣbhir vimadāya jāyām (10.39.7^a, yuvāṁ rathena vimadāya ṣundhyuvāṁ) ny ūhathuḥ purumitrasya yōṣām (10.39.7^b, yōṣanām).
 1.118.1^{cd} (Kakṣivat Dairghatamasa) = 1.183.1^{ab} (Agastya). To Aṇvins: yo martyasya manaso javiyan (1.183.1^a, tam yuñjāthām manaso yo javiyan) trivandhuro vṛṣaṇā vātarahhāḥ (1.183.1^b, yas tricakraḥ).
 1.129.3^{fe} (Parucepepa Dāivodāsi; to Indra): mitrāya vocaṁ varuṇāya saprathah sumṛlikāya saprathah = 1.136.6^{bc} (Parucepepa Dāivodāsi; Liṅgoktadevatāḥ); mitrāya vocaṁ varuṇāya mīlhuse sumṛlikāya mīlhuse.

8. Single Pāda Repeated with an Added Word or Words

The last class of repetitions which goes beyond that of a single pāda, pure and simple, consists of the following numerous class: one whole pāda is repeated, and in addition a single word or set expression. The latter quite frequently immediately precedes or follows the repeated pāda, so as to form an organic sense unit with the pāda. Still more frequently the extra word or expression is separated from the repeated pāda; yet in most cases so that the extra word seems to coincide intentionally rather than accidentally. There is, of course, no hard and fast line between this and the preceding class. The total of cases under the present head is large; a selected list is given here, the rest being indicated at the end of this rubric. Cases in which the extra word or words immediately precede, or follow, make up the following list:

- 1.5.5 : 8.93.22, ... sutā ime, ṣucayo (8.93.22, uṣanto) yanti vītaye.
 1.14.5 : 8.5.17, ... vṛktabarhiṣaḥ, haviṣmanto aramkṛtaḥ.
 1.23.2 : 4.49.5 : 8.76.6, ... havāmahe, asya somasya pītaye.
 1.129.9, ... abhiṣṭibhiḥ, sadā pāhy abhiṣṭibhiḥ : 10.93.11, ... abhiṣṭaye, sadā pāhy abhiṣṭaye.

As an illustration of the far more numerous class in which an extra word stands at a distance from the repeated pāda we may point to the typical case :

- 1.159.1 (Dīrghatamas Āucathya ; to Dyāvapṛthivyāu) pra dyāvā yajñāiḥ pṛthivī ṛtāvṛdhā mahī stuṣe vidatheṣu pracetasā, devebhir ye devaput্রে sudaṅsasethā dhiyā vāryāṇi prabhūṣataḥ.
 7.53.1 (Vasiṣṭha ; to Dyāvapṛthivyāu)
pra dyāvā yajñāiḥ pṛthivī namobhiḥ sabādha īle brhatī yajatre, te cid dhi pūrve kavayo gr̥ṇantaḥ puro mahī dadhire devaput্রে.

In this instance the characteristic repeated pāda is of itself sufficient to show that borrowing has taken place; yet the additional repeated words mahī and devaput্রে make it still clearer that one stanza depends directly upon the other.

While the critical value of the repeated pādas is in general superficially evident, that of the extra words at times illumines problems of more considerable difficulty. Thus in the case of 6.23.3 : 6.44.15, where the words kīri and kāru interpret each other under the stimulus of the repeated pāda. Both words in the light of the parallel mean 'poet'. I prefer to trust to this parallelism, rather than to the learned and ingenious theories of Ludwig and Pischel, who assume for kīri the meaning 'wretched'. See my discussion under 6.23.3.

Here follows a choice list of the remaining correspondences with the extra words in square brackets; I repeat that this list approximates the preceding class at more than one point :

- 1.2.7, varuṇam ca riṣādasam [mitram huve] : 5.64.1, varuṇam vo riṣādasam [mitram havāmahe]

9. Two or more Unconnected Pādas recurrent in the same Pair of Hymns or in a Pair of Adjacent Hymns

Two or more unconnected pādas in one hymn are repeated as unconnected pādas either in one other hymn, or in two other hymns which are contiguous. These cases are so noteworthy as to deserve grouping by themselves. They are sometimes of interest for critical questions, especially questions relating to the arrangement of the hymns in our redaction of the RV. Or, they may turn out to be so after the other factors of the problem are understood. Thus, as an extreme instance, hymn 8.8 has one distich and three unconnected pādas in common with 8.87, where they occur, likewise unconnected. The coincidence is the more noteworthy because the hymn following after 8.8 has a pāda (8.9.14^c) identical with 8.8.2^a which also recurs at 8.87.5^a. Observe that 8.8 and 8.9 frequently mention the poet Vatsa (8.8.11, 15, 19 ; 8.9.1, 6, 15).

The hymns mentioned above as 'contiguous' are usually ascribed to the same author. Some of these correspondences thus fall into line with facts of historic tradition: such are the correspondences of the Praskaṇva-hymns (1.44-50) with the Kāṇva hymns of book 8. Others are obscure. Yet others are perhaps accidental, or simply due (as in the ninth or Pavamāna book) to the all-pervading and intrinsic sameness of the contents:

10. Stanzas containing Four or Three or Two Pādas Repeated in Different Places

In this final paragraph on the topical distribution of the stanzas we are concerned with the question of how many units of repetition occur in any single stanza. There are, of course, many stanzas which contain but one single pāda repeated elsewhere. This may, perhaps, be regarded as the normal aspect of repetition. But there are also a surprisingly large number of stanzas which contain two, three, or even four single verses, or verse-pairs and single verses, each of which is repeated in a different place in the rest of the collection. What we may call the tessellation of the RV. comes to the surface by the aid of these counts in a manner which nothing else shows so well. In a few stanzas of four pādas each pāda reappears in a different place. Quite frequently three pādas, or a verse-pair and one other pāda, are repeated in three or two different places. The climax of this tessellation is seen in the statement that more than 300 stanzas repeat two of their pādas in different places.

Such repeated lines do not always fit equally well in their different surroundings. As a general principle the stanzas which are most variegated are least likely to be original. Numerous pādas fit aptly in one connexion but hang rather loosely in another (anacoluthon and parenthesis). The future student of the RV. will necessarily regard each stanza from this point of view; it is a sort of preliminary test of the character of each stanza, well calculated to join indications of language, style, and metre in the final critical appraisal of the quality and relative age of both stanzas and hymns.

It has seemed advisable to furnish the means for the convenient synopsis of these interrelations. This is done here under four heads which require no further commentary. Whenever the repeated units are varied in any way this is indicated by (v):

ALLAHABAD.

CHAPTER II: METRICAL VARIATIONS AS RESULT OF ADDITION OR SUBTRACTION OR VERBAL CHANGE IN REPEATED PĀDAS.

General Aspects of Metrical Variations.

IN a large number of instances, repetition of pādas is accompanied by changes in the metre. The number of lines so related is about 200, involving a total of about 500 pādas, more or less, if we count their recurrences two and a half times on an average. In the great majority of cases the change in the metre presents itself, externally, as a case of extension or abbreviation; so, e. g. the eight-syllable line, mā no duḥṇsa ṛcata, 1.23.9; 7.94.7, is extended into the twelve-syllable lines, mā no duḥṇsa ṛcatā vivakṣase, 10.25.7, and, mā no duḥṇso abhidipsur ṛcata, 2.23.10. Or the eleven-syllable line, vṛtram jaghanvān asṛjad vi sindhūn, 4.18.7; 4.19.8, reappears in an obviously truncated eight-syllable line, vṛtram jaghanvān asṛjat,¹ 1.80.10. Very much less often the number of the syllables is the same, but one version of the repeated pādas conforms less well to the established rules of quantity. E. g. the triṣṭubh line, vyaṁ te ta indra ye ca naraḥ, 5.33.5, ends irregularly in a tribrach; its parallel, vyaṁ te ta indra ye ca deva, 7.30.4, ends in an amphibrach, according to the familiar rule.

Expansion of one pāda into two pādas.—Exceptionally it may come to pass that the substance of one pāda is extended into two by the addition of a word or two, aided perhaps by varying metrical syllabification. Thus there can be little question that the shorter form of the following two passages has been stretched into two pādas chiefly by inserting the word mahivrata:

tvaṁ dyāṁ ca mahivrata prthivīm cāti jabhriṣe 9.100.9.

A second case presents even more interesting conditions. There exists a favourite expression, abhy arṣanti suṣṭutim, 9.62.3, &c., which occupies the space of a dimeter line. This line is expanded into a trimeter line, by prefixing four syllables, a very common process, described below (p. 543): pavamānā abhy arṣanti suṣṭutim, 9.85.7. Again (with a slight change) it is turned once more into a trimeter line by affixing four syllables, another common process (p. 540), to wit, abhy arṣata suṣṭutim gavyam ājim, 4.58.10. Now, furthermore, the line with the prefixion, pavamānā abhy arṣanti suṣtutim, lends itself as a basis for the development of one verse into two by the insertion after the caesura of four syllables. Thus :

pavamānā abhy arṣanti suṣtutim 9.85.7
pavamāno ati sridho 'abhy arṣati suṣtutim 9.66.22.

Once more, we have a most interesting case of gradual extension of one pāda into two pādas, based upon what was surely an ancient formulaic pāda, dating back to the early period of composition, namely, ṛama yachantu saprathāḥ. This pāda appears at 8.18.3 extended by the dipody appendage yad imahe (see below, p. 537), to wit :

ṛama yachantu sapratho yad imahe 8.18.3.

Now this lengthened pāda serves in a doubtless very late composition as a basis for the production of an entire verse-pair, ṛama yachantu saprathā ādityāso yad imahe ati dviṣaḥ 10.126.7.

The words ati dviṣaḥ in this stretched form is again a dipody refrain in the first seven stanzas of 10.126. The tessellation of the passage takes place before our very eyes, as it were ; see under 8.18.3.

Similar considerations, not quite so cogent, should govern the relation of the following two pairs (cf. also under 4.54.3^a, and 10.160.5^a):

indro yad vṛtram avadhīn nadivṛtam 1.52.2
yadā vṛtram nadivṛtam ṇavasā vajrinn avadhīḥ 8.12.26
na tvad anyo maghavann asti marḍitā 1.84.19
nabhi tvad anyāḥ puruhūta kaṇcana maghavann asti marḍitā 8.66.13.

Conversely in one case we have an obvious contraction of a distich into a single pāda, to wit :

pāhi no agne rakṣasaḥ pāhi dhūrter arāvṇaḥ 1.36.15 pāhi viṇvāsmād rakṣaso arāvṇaḥ 8.60.10 ;
see under 1.36.15.

Interrelation of triṣṭubh and jagatī, and interrelation of both with octosyllabic lines.—The present chapter throws interesting light on the technique of the Vedic metricians. The structural consanguinity of triṣṭubh and jagatī is illustrated by a large number of instances of triṣṭubh and jagatī lines which are identical, except that they add or subtract a last syllable.¹ We should feel more certain after this that the Vedic poets really felt the two types as convertible values, if, indeed, their quantities, their caesuras, and the appearance of sporadic cases of one in hymns composed of the other left any doubt as to this fundamental principle of Vedic metrics. The very extensive interchange between octosyllabic lines and long metre lines (triṣṭubh and jagatī) calls up the theory advanced long ago that the long metres originated from the short metres by the addition of the proper number of syllables.² I regard this theory as erroneous: these parallels are due to imitation and blending of the two types; they tend to show, as a general principle, that the majority of triṣṭubh and jagatī lines, whose first eight syllables (p. 536), or whose last eight syllables (p. 543) make a good anuṣṭubh or gāyatrī line, are what may very properly be called 'false triṣṭubhs or jagatīs'; see below, p. 535.

Metrical variation as criterion for relative chronology.—The diction of the Vedic poets is so intensely imitative, and, at the same time, so free in all matters of form, as to preclude in most cases the decision as to which metrical type in any given pair preceded the other in composition and in time, or is really entitled to preference on technical grounds. In the great mass of cases the parallel pādas are metrical equivalents, or, where there is a difference, both versions represent equally good metrical values. Thus the two pairs:

adhvaryavo bharatendrāya somam 2.14.1
adhvaryavaḥ sunutendrāya somam 10.30.15
sa jāyamānaḥ parame vyoman 7.5.7
sa jāyamānaḥ parame vyomani 1.143.2; 6.8.2.

Very rarely it happens that both members of a parallel pair show the same defects. So the final cadence is irregular in slightly different ways in the following pairs:

aṇveva citrāruṣī¹ 4.52.2
aṇve na citre aruṣī 1.30.21
mā no martāya ripave vājiniṣasū 8.22.14
mā no martāya ripave rakṣasvine 8.60.8.

Occasionally it is necessary to assign different metrical values to one and the same word in a pair of pādas, which is interesting of itself, but, again, does not necessarily determine which pāda is constructed on better principles, or which pāda is entitled to priority; e.g.,

jiok paṇyāt sūriam uccarantam 4.25.4
jiok paṇyema sūryam uccarantam 10.59.6 (see the same alternative under 1.32.4⁶).

Or, in the imitative Valakhilya hymns:

yaṁ te svadhāvan suadanti² gūrtayaḥ 8.50(Vāl. 2).5.

These cases of different metrical value of one and the same syllable are not very common in the parallel pādas; rare as they are, however, they are particularly good testimony to the reality of our appraisals of the unstable metrical character of these syllables. See the following cases:

yat kiṁ ca pṛthivyām adhi 5.83.9
yad vā pṛthiviām adhi 8.49(Vāl. 1).7
nābhā pṛthiviā adhi 3.29.4
nābhā pṛthivyā adhi sānuṣu triṣu 2.3.7

Part 2, Chapter 2: Metrical Variations in Repeated Passages [526

yad vā pañca kṣitīnām 5.35.2

yad vā pañca kṣitīnām dyumnām ā bhara 6.46.7¹

mandantu tvā mandino vāyav indavaḥ 1.134.2

mandantu tuā mandinaḥ sūtāsaḥ 8.82.5

indrāgnī tā havāmahe 1.21.3, &c.

indraagnī havāmahe 5.86.4, &c.

tuam na indra mṛṣaya 8.80.1

sa tvaṁ na indra mṛṣaya 6.45.17; 8.81.2.

Verbal changes as affecting minor matters of metric habit.—The following pairs involve more or less change in the wording of essentially the same line: they illustrate in various ways the freedom or uncertainty of metrical rule, especially in the less critical positions of metrical lines.² Or, again, they show that it is possible to add words or syllables without interfering with metrical habit at all. Thus the following two lines differ by an added word without change of quantity in any foot:

asmākāsaḥ ca sūrayaḥ 5.10.6

prasmākāsaḥ ca sūrayaḥ 1.97.3.

The next pair differ as regards the permissible freedom in the place of the caesura in a trimeter line, either after the fourth or the fifth syllable:

pūrvīr asya | niṣṣidho martieṣu 3.51.5

pūrvīḥ ṭa indra | niṣṣidho janeṣu 6.44.11.

In another pair the resolution of ā in gnā is supported, as it were, by the documentary interchange with the dissyllabic word adyā:

gnā hutāso vasavo adhrṣṭāḥ 6.10.15

adyā hutāso vasavo adhrṣṭāḥ 6.10.4.

Very similarly the following pair:

vayaṁ te agna ukthāḥ vidhema 5.4.7

vayaṁ ta indra stomebhir vidhema 8.54(Vāl. 6).8.

In the next case the resolution of atakṣāma into atakṣaāma seems hard, and, as it occurs in a line of the tenth book, points probably to the later origin of the line in question:

brahmākarma bhrgavo na ratham 4.16.20

atakṣaāma bhrgavo na ratham 10.39.14.

Or, finally, still more problematic are the pairs (cf. also under 1.171.3^a):

mahi dyāvāprthivī bhūtam urvī 10.93.1

diāuḥ ca prthivī bhūtam urvī 6.68.4

vīriā maghavan yā cakartha 5.29.13

pra nūtanā maghavan yā cakartha 5.31.6.

This brings us to the next, very important consideration:

¹ Cf. below, p. 539. The need of resolving kṣitīnām in 5.35.2 is not pressing; see Lanman, JAOS. xi, p. xxviii.

² That is, outside the final dipodies acatalectic or catalectic of all lines, or the anapaests after the caesura in trištubh and jagati.

Verses whose inferior metre indicates later date.—The majority of the metrical differences in repeated pādas are, as stated before, not such as to determine their relative date. But at times it is possible to point out the mother form from which the other is descended. Thus we have regular metrical form in the following pair:

rājantam adhvarāṇām 1.1.8; 1.45.4
rājantāv adhvarāṇām 8.8.18.

Of these two variants the second is certainly enough afterborn on account of its sense; see p. 29, under 1.1.8. But even more certainly secondary, because of its form, as well as its strained sense, is:

samrājantam adhvarāṇām 1.27.1.

Here the same pāda with a syllable added at the beginning is fitted for service in a trochaic gāyatrī hymn. This fitting process is quite certainly secondary; see under 1.1.8.

Precisely the same process, namely the prefixion of a syllable, once more turns a good iambic pāda into a secondary trochaic pāda:

samrājāṁ carṣaṇīnām 3.10.1; 10.134.1
pra samrājāṁ carṣaṇīnām 8.16.1.

An even clearer case is the following:

agnir devānām abhavat purohitaḥ 3.2.8
agnir devānām abhavat purogāḥ 10.110.11.

These two belong to the extensive class of interchanging jagatī and triṣṭubh pādas, treated below, p. 531; they offer, of themselves, no indication as to priority. But a third variant form, agnir devo devānam abhavat purohitaḥ 10.150.4, is certainly afterborn; see p. 182. The phenomenon of glossal addition (devo is gloss to agnir) is apparently much more common in the Atharva-Veda than in the Rig-Veda; see the author, The Atharva-Veda, p. 42.

Another case in which we can determine priority involves the pair:

mā no martāya ripave vājiniṣasū 8.22.14
mā no martāya ripave rakṣasvine 8.60.8.

Both Oldenberg, Prol., p. 67, and Arnold, VM., p. 312, describes the first of these pādas, which is hypermetric, as hybrid or contaminated. The alternate form of the pāda in 8.60.8, notwithstanding that it is itself not perfect (final dipody — — —), not only shows that this is so, but determines the relative chronology of the two: 8.22.14 cannot easily be imagined to have been composed without, or before 8.60.8.

Something like this kind of criticism is suggested by the following pair:

mathīd yad im vibhrto mātariṣvā 1.71.4
mathīd yad im viṣto mātariṣvā 1.148.1.

Here the second pāda is defective and obscure in meaning. Oldenberg, SBE., xlv. pp. 77 and 174; RV. Noten, pp. 74, 147, has most recently discussed this pair; in my discussion of the two passages (p. 90), difficult as they are, I have adhered to the natural view that the metrical defect in viṣṭo is due to the secondary origin of 1.148.1, which is very certainly patterned after the metrically sound stanza 1.71.4.

Problematic cases of interchange between good and bad metre.—There are quite a number of other pairs of pādas in which imperfect cadences vary with sound ones. One wonders why the Vedic orthoepists regularly write the weak stem dīdhr, the strong stem *dīdhar*¹, unless dhr really makes position, which I do not believe:

rayiṃ gr̥natsu dhārāya 8.13.2
rayiṃ gr̥natsu dīdhr̥tam 5.86.2.

More likely the latter type originated in curtailed types such as are treated below, p. 541. Or why should Vedic poets choose to say in a way that seems to us metrically imperfect, yad adya sūra udite 7.66.4; 8.27.21, considering that they could say about the same thing in the metrically perfect pāda, yad adya sūrya udyati 8.27.19?

It seems very natural to remember that there is also the type prati vām sūra udite vidhema under 7.63.5, which is perfect. There are other sporadic cases of imperfect cadences varying with sound cadences, but that class of imperfection is so common as to become almost nugatory; e. g.:

pūrvir iṣo brhatir āreaghāḥ 6.1.12
pūrvir iṣo brhatir jiradāno 9.87.9
vayam te ta indra ye ca naraḥ 5.33.5
vayam te ta indra ye ca deva 7.30.4.

Finally there are the four cases discussed below on p. 539; and the considerable class collected on p. 541, in which a long pāda is evidently shortened secondarily. In the last-mentioned class the process almost represents a type which may have in the end obtained a certain quasi-doggerel productivity.

Analytic grouping of the metrical variations.—The metrical variations of repeated passages may be presented in two general groups or classes. The first, Class A, includes variations as between the several types of long lines. By long lines are meant the trimeter lines: either catalectic, that is, of eleven syllables or triṣṭubh; or else acatalectic, that is, of twelve syllables or jagatī; or else catalectic and syncopated, that is, of ten syllables or dvipadā virāj.—The second, Class B, includes variations as between short lines and long lines. By short lines are meant dimeter lines, that is, lines of eight syllables. These are expanded into trimeters, either by appending three or four syllables at the end; or by prefixing four syllables at the beginning; or else by inserting four syllables in the middle at the place of the future caesura.—For convenience, a conspectus of the subdivisions of the two groups or classes is here given :

Class A : Interchange between various types of long (trimeter) lines.

- A 1. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī lines without change of meaning.
- A 2. Interchange between the same with slight change of words and meaning.
- A 3. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī with grammatical change.
- A 4. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī with change of meaning.
- A 5. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī as suggesting relative age.
- A 6. Interchange between triṣṭubh and dvipadā virāj.

Class B : Interchange between short (dimeter) and long (trimeter) lines.

- B 1. On 'false' jagatī or triṣṭubh.
- B 2. Pādas of the Vimada-hymns which occur also without the refrain dipody.
- B 3. Other refrain pādas which occur also without the refrain dipody.
- B 4. Pādas with dipody appendage which is not refrain.
- B 5. Expansion in general of an octosyllabic pāda into a triṣṭubh or jagatī.
- B 6. Expansion of an octosyllabic pāda into a jagatī.
- B 7. The same process with incidental changes.
- B 8. Expansion of an octosyllabic pāda into a triṣṭubh.
- B 9. Faulty verses of eight syllables interchanging with regular triṣṭubh-jagatī.
- B 10. Cases where four syllables appear to be prefixed to an octosyllabic pāda.
- B 11. Cases where the expansion is by insertion.

CLASS A. VARIATIONS AS BETWEEN SEVERAL TYPES OF LONG LINES

A 1. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī lines without change of meaning

The following 12 pairs or groups of pādas are repeated exactly, or almost exactly, except that the last word is varied in such a manner as to present a triṣṭubh in one case, a jagatī in the other : the grammatical or lexical variation of the last word does not of itself affect the sense of the passages :

A 2. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī with slight change of words and meaning

In 20 other cases the variation still involves in the main the purely formal interchange of triṣṭubh and jagatī line, but it is accompanied by a slight shift in the lexical or grammatical value of a word or two, mostly the last word : the total sense of the two pādas is still essentially the same ; the result is a pair of practically equivalent pādas, one a triṣṭubh, the other a jagatī ; they could be used interchangeably except for the difference in the metre. The boundary line between this and the preceding class is uncertain :

¹ Similarly, but without reason, MS. 4.14.12^b : 234.5 reads in a jagatī stanza : satyadhar-mānā parame vyoman, where RV. 5.63.1 has vyomani. Or, AB. 8.8.11^b ; AÇ. 3.9.4^b read : mā saṃsrkṣāthām parame vyomani, thus matching the preceding pāda ; the remaining texts (see Vedic Concordance) have vyoman. Similarly AV. 8.3.17^d modernizes, in the teeth of the metre of the stanza, marman of RV. 10.87.17^d to marmaṇi.

A 3. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī with grammatical change

Next, there are a half-dozen cases of interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī lines which depend upon simple differences of construction. It is every time really the same pāda varied according to the grammatical exigencies of number, person, gender, or voice:

- yat sīm āgaḥ cakrāmā tat su mṛṣṭa 1.179.5
 yat sīm āgaḥ cakrāmā tat su mṛṣṭa 7.93.7

¹ The last two words are refrain in the trica 5.51.5-7, and frequently form cadence. Structurally this pāda belongs to the class treated below, p. 536.

A 4. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī with change of meaning

The preceding classes shade off imperceptibly to a longer group of pairs of jagatī and triṣṭubh pādas which contain real differences of meaning, mostly lexical variations, or additions. Here, as in the preceding rubrics, the differences crop out mostly at the end of the lines. That, I am sure, is not altogether due to our imperfect control of pairs differentiated in other parts of the pāda¹; it represents a real habit of composition. Here, as in the preceding rubrics, too, the pādas are truly imitative. If we but knew how, we might find out in almost all, if not all cases, the original pāda. But the imitations cover up their own spuriousness; the metrical habits of the later poet are the same as those of the earlier, so that the metre alone rarely determines priority. The class contains 22 cases, not all of which are separated by a hard and fast line from the cases previously enumerated :

A 5. Interchange between triṣṭubh and jagatī as suggesting relative age

Finally, there are four cases in addition to the mass treated in the preceding paragraphs, in which a good jagatī or triṣṭubh line varies with an almost identical jagatī or triṣṭubh whose structure is more or less irregular or defective. In the first case the conditions are not so intolerable as to warrant the condemnation of the less perfect, shorter form :

- sa indrāya pavase matsarintamaḥ 9.76.5
 sa indrāya pavase matsaravān 9.97.3

The irregularity in the cadence of the triṣṭubh form is of the sort noted by

Part 2, Chapter 2: Metrical Variations in Repeated Passages [534

Oldenberg, Prol., p. 63 ff. Arnold, Vedic Metre, pp. 127, 317, not plausibly, corrects to matsarāvān. The second case is, perhaps, more critical:

saṁ yo vanā yuvate bhasmanā datā 10.115.2
saṁ yo vanā yuvate çucidan 7.4.2

I confess that, if the shorter and less perfect form occurred in the tenth book and the longer in the seventh, I should be disposed to condemn the short form. But it occurs in an otherwise very sound Vasiṣṭha hymn; therefore I prefer to think that it was read saṁ yo vanā || yuvate çucidan, showing the not too unfrequently anomalous quantities of the cadence. I am certain that Arnold's restoration, çucidan to çucidantaḥ (Vedic Metre, pp. 101, 308), is aside the mark.

The third case is:

kṛṣṇaṁ ta ema ruçadūrme ajara 1.58.4
kṛṣṇaṁ ta ema ruçataḥ puro bhāḥ 4.7.9

Here the final syllable of ruçadūrme is probably short,¹ making the cadence ˘ ˘ ˘ ˘. Such cases are not so rare (Oldenberg, Prol., p. 64) as to establish 4.7.9 in a position of certain priority. Note, however, the unusual accent of ruçadūrme, and see under 1.58.4^d.

The fourth case is:

agnīṁ hotāram īlate vasudhitim 1.128.8
agnīṁ hotāram īlate namobhiḥ 5.1.7

Here also the four short syllables of vasudhitim do not really determine the priority of the rival pāda; see below, p. 542, note 1.

A 6. Interchange between triṣṭubh and dvipadā virāj

In a little class by themselves are three cases of interchange between a triṣṭubh line and a virāj, one pair occurring in the same book (cf. also under 1.68.9, 10^a, and 1.69.7^a):

çiçum jājnānam haryatam mṛjanti 9.96.17
çiçum jājnānam hariṁ mṛjanti 9.109.12 sa hi kṣapāvān abhavad rayiṇām 7.10.5
sa hi kṣapāvān agnī rayiṇām 1.70.5
mathīd yad īm vibhrto mātariçvā 1.71.4
mathīd yad īm viṣṭo mātariçvā 1.148.1

The two types are closely related. Oldenberg, Prol., pp. 73, 97, has pointed out that hymns of either metre occasionally lapse into the other related form. There can be no question but what the Virāj is daughter of the Triṣṭubh; it is, therefore, surprising that these cases are so isolated. Since haryata and hari, in the first pair, are both frequent designations of soma—haryayatam and harim both in the same stanza, 9.26.5—the context does not help to determine which is the original version of the pāda. In the second pair the sense rather points to the priority of 7.10.5; see under 1.70.5^a. In the third pair also the virāj pāda is probably secondary to the triṣṭubh; see above, p. 527.

CLASS B. VARIATIONS AS BETWEEN SHORT AND LONG LINES

B 1. On 'false' jagatī or triṣṭubh

The most conspicuous phenomenon in the metrical habits that attend repeated pādas is the following: an eight-syllable line of regular construction appears to be extended to the long metre types of twelve, more rarely of eleven syllables, by the addition at the end of four, or, more rarely, three syllables. The increased lines then belong to a type which may be described as an anuṣṭubh-gāyatrī pāda, upon which follows a final four-syllable, or more rarely a three-syllable pāda. Or, perhaps better, an octosyllabic pāda is increased by an iambic dipody acatalectic or catalectic. These types may be designated as 'false' jagatī or triṣṭubh. A good many of these cases belong to the class of octosyllabic pādas combined with 'four-syllable pādas', described by Oldenberg, Prol., p. 111 ff. To a considerable extent the additional dipody appears as a refrain in an entire hymn, or part of a hymn; it is pretty safe to assume that the authors actually employed previously existing pādas whenever the pāda preceding the refrain recurs in another hymn without the refrain. The phenomenon is not so frequent as to bring with it the certainty that the dipody refrain hymns, as a class, are of late composition. But it is hard to avoid the conclusion, in each particular case, that the short, non-composite line preceded the longer line, even if we grant that the reverse process is possible, or at least imaginable. In one case at least the agglutination of the long pāda takes place, as it were, before our eyes:

çuciḥ pāvaka ucyate 9.24.7

çuciḥ pāvako adbhutaḥ 1.142.3; 9.24.6.

From the matter contained in these two a Kāṇvīd poet (Nārada Kāṇva) has patched together a 'false' jagatī, stylistically awkward, and addressed very strainedly to the wrong person:

çuciḥ pāvaka ucyate so adbhutaḥ 8.13.19.

See under 1.142.3^a.

It is interesting to observe that pādas consisting of 8+4 syllables continue to be made at a later time. AV. 6.2.3^c, vīrapçin vī mṛdho jahi raksasvīnīḥ, is such a pāda, making with two octosyllabic pādas a and b an uṣṇīh stanza (Anukramaṇī, paroṣṇīh). The two first pādas = RV. 7.32.8^{ab}; pāda c is the Atharvan's own composition. The two first stanzas of the AV. are in the same metre, pāda 2^b being almost = RV. 7.32.6^d. Since the AV. hymn is in all probability an expansion of RV. motives its composite uṣṇīh pādas, 1^c-3^c, all three original, are the product of a later poet who continues deftly a method established for him at an earlier time.

B 2. Pādas of the Vimada hymns which occur also without the refrain dipody

The hymns of the Vimadas, 10.21; 24.1-3; and 25, in so-called āstarapaṅkti metre, have the refrains vi vo made and vivakṣase. The following seven pādas of these hymns, all of them pretty nearly formulas, occur also minus the refrain:

- mā no duḥṣaṅsa iṣata 1.23.9; 9.94.7
 mā no duḥṣaṅsa iṣatā vivakṣase 10.25.7

B 3. Other refrain pādas which occur also without the refrain dipody

The following are the remaining pādas, with refrain, seven in number, which occur also minus the refrain:

- iṣāno apratiṣkuta indro aṅga 1.84.7
 iṣāno apratiṣkutaḥ 1.7.8
 indro aṅga, though simple prose, is refrain in the ṛca 1.84.7-9. See under 1.7.8
 upa srakveṣu bapsato ni ṣu svapa 7.55.2
 upa srakveṣu bapsataḥ 8.72.15 ni ṣu svapa is refrain in the ṛca 7.55.2-4 indra viṣvābhir ūtibhir vavakṣiṭha 8.12.5 { indra viṣvābhir ūtibhiḥ 8.37.1-6; 61.5; 10.134.3
 { indro viṣvābhir ūtibhiḥ 8.32.12 vavakṣiṭha is refrain in the ṛca 8.12.4-6 purupraçastam ūtaye ṛtasya yat 8.12.14 purupraçastam ūtaye 8.71.10
 ṛtasya yat is refrain in the ṛca 8.12.13-15 vṛṣā tvaṁ çatakrato vṛṣā havaḥ 8.13.31
 vṛṣā tvaṁ çatakrato 8.33.11
 vṛṣā havaḥ is refrain in the ṛca 8.33.31-33 pibā somaṁ madāya kam 8.95.3
 pibā somaṁ madāya kaṁ çatakrato 8.36.1-6. Cf. 8.93.27^b-29^b

pibā sutasyāndhaso madāya 7.90.1

abhi prayah is refrain in the trea 5.51.5-7, deducting which, there is left the short pāda pibā sutasyāndhasah which is at the base of the triṣṭubh.¹

B 4. Pādas with dipody appendage which is not refrain

In a number of hymns or series of stanzas an iambic dipody is added regularly and intentionally to an octosyllabic pāda, though the dipody is different every time, that is to say, is not repeated as a refrain; note especially 8.13 (five occurrences). In the following cases the same octosyllabic pāda occurs elsewhere without the dipody appendage:

vayā ivānu rohate juṣanta yat 8.13.6

vayā ivānu rohate 2.5.4

juṣanta yat recurs as dipody appendage in 9.102.5.

gantārā dāṇuṣo grham namasvinah 8.13.10

gantārā dāṇuṣo grham 8.5.5; 22.8

namasvinah is frequent cadence: 1.36.7; 7.14.1; 8.64.17; 10.48.6.

tantum tanuṣva pūrvaṃ yathā vide 8.13.14

tantum tanuṣva pūrvaṃ 1.142.1

yathā vide recurs as conscious dipody appendage in 8.13.19; 9.106.2, and is otherwise a favourite formula, invariably at the end of a pāda: 1.127.4; 132.2; 156.3; 8.49(Vāl.1).1; 69.4; 9.86.32.

ṇucih pāvaka ucyate so adbhutah 8.13.19

{ dhuṣasva pipyuṣim iṣam 8.54(Vāl.6).7; 9.61.15

{ dhuṣanta pipyuṣim iṣam 8.7.3

The cadence avā ca nah does not occur elsewhere in the RV.

gopā ṛtasya dīdhi sve dame 3.10.2

gopā ṛtasya dīdhi 10.118.7

sve dame is frequent cadence: 1.1.8; 94.14; 2.2.11; 5.48.3.

havyavāham amartyaṃ sahovṛdham 3.10.9

havyāham amartyam 4.8.1; 8.102.17

sahovṛdham as cadence in 1.36.2.

añhoṣ cid urucakrayo 'nehasah 8.18.5

añhoṣ cid urucakrayah 5.67.4

anehasah as cadence in 8.45.11.

ṇarma yachantu sapratho yad imahe 8.18.3

ṇarma yachantu saprathah 10.126.7

The shorter pāda is followed in 10.126.7 by ādityāso yad imahe ati dviṣah. The words ati dviṣah are refrain in 10.126.1-7. The dipody yad imahe is cadence in 1.136.4; 8.45.14.

dyumantaṃ ṇuṣmam ā bhara 9.29.6

B 5. Expansion in general of an octosyllabic pāda into a triṣṭubh or jagatī

A very large number of repeated pādas throughout the Rīg-Veda present in a scattering way the same phenomenon: an eight-syllable pāda recurs with an appended iambic dipody acatalectic or catalectic. That is to say, looking at the matter from a purely external point of view, the eight-syllable pāda is increased by the addition of the proper kind of four or three syllables into a jagatī or triṣṭubh line. Antecedently the opposite genesis is also possible: a jagatī or triṣṭubh line, if it happens that its first eight syllables make a good anuṣṭubh or gāyatrī line, may be turned into such a line by dropping its last four or three syllables.¹ This group naturally lends itself to a double treatment, according as an octosyllabic line is paralleled by a jagatī or by a triṣṭubh.

B 6. Expansion of an octosyllabic pāda into a jagatī

An octosyllabic line is paralleled by a jagatī in the following cases:

grutkarṇaṁ saprathastamam 1.45.7

grutkarṇaṁ saprathastamaṁ tuā girā 10.140.6

tuā girā does not occur elsewhere in cadence.

indrah somasya pītaye 8.12.12

indrah somasya pītaye vṛṣāyate 1.55.2

vṛṣāyate is cadence in 9.108.2; 10.94.9.

dasrā hiraṇyavartanī 1.92.18; 5.75.2; 8.5.11; 8.1

dasrā hiraṇyavartanī gubhas patī 8.87.5

gubhas patī is frequent as cadence, e.g. 1.3.1; 34.6; 47.5.

devaṁ martāsa ūtaye 3.9.1; 5.22.3; 8.11.6

devaṁ martāsa ūtaye havāmahe 1.144.5

havāmahe is very frequent as cadence; e.g. 1.16.4°.

indram jāitrāya harṣayan 9.111.3

indram jāitrāya harṣayā çacīpatim 8.15.13

Cases of çacīpati are frequent in cadence; so especially çacīpate as refrain dipody in 8.37.

rathe koçe hiraṇyaye 8.20.8

rathe koçe hiraṇyaye vṛṣaṇvasū 8.22.9

vṛṣaṇvasū is cadence in 17 out of 18 of its occurrences: see Grassmann's Lexicon, s.v.

{ samudrasyādhi viṣṭapi 8.97.5; 9.12.6

{ samudrasyādhi viṣṭapah 8.34.13

samudrasyādhi viṣṭapi manīṣiṇah 9.107.14

manīṣiṇah is cadence in all of its occurrences: 1.164.45; 2.21.5; 3.10.1; 5.57.2; 8.5.16; 43.19; 44.19; 9.68.6; 72.2.6; 79.4; 85.3; 99.5; 10.64.15.

indrasya hārdy āviṇ 9.60.3

indrasya hārdy āviṇ manīṣibhiḥ 9.86.19

manīṣibhiḥ is cadence, with a single exception (9.86.20, where it begins a pāda, immediately after closing with the same word in stanza 19); see 1.34.1; 52.3; 9.64.13; 76.2; 107.11.

 vṛṣā hy ugra ṛṇviṣe 8.6.14
 vṛṣā hy ugra ṛṇviṣe parāvati 8.33.10
 parāvati is frequent cadence: 1.47.7; 53.7; 112.13; 119.8; 134.4; 5.73.1; 8.8.14; 12.17; 13.15; 33.10; 45.25; 50(Vāl.2).7; 93.6; 97.4; 9.44.2; 65.22.
 divo viṣṭambha uttamaḥ 9.108.16
 divo viṣṭambha upamo² vicakṣaṇaḥ 9.86.35 vicakṣaṇaḥ occurs regularly at the end of eight- or twelve-syllable pādas, e.g. 1.101.7^a.

B 7. The same process with incidental changes

In four cases the short pāda is modified verbally, or by a different metrical appraisal of its eight syllables, so as to make it possible for five rather than four syllables to appear added at the end. A decision as to the priority of one or the other of the repeated pādas is not possible. But the considerable complexity of the relations of each pair makes it tolerably certain that we are dealing not with general resemblance, but with real imitative production :

- ṣataṁ pūrbhir yaviṣṭhā 7.16.10 ṣataṁ pūrbhir yaviṣṭhā pāhy añhasaḥ 6.48.8 pāhy añhasaḥ is frequent cadence: 1.91.5; 6.16.30, 31; 7.15.15; 9.56.4.
 gāḥ kṛṇvāno na nirṇijam 9.14.5; 9.107.26
 gāḥ kṛṇvāno nirṇijam haryataḥ kaviḥ 9.86.26
 nābhā pṛthiviā adhi 3.29.4
 nābhā pṛthivyā adhi sānuṣu triṣu 2.3.7
 yad vā pañca kṣitinaām 5.35.2
 yad vā pañca kṣitinaām dyumnā ā bhara 6.46.7

In a case or two the parallelism fades out into more or less general resemblance which does not, however, exclude the possibility or even the probability of imitative workmanship:

- açatrur indra jajñiṣe 1.133.2
 { açatrur indra januṣā sanād asi 1.102.8
 { anāpir indra januṣā sanād asi 8.21.13 sanād asi is cadence also in 7.32.24.

 na tvāvān anyo divyo na pārthivaḥ 7.32.23
 tubhyāyam adribhiḥ sutāḥ 8.82.5
 tubhyāyam somāḥ paripūto adribhiḥ 1.135.2

¹ Arnold, Vedic Metre, p. 124, would read vasūdhitim. I am not inclined to think that he is right; see under 1.1.2^c.

² Subtly and interestingly upamo takes here the place of uttamo, so as to yield an anapaest where the anapaest is the rule; see Oldenberg, Prol., p. 56.

B 8. Expansion of an octosyllabic pāda into a triṣṭubh

In this group octosyllabic pādas vary with triṣṭubh pādas. The important difference between this and the preceding class is, that this parallelism is not supported by any prevalent metrical type, because, in general, pādas with odd and even syllables do not mix in the same stanza (excepting, rarely and anomalously, triṣṭubh and jagatī); see Oldenberg, Prol., p. 117 ff. Nevertheless, here, as in the preceding class, the presumption is antecedently, and on the whole, in favour of the longer pāda's secondary origin. The number of cases here is rather larger than in the corresponding jagatī class (B 6). Note here the first two interesting double examples, involving whole distichs:

 Cf. also under 9.97.5^b.

In two cases the eight-syllable pāda is shortened by a slight verbal change into seven syllables, so that four syllables appear to be added to form the triṣṭubh :

- sañ vo madāso agmata 1.20.5
 sañ vo madā agmata sañ puramdhiḥ 4.34.2
 abhy arṣanti suṣṭutim 9.62.3
 abhy arṣata suṣṭutim gavyam ājim 4.58.10
 Read abhi arṣ° in 9.62.3.

B 9. Faulty verses of eight syllables interchanging with regular triṣṭubh or jagatī

Of greater critical importance is the following class. A long metre pāda (usually triṣṭubh) is paralleled by a short metre octosyllabic pāda in such a way that the short metre pāda is metrically imperfect in its last four syllables, which normally ought to be an iambic dipody (◡ — ◡ ◡). The cadence of the eight-syllable pāda is usually ◡ ◡ ◡ ◡, occasionally also other feet, whereas the long pāda ends, as it should, in the iambic dipody catalectic or acatalectic.¹ In more than one case of this class the sense of the short line is also defective, so as to leave no doubt whatsoever that the short pāda is the stunted product of an after-poet. The classical example of this class is :

- vṛtram jaghanvāñ asrjad vi sindhūn 4.18.7 ; 19.8
 vṛtram jaghanvāñ asrjat 1.80.10.

In the second pāda there is no expressed object, the very fact that all readers of the Veda would agree in supplying sindhūn, or something like, shows that the descent of the pāda is as described ; see under 1.80.10. The number of pādas

¹ Cf. Oldenberg, Prol., p. 8, and the table of exceptional forms on p. 11.

Part 2, Chapter 2: Metrical Variations in Repeated Passages [542

which show these conditions, suggesting the secondary origin of the short (abbreviated) form, is fairly large:

ṛtena mitrāvaruṇā sacethe 1.152.1
ṛtena mitrāvaruṇā 1.2.8

In 1.2.8^b the text continues with enclitic ṛtāvṛdhāv at the beginning of the pāda, showing that the latter word is blended rhythmically with the first pāda; see under 1.2.8^a.

upa brahmāṇi harivo haribhyam 10.104.6
upa brahmāṇi harivaḥ 1.3.6

yathā no mitro varuṇo juṣaṭ 3.4.6
yathā no mitro varuṇaḥ 1.43.3

The pāda 1.43.3^a is satisfied by anticipating ciketati at the end of pāda b; thus: yathā no mitro varuṇo (yathā rudraḥ) ciketati; see under 1.43.3.

ye cid dhi tvām ṛṣayaḥ pūrva ūtaye (juhūre 'vase mahi) 1.48.14
yac cid dhi vām pura ṛṣayo (juhūre 'vase narā) 8.8.6

If we read in 8.8.6 purarṣayo, with double saṁdhi, both forms are well enough.

B 10. Cases where four syllables appear to be prefixed to an octosyllabic pāda

The preceding classes are concerned in one way or another, with the extension of a dimeter line into trimeter line by the addition of the proper amount of syllables at the end. The same result, regarded in a purely external fashion, is accomplished, on a rather surprising scale of frequency by the opposite process : four syllables appear to be added to the beginning of an octosyllabic pāda, thus turning it into a jagati.

At times the short pāda is itself a mere phrase which reappears indifferently in the longer pāda. Thus in the following cases :

yajamānāya sunvate 5.20.5, &c.

{ pūyate yajamānāya sunvate 10.100.3

{ supṛāye yajamānāya sunvate 10.125.2

{ viçved aha yajamānāya sunvate 1.92.3

{ bhadrā çaktir yajamānāya sunvate 1.83.3

{ tasmā agne varuṇa mitrāryaman 7.59.1

{ vayan te vo varuṇa mitrāryaman 8.19.35

çaçamānāya sunvate 4.31.8

{ ya ādrtyā çaçamānāya sunvate 8.66.2

{ tuam agne çaçamānāya sunvate 1.141.10

The extent to which such pairs occur in the RV., or in the body of the Vedic mantras as a whole, is revealed fully by the Reverse Concordance.² As an instance outside of the RV. I note the following pair :

çatam te santv āvṛtaḥ AV. 6.77.3 ; MÇ. 9.4.1

agne āngirah çatam te santv āvṛtaḥ VS. 12.8, &c.

¹ Arnold, VM., p. 315 : 'The verse may be readily corrected to gomad yavamad açvavat'. The parallel shows how risky is the suggestion.

² See JAOS. xxix. 288 ; and above, p. 9.

Part 2, Chapter 2: Metrical Variations in Repeated Passages [544

Akin to this class are pairs of pādas which differ in their opening dipody and end in identical octosyllabic cadences, as :

aṅho rājan varivah pūrave kaḥ 1.63.7
hantā vṛtraṁ varivah pūrave kaḥ 4.21.16 pra marṣiṣṭhā abhi viduḥ kaviḥ san 1.71.10 ava dyubhir abhi viduḥ kaviḥ san 7.18.2

In the following rather long list the presumption is, very regularly, in favour of the primary origin of the short pāda :

sāsahyāma pṛtanyataḥ 8.40.7
indratvotāḥ sāsahyāma pṛtanyataḥ 1.132.1
indratvotāḥ occurs only once more, also as pāda opening, 8.19.16.
pavamāno vi dhāvati 9.37.3
vyānaçih pavamāno vi dhāvati 9.103.6
vyānaçih occurs twice more, both times as pāda opening, 3.49.3 ; 9.86.5.
somapṛṣṭhāya vedhase 8.43.11 kilālaḥ somapṛṣṭhāya vedhase 10.91.14
abhy arṣanti suṣṭutim 9.62.3

In one instance a triṣṭubh line varies in a manner quite parallel with an awkward, hypermetric, trochaic dimeter line which is obviously nothing but that very triṣṭubh, minus three syllables at the beginning; the shorter form is palpably secondary :

ā no diva ā prthivā rjīṣin 7.24.3

B 11. Cases in which the Expansion is by Insertion

The last class of repeated pādas bearing upon metre offers the following external conditions: one of the repeated pādas is octosyllabic, rarely catalectic or heptasyllabic; the other mimics the act of inserting after the fourth or fifth syllable—the future caesura—four syllables, so that the resultant pāda is a jagati, rarely a triṣṭubh. In the majority of cases, though not in all, the first three of the inserted syllables make an anapaest (∪ ∪ —), the ideal cadence after the caesura.¹ In this way both the shorter and the longer pāda usually present

divo viṣṭambha uttamaḥ 9.108.16
divo viṣṭambha upamo vicakṣaṇaḥ 9.86.35

Compare also the obviously intentional change of arāvṇaḥ to araruṣo (above, p. 540) in :
pāhi dhūrter arāvṇaḥ 1.36.5
pāhi dhūrter araruṣo aghāyoḥ 7.1.13

equally good forms. We are led to the general consideration that it is more natural to add than to subtract from a Vedic verse line; that, therefore, there is a general presumption in favour of the originality of the shorter line. In one or two cases the opposite process has taken place demonstrably; this renders impossible a definite decision in other cases, unless additional criteria happen to be available. The number of these cases is quite considerable, amounting to something in the neighbourhood of 40 :

In two instances the formal relation of the repeated pādas is such that the longer is a perfect triṣṭubh line, the shorter, three syllables less, a more or less dubious or irregular gāyatrī line:

The same hymn (1.2.7) contains the imperfect pāda, ṛtena mitrāvaruṇā, in relation to the sound, ṛtena mitrāvaruṇā sacethe (1.152.1; see under 1.2.7), as well as several other awkward pādas, trochaic and otherwise (2^{ab} and 9^{ac}); if metrical indicia are valid at all they show that both stanza 1.2.7 as well as the entire hymn are afterborn. The very same criticism applies to the following closely parallel case (see p. 88 bottom):

CHAPTER III : VERBAL VARIATIONS OF REPEATED PĀDAS : LEXICAL AND GRAMMATICAL

Grouping of verbal variations.—These may conveniently be presented in two groups or classes. The first, Class A, pp. 651 ff., includes the lexical variations or those in which one word is substituted for another. The second, Class B, pp. 561 ff., includes the grammatical variations or those in which one grammatical form is substituted for another, the words remaining substantially the same. Before the subdivisions of Class A are given, several prefatory matters should be considered.

CLASS A: LEXICAL VARIATIONS OF REPEATED PĀDAS

The terms 'synonymous pādas' and 'non-synonymous pādas'.—Lexical variations are either such as to leave the sense of a given pair of repeated lines practically unchanged ; or, they are such that the meaning of one repeated pāda differs fundamentally or radically from the meaning of its partner or mate. To the former class we may assign the name 'synonymous' ; to the latter the opposite name 'non-synonymous'. It may be readily understood that the application of these terms to verses rather than words carries with it some modification of their usual force which needs to be explained with some detail.

Definition of 'synonymous pādas'.—The expression 'synonymous' is, of course, to be understood here in a broader and somewhat looser sense than that which belongs to it when applied to words or phrases. To begin with, we may regard as synonymous such verses as contain the same words in different arrangement. Change in order of words is a rhetorical rather than lexical matter ; such change results in verse pairs that are essentially of the same lexical value. If there is any difference that difference is at most one of emphasis or emotion. Thus.

sīdatām barhir ā sumat 1.142.7
ā barhir sīdatām sumat 3.87.4

Next, repeated pādas may indeed be directly synonymous, because their variations are restricted to the interchange between two or more ordinarily synonymous words. Thus, e.g., tam v abhi pra gāyata 3.15.1

tam v abhi prārcata 3.92.5

Again, repeated pādas may be synonymous, though one or more of their varied words are not at all so, because their total value as larger units of expression remains unchanged. Thus :

havyavāl agnir ajaraḥ pitā naḥ 5.4.2
havyavāl agnir ajaraḥ canohitaḥ 3.2.2

Both verses are addressed to Agni. The words pitā naḥ, 'our father', and canohitaḥ, 'propitious', are sufficiently far apart, and yet the two pādas are scarcely more than metrical variants of one another, respectively triṣṭubh and jagati, 'metrical ūha', as it were.¹ Or again :

ya ime rodasī ubhe 3.53.12
ya ime rodasī mahī 8.6.17 ; 9.18.5

are, in the light of Vedic diction, synonymous pādas, though the words ubhe and mahī are not so at all. The two words are so frequently used with heaven and earth, or similar feminine cosmic pairs, as to blend in the same pāda, as though they were glosses of one another. Thus in the two hypermetric lines of the AV. (Çaunakiya) :

anenājayad dyāvāprthivī ubhe ime 8.5.3
ācāryas tataḥ nabhasī ubhe ime 11.5.8

In each of these either ubhe or ime is superfluous.² The Paippalāda omits ime in the first reading, anena dyāvāprthivī ubhe ajayat ; and in the second also it omits ime.

Still farther apart are the meanings of the words çiṣum and añṣum in the following pair, and yet the pādas containing them are synonymous :

çiṣum rihanti matayaḥ pañipnatam 9.85.11 ; 86.13
añṣum rihanti matayaḥ pañipnatam 9.86.46

Here çiṣum and añṣum are both designations of soma. Çiṣum, it will be observed, appears twice, suiting the verb rihanti, whereas the figure of speech añṣum rihanti is awkward and secondary, beyond peradventure. The expression, 'prayers lick the young (soma)', is borrowed from the habits of the cow with her calf ; see under 9.85.11.

Owing to the interchange between two words thoroughly different in sense two pādas may become estranged from one another, yet be at heart, so to speak, truly synonymous. Thus in the pair :

pra vācam indur iṣyati 9.12.6
pra vājam indur iṣyati 9.35.4

there is only a single sound's difference (c and j) but it manages to alter the face value of the two pādas a good deal. In the end they express both of them closely related functions of soma ; they are little more than different phrasings of essentially the same idea. See under 9.12.6.

The freedom with which such verbal changes are undertaken may at times strike us as frivolous or nonsensical. Thus in the following pair :

rakṣā ca no damyebhir anikāḥ 3.1.15
gr̥ṇotu no damyebhir anikāḥ 3.54.1

² See Bloomfield, The Atharva-Veda, p. 42.

Both are addressed to Agni. If anika really means 'face', the first of the pair is good sense. But how can Agni hear with his 'home-loving faces'? See the more particular discussion of this parallel under 3.1.15.

Beyond this it is possible for a pair of repeated pādas to differ not only in wording, but also in theme, and yet to be in effect synonymous. Thus:

sumṛīko bhavatu viçvavedāḥ 6.47.12 = 10.131.6
sumṛīko bhavatu jātavedāḥ 4.1.20

The first is addressed to Indra; the second to Agni. But the difference is slight at least on one side. It is true that jātavedāḥ may not be used with Indra, but viçvavedāḥ may be used with both Indra and Agni, as well as other divinities. Therefore TB. 2.7.5.12 easily substitutes viçvavedāḥ for jātavedāḥ in RV. 4.1.20¹; see, e.g. under 1.12.1, where viçvavedāḥ appears as a standing epithet of Agni, no less applicable to Agni than to Indra.

On ūha-pādas as indicated by change of theme in the repeated pādas.—The last example brings us to the kind of modification (vikāra) known as ūha ('dislocation', 'alteration'), that is, the tendency or habit of making over a given mantra passage in such a way as to suit it to some other than the original divinity, or the original ritual practice. The ūha-type is found throughout the Vedic texts (cf. e.g. Āçvalāyana's Gr̥hyasūtra 1.7.13), beginning with the RV. itself. The ūha, by its very terms, implies every time substantial change of value, yet the resulting pairs may be fairly counted as synonymous. For synonymy implies change, as long as that change does not really divide deeply, or estrange radically the related forms. Thus we have:

adroghavācam matibhir çaviṣṭham 6.22.2

The change is in one single sound (y and ç), but with it goes the important shift from Agni, in 6.5.1, to Indra, in 6.22.2 (see under 6.5.1). This does not, however, wipe out the essential identity of the lines. We cannot in this instance decide which is the original, precisely because the pair remain so thoroughly synonymous. In another similar pair we can tell certainly which is the 'mother verse' (vikārya), and which the ūha form (vikṛta):

bṛhantam ṛṣvam ajaram yuvānam 3.32.7; 6.19.2
bṛhantam ṛṣvam ajaram suṣumnam 6.49.10

The first is addressed to Indra, twice; the second to Rudra, once. The sequence, 'youth that does not age', is preferable and prior to 'ageless and kind'; see under 3.32.7.

The Rig-Veda mixes up Indra and Soma (Indu-Indra), at times most inextricably. Yet in the following pair of ūha-pādas they are differentiated nicely:

sa na stavāna ā bhara (sc. rayim) 8.24.3
sa naḥ punāna ā bhara (sc. rayim) 9.40.5; 61.6

Needless to mention, the first is Indra's pāda¹; the second Soma's (Pavamāna). Here again I have hazarded the guess that the Pavamāna form is the original; see under 1.12.11.

Downright ūha-pādas.—The most real ūha-pādas, approximating more closely the technical habits of the ritual texts, are those which merely vary the name of a divinity or some other proper noun, but otherwise leave the wording unchanged. In such cases it is, as a rule, not possible to find out the original, because the two pādas are otherwise identical. None the less certainly one is the pattern: the other the imitation. A typical example is:

havyebhir mitrāvaruṇā namobhiḥ 1.153.1
havyebhir indrāvaruṇā namobhiḥ 4.42.9; 7.84.1

Here there is no indication of priority. In the following pair, in which the names of two Rishis are interchanged, the general circumstances of the RV. redaction do show for once that the Bharadvāja verse antedates the Viçvāmītra verse (see under 1.4.3):

bharadvāja uta ta indra nūnam 6.25.9
viçvāmītrā uta ta indra nūnam 10.89.17.

Class A, lexical variations of repeated pādas: Six subdivisions.—The preceding pages show the principal general aspects of synonymous pādas. Their character is shown more in particular by the subjoined classification; by the introductions to the several classes; and by the examples themselves as enumerated in each class. The like holds for the non-synonymous repetitions, that is, for those cases in which verbal changes alter entirely or substantially the meaning and character of a pair or a group of repetitions (see pp. 659 ff.) I would remark, however, that such classifications, from their very nature, are not hard and fast; that they are based partly on logical and partly on formal considerations; and that they are sure to present themselves to different readers under different aspects, to some extent at least, according to the subjective state of mind of each reader. According to my feeling the subject of Lexical Change may be presented under the following heads:

- A 1. Synonymous pādas with the same or closely similar words in changed order.
- A 2. Synonymous pādas with interchanged synonymous words but without change of metre.
- A 3. Synonymous pādas with interchanged synonymous words with change of metre.
- A 4. Synonymous pādas with added or subtracted words.
- A 5. Synonymous pādas expressing or implying change of god or person or the like.
- A 6. Non-synonymous pādas without or with change of metre.

¹ Also Agni's in 1.12.11.

A 1. Synonymous pādas with the same or closely similar words in changed order

In Vedic tradition as a whole the order of words is unstable. The mantras collectively, as treated in the various Vedic Saṃhitās and their ancillary or ritual texts, furnish about 1,000 cases in which the order of words is changed unintentionally, or at least without imparting to the changed result any meaning which is not contained in the original. I have dealt with this matter provisionally in an article in JAOS. xxix, pp. 291 ff.; see also Indo-germanische Forschungen xxxi. 156 ff. The Rīg-Veda itself contains not a few examples of pāda doublets which differ from one another in the arrangement of their words without any perceptible change of meaning. In poetry unstable order of words is, of course, to some extent, due to the hampering or confining influence of metre, as e.g. in the pair :

pra te pūrvāṇi karaṇāni vocam pra nūtanā maghavan yā cakārtha 5.31.6
prendrasya vocam prathamā kṛtāni pra nūtanā maghavā yā cakāra 7.98.5

The word vocam is shifted in the second distich because the verbal changes in that line preclude its retention in its natural position at the end of the pāda. Varying degrees of emphasis may have something to do with change in word order. This operates certainly, to some extent, in concatenating pādas, as may be seen above, pp. 7 ff. So, e.g., in the catenation, āhus te trīṇi divi bandhanāni 1.163.3^d trīṇi ta āhur divi bandhanāni 1.163.4^a

The first statement proclaims its assertion emphatically; the second, musingly or reflectively, as an introduction to a further development of the theme of the hymn. Similar change of feeling accounts for the transposition in the following repeated distichs :

yaḥ pāvamānīr adhyety ṛṣibhiḥ sambhṛtaṁ rasam 9.67.31
pāvamānīr yo adhyety ṛṣibhiḥ sambhṛtaṁ rasam 9.67.32
amīvā yas te garbhaṁ durṇāmā yonim āçaye 10.162.1
yas te garbham amīvā durṇāmā yonim āçaye 10.162.2

Different order of words occurs also once in two successive stanzas that imitate one another in Vāḷakhilya fashion (see above, p. 15) :

çuṣṇasyāṇḍāni bhedati 8.40.10
āṇḍā çuṣṇasya bhedati 8.40.11

The variation seems here to be purely rhetorical, rather than grammatical. As if in a dice-box, the words are shaken up, and then thrown out, in the following two distichs :

pra te dhārā asaçcato divo na yanti vṛṣṭayaḥ 9.57.1
pra te divo na vṛṣṭayo dhārā yanty asaçcataḥ 9.62.28

The total number of these cases is fairly large, sometimes they are accompanied by slight verbal changes as well :

A 2. Synonymous pādas with interchanged synonymous words but without change of metre

In the majority of cases repeated pādas, which are in reality one and the same pāda, differ from one another because the individual Vedic poets have, as is the habit of man, each his own style, imagination, and mode of expression; because, to some extent, they are each successively bent upon refining the work of their predecessors; and because, to some extent again, they are doubtless afflicted with forgetfulness, the kind of forgetfulness which plagues all that try to remember and cite poetry. With all the slavish imitativeness of the hymns goes also an intense variability of wording, as every one knows who has been engaged in hunting down parallel ideas in the ten thousand stanzas of the

RV. Accordingly the same verse line is frequently repeated with some more or less indifferent change of expression. In the present rubric the metre of the original or pattern is undisturbed in the repetition or imitation. Thus the Uṣas poetry is markedly imitative (cf. also under 1.124.7^d):

uṣaḥ sūṇṛte prathamā jarasva 1.123.5
uṣaḥ sujāte prathamā jarasva 7.76.5
uṣo adyeḥa subhage vy ucha 1.113.7
uṣo no adya suhavā vy ucha 1.123.13
ā yad vām sūriā ratham 5.73.5
ā yad vām yoṣaṇā ratham 8.8.10¹

In a more marked degree the legendary narrations about the Aṇvins tend to rather monotonous repetitions which at times make entire or large parts of Aṇvin hymns appear like plagiarizing versions of one another. So the hymns 1.116 and 1.117 show this kind of relation very obviously²:

ṣataṁ kumbhān asiṇcataṁ surāyāḥ 1.116.7
ṣataṁ kumbhān asiṇcataṁ madhūnām 1.117.6
ṣataṁ meṣān vṛkṣe cakṣadānam 1.116.16
ṣataṁ meṣān vṛkṣe māmahānam 1.117.17

Cf. also 1.116.7 with 1.117.7 (above, p. 121). Other cases in the Aṇvin hymns of slight variations that leave the pair essentially unchanged in meaning are:

etāni vām aṇvinā vīryāṇi 1.117.25
etāni vām aṇvinā vardhanāni 2.39.8
āyukṣātām aṇvinā yātave ratham 1.157.1
āyukṣātām aṇvinā tūtujiṁ ratham 10.35.6

Again the imitative Vāḷakhilya hymns (see p. 13) show many stanzas and pādas that are more or less alike; the variations are obviously intentional. So in the pair:

yaṁ te svadhāvan suadanti gūrtayaḥ 8.50 (Vāl. 2).5

Without going into further discussion of the niceties of these slight lexical or stylistic changes we may scan the following list of pairs; they are for the most part perfectly synonymous. The change does not, as a rule, extend beyond a single word or expression; the deflection in meaning or construction is usually very slight. There is, of course, an occasional shading off into a more sharply differentiated meaning, or a somewhat different construction. The list does not as a rule repeat the examples previously stated at the head of this chapter.³

A 3. Synonymous pādas with interchanged synonymous words with change of metre

In a large number of cases metre is responsible for greater or lesser changes in the form of pādas, as is shown in the chapter on metre (pp. 523 ff.). These changes often take the form of synonymic changes, that is, a metrically more convenient word is substituted for one of like or similar lexical value. The real difference between this and the preceding class is this that the motive for the substitution is here quite evident. In several cases this substitution takes merely the form of a grammatical equivalent (cf. above, p. 529). Thus:

ny ūbathuḥ purumitrasya yōṣām (10.39.7, yōṣānām) 1.117.20 ; 10.39.7
 asmaḥbhyam ṇarma bahulaṁ vi yantana (6.51.5, yanta) 5.55.9 ; 6.51.5
 somaḥ punānaḥ kalaṇṇeṣu sīdati (9.96.23, sattā) 9.68.9 ; 86.9 ; 96.23

These can scarcely be said to be synonymous pādas, but rather the same pāda modified so as to suit varying metrical needs. The following, however, involve synonymous words, as well as metrical changes. It will be noted that they occasionally show slight grammatical changes, or insignificant additions as well as lexical changes:

A 4. Synonymous pādas with added or subtracted Words

The second chapter, on metrical variations, deals with many pairs of pādas one of which is longer or shorter than the other. Especially the interchange between octosyllabic pādas and triṣṭubh-jagatī pādas results in many doublets (pp. 535 ff.). In such cases the long pāda, as a rule, contains something more than the short, enough to remove the two pādas from the sphere of mere synonymy. In some cases, however, precisely the opposite is true; notwithstanding an added word or two the longer pāda has the effect of the short pāda beaten out or ornamented by an additional flourish. Then the pairs may be properly called synonymous; they afford, indeed at times, a particularly interesting and intimate glimpse into the subtler practices of imitation, some of which are of very cunning workmanship indeed; see, e.g. the interchange between arāvṇaḥ and araruṣo in the first example; or the interchange between uttamaḥ and upamo in the sixth example; or the apparent hollowing out of the longer form (so as to produce the shorter) in the fourth and fifth examples. Since all such pairs are collected in a fairly compact way in the chapter on metre (pp. 535 ff.), I shall merely remind the reader here of the most conspicuous cases in which a long and a short pāda express essentially the same idea, are in truth genuinely synonymous:

A 6. Non-synonymous pādas without or with change of metre

This brings us to what is, from the nature of the case, the most frequent and important class of lexically changed pairs or groups of pādas. A word or more is varied in such a way that there results real change of meaning or construction. A noun or adjective in one pāda is displaced by a verb in the other; an adjective is displaced by a noun, or any kind of word by any other kind of word. The poets here, as in the preceding classes, show their dependence upon the existing mass of verse-models, but they change the thought as well as the form. The boundary line between this class and the preceding classes is not hard and fast; still the point here, as distinguished from the preceding classes, is that the changes in form and sense are surely conscious or intentional, and result in real new values. So, e.g. in the almost identical pādas in the following two distichs:

7.90.6: Içānāso ye dadhate svar no gobhir aṣvebhir vasubhir hiranyāḥ
 10.108.7: ayam nidhiḥ sarame adribudhno gobhir aṣvebhir vasubhir nyṛṣṭaḥ

CLASS B: GRAMMATICAL VARIATIONS OF REPEATED PĀDAS

Character and Scope of Grammatical Variations.—Grammatical variations in repeated pādas involve all the inflective categories of finite verb, participle, noun, adjective, pronoun, &c. Just as the Vedic poets exercise great freedom in modulating or completely changing part of the lexical matter of a given pāda, so they feel free to change the grammatical forms. One poet addresses Indra in the second person with the vocatives that make up a pāda, çatamūte çatakṛato (8.46.3) ; another praises him in the third person with the corresponding nominatives, çatamūtiḥ çatakṛatuḥ (8.99.8). Or, a poet addresses the same god directly with pra nūtanā maghavan yā cakārtha (5.31.6) ; another lauds him indirectly with pra nūtanā maghavā yā cakāra (7.98.5). These are straight and complete variations which metamorphose some statement in a single consistent way. Not at all rare, and much more problematic and difficult to assort, are multiple grammatical changes which pull in different directions. So, e.g. 1.176.1 says of Indra, rgḥāyamāṇa invasi 'with a rush thou dost penetrate'; on the other hand 1.10.8 has the statement, (nahī tvā rodasī ubhe) rgḥāyamāṇam invataḥ, 'not do the two Rodasī (Heaven and Earth) penetrate thee when thou rushest'. The complexity of the change in this last instance is marked by the fact that the subject (rgḥāyamāṇa) of the verb, invasi, becomes the object (rgḥāyamāṇam) of the same verb, invataḥ, in the repeated pāda. This example shows, too, that a perfectly harmonious arrangement of all such variations cannot be expected. Every imaginable variation may occur, theoretically at least; but some are common and typical, others rare and exceptional. They are governed by tendencies so marked as to permit us to establish certain classes that may throw light upon the stylistic habits of the poets. It will be observed that grammatical variation—grammatical ūha, as we may call it—is a constant factor in imitation, and that these variations are at times attended by some strain.

Class B, Grammatical Variations of Repeated Pādas: Eleven subdivisions.—The examples, according as they concern the inflection of verbum or nomen (substantivum or adjectivum) or pronomen, may be presented under eleven heads, as follows:

- B 1. Gratuitous and metrical variations either in verbs or substantives.
- B 2. Variation of second and third persons.
- B 3. Variation of first and other persons.
- B 4. Variation of number in finite verbs and participles.
- B 5. Variation of finite verbs and participles or gerunds or the like.
- B 6. Sporadic and complex variations of verb.
- B 7. Variation of vocatives and other cases.
- B 8. Variation of nominatives and accusatives.
- B 9. Other case variations.
- B 10. Variation of number and gender.
- B 11. Variation of pronouns.

B 1. Gratuitous and metrical variations in verbs or substantives

Some changes are supported, apparently, by neither grammatical, lexical nor metrical reasons. Thus verbs in the following pairs:

ghṛtaṁ duhrata āçīram 1.134.6

ghṛtaṁ duhata āçīram 8.6.19

mandasvā su svarṇare 8.6.39

mādayasva svarṇare 8.103.14

No more clear is the reason why the Vāḷakhilya poet of 8.50(Vāl. 2).5 should have substituted the awkward pāda, yaṁ te svadāvan svadanti gūrtayaḥ, for 8.49(Vāl.1).5, yaṁ te svadhāvan svadayanti dhenavaḥ. We can say no more than that these are cases of forgetful imitation, or, possibly, repetition with a change designed as a touch of originality.

Similarly the case form of a noun is at times altered without any, or at least without pressing reason. The expression, aktor vyuṣṭāu paritakmyāyāḥ, 5.30.18, seems to mean exactly the same thing as, aktor vyuṣṭāu paritakmyāyām in 6.24.9. In 10.93.11 the pāda, (abhiṣṭaye) sadā pāhy abhiṣṭaye imitates, (abhiṣṭibhiḥ) sadā pāhy abhiṣṭibhiḥ in 1.129.9; there is no real difference of meaning, though the latter seems to me primary: see under 1.129.9. In 10.171.3, tvaṁ tyam indra martyam, the pronoun tyam is a rather pretentious archaism (considering the character of the hymn), as compared with tam in 5.35.5, tvaṁ tam indra martyam.

In a much larger number of cases the choice between two forms which are grammatically equivalent is controlled by the metres of the verses (see pp. 523 ff.): tense-stem, mode-stem, voice, personal ending; noun-stem, noun-case, or noun-number, &c., are changed for cadence's sake, but without altering the least bit the real meaning of the verb, or even the pāda as a whole. Thus in the verb:

asmabhyam ṣarma bahulaṁ vi yanta (5.55.9, yantana) 5.55.9; 6.51.5
adhi stotrasya sakhyasya gāta (5.55.9, gātana) 5.55.9; 10.98.8
ādityāir no aditiḥ ṣarma yaṁsat (10.66.3, yachatu) 1.107.2; 4.54.6; 10.66.3
ava tmanā dhr̥ṣatā (7.18.20, bṛhataḥ) ṣambaram bhinaṭ (7.18.20, bhet) 1.54.4; 7.18.20
yan mā somāso mamadan yad ukthā (10.48.4, somāsa ukthino amandiṣuḥ) 4.42.6; 10.48.4
vi yo rajāṁsy amimīta sukratuḥ (1.160.4, yo mame rajasī sukratūyayā) 1.160.4; 6.7.7

Again, in the substantive;

ny ūhathuḥ purumitrasya yōṣām (10.39.7, yōṣaṇām) 1.117.20; 10.39.7
sa jāyamānaḥ parame vyomani (7.5.9, vyoman) 1.143.2; 6.8.2; 7.5.9
rathā aṣvāsa uṣaso vyuṣṭāu (4.45.2, vyuṣṭiṣu) 4.14.4; 45.2
naras tokasya tanayasya sātāu (7.82.9, sātiṣu) 4.24.3; 7.82.9
vṛṣā pavitre adhi sāno avyaye (9.97.10, avye) 9.86.3; 97.40
saṁ vo madāso agmata (4.34.2, madā agmata saṁ puram̐dhiḥ) 1.20.5; 4.34.2
ṣataṁ pūrbhir yaviṣṭhya (6.48.8, yaviṣṭha pāhy aṇhasaḥ) 6.48.8; 7.16.10 pāhi dhūrter arāvṇaḥ (7.1.3, dhūrter araruṣo aghāyoḥ) 1.36.15; 7.1.13 ṣiprāḥ ṣirṣan hiraṇyayīḥ (5.54.11, ṣirṣasu vitatā hiraṇyayīḥ) 5.54.11; 8.7.25.

B 2. Variations of second and third persons

The commonest of all verbal variations, most typical of the habits of the poets, is that of the second and third persons of the same number. On the one hand a given divinity or divinities are addressed directly in the second person; on the other hand qualities and deeds are attributed to them or demanded of them in the third person. Thus:

avāsr̥jaḥ (2.12.12, avāsr̥jat) sartave sapta sindhūn 1.32.12; 2.12.12
ā sūryaṁ robayo (1.7.3, rohayad) divi 1.7.3; 8.89.7; 9.107.7; 10.156.4
jeṣaḥ (8.40.10, jeṣat) svarvatīr apaḥ 1.10.8; 8.40.10 avyo vāraṁ vi dhāvati (9.16.8, dhāvasi) 9.16.8; 28.1; 106.10 viṣvam ā bhāsi (3.44.4, bhāti) rocanam 1.49.4; 150.4; 3.44.4

cyeno na vaṁsu kalāṣeṣu sīdasi (9.57.3, vaṁsu sīdati) 9.57.3; 86.35 ahan vṛtraṁ nir apām āubjo (1.85.9, āubjad) arṇavam 1.56.5; 85.9 viçvāṁ puṣyati (10.132.2, puṣyasi) vāryam 1.81.9; 5.5.6; 10.132.2
 ā rodasi aprṇā (4.18.5; 10.45.6, aprṇā) jāyamānaḥ 3.6.2; 4.18.5; 7.13.2; 10.45.6
 svadhvarā kṛṇuhi jātavedaḥ (6.10.1; 7.17.4, karati jātavedāḥ) 3.6.6; 6.10.1; 7.17.3; 4 suvedā no vasū kṛdhi (6.48.15, karat) 6.48.15; 7.32.25 antar mahāṅ carati (10.4.2, carasi) rocanena 3.55.9; 10.4.2
 puro dadhat sanīsyasi (5.31.11, sanīsyati) kratum naḥ 4.20.3; 5.31.11

 abhi prayāṁsi sudhitāni hi khyat (10.53.2, khyat) 6.15.15; 10.53.2
 saṁ sūryeṇa rocasi (9.2.6, rocate) 8.9.18; 9.2.6
 vy antarīkṣam atiraḥ (8.4.17, atirat) 8.14.7; 10.153.3
 athemā viçvā pṛtanā jayāsi (10.52.5, jayāti) 8.96.7; 10.52.5
 sadyo jajñāno havyo babhūtha (8.96.21, babhūva) 8.96.21; 10.6.7
 vṛṣāva cakrado (9.7.3, cakradad) vane 9.7.3; 10.7.22
 nṛmṇā vāsāno arṣasi (5.7.4, arṣati) 9.7.4; 62.23 punāno vācam īsyasi (9.30.1, īsyati) 9.30.1; 64.25
 apaghnan pavase (9.61.25, pavate) mṛdhaḥ 9.61.25; 63.24 gobhir aṅjāno arṣasi (9.103.1, arṣati) 9.103.2; 10.7.22
 nyañ Uttānam anv eṣi (10.27.3, eti) bhūmim 10.27.13; 142.5
 pari tmanā viṣurūpo jigāsi (7.84.1, viṣurūpā jigāti) 5.15.4; 7.84.1
 rāvanāv rātam ā ghosatho (8.25.4, ghosato) brhat 1.151.4; 8.25.4
 juṣethām (5.72.8, juṣetām) yajñam iṣṭaye 5.72.3; 78.3; 8.38.4

B 3. Variation of first and other persons

This small group, not entirely uniform in character, calls attention to the fact that the gods or the poets are at times introduced dramatically as engaged in self-praise (ātmatutī). The first pair under this head shows that the passage in the first person is a direct, and formally inferior, imitation of the passage in the third person; see under 4.17.3. It is, perhaps, not too much to say that, as a matter of principle, passages which introduce the gods in the first person, when paralleled by passages in the third person, are late and imitative. Therefore, and for intrinsic reasons also, passages generally in which gods recount their own exploits are likely to belong to a later stratum of Vedic composition. See also under 1.51.8:

vadhīm vṛtraṁ vajreṇa mandasānaḥ 10.28.7
 vadhīd vṛtraṁ vajreṇa mandasānaḥ 4.17.3
 ṛtasya panthām anv emi sādhuḥ 10.66.13

 viçvāni sānty abhy astu mahnā 2.28.1
 grham indraç ca ganvahi 8.69.7
 grham indraç ca gachatam 1.135.7; 4.49.3
 ratham na dhīraḥ svapā atakṣam 5.2.11; 29.5
 ratham na dhīraḥ svapā atakṣiṣuḥ 1.130.6¹

¹ In this pair the first person version, having 'poets' for its subject, is pretty certainly prior and superior to the third person version; see under 1.130.6, and cf. under 7.16.20.

B 4. Variation of grammatical number in finite verbs and participles

This class includes the variations as between singular and plural, singular and dual, dual and plural. At times these cases are still further diversified by change of person. They illustrate most clearly the monotonously imitative habits in the praise and invocation of the gods which make it easy to obliterate intrinsic distinctions and probabilities. So the statement about Indra and Soma in 6.72.2, aprathataṁ prthivīm mātaraṁ vi, is imitated baldly in connexion with the plural Āngiras in 10.62.3, aprathayan prthivīm mātaraṁ vi; see under 6.72.2^d. In not a few cases such variations harbour hermeneutic or chronological criteria :

B 3. Variation of first and other persons

This small group, not entirely uniform in character, calls attention to the fact that the gods or the poets are at times introduced dramatically as engaged in self-praise (ātmastuti). The first pair under this head shows that the passage in the first person is a direct, and formally inferior, imitation of the passage in the third person; see under 4.17.3. It is, perhaps, not too much to say that, as a matter of principle, passages which introduce the gods in the first person, when paralleled by passages in the third person, are late and imitative. Therefore, and for intrinsic reasons also, passages generally in which gods recount their own exploits are likely to belong to a later stratum of Vedic composition. See also under 1.51.8:

 ratham na dhīraḥ svapā atakṣiṣuḥ 1.130.6¹

¹ In this pair the first person version, having 'poets' for its subject, is pretty certainly prior and superior to the third person version; see under 1.130.6, and cf. under 7.16.20.

B 4. Variation of grammatical number in finite verbs and participles

This class includes the variations as between singular and plural, singular and dual, dual and plural. At times these cases are still further diversified by change of person. They illustrate most clearly the monotonously imitative habits in the praise and invocation of the gods which make it easy to obliterate intrinsic distinctions and probabilities. So the statement about Indra and Soma in 6.72.2, aprathatām prthivīm mātaram vi, is imitated baldly in connexion with the plural Āngiras in 10.62.3, aprathayan prthivīm mātaram vi; see under 6.72.2^d. In not a few cases such variations harbour hermeneutic or chronological criteria:

B 6. Sporadic and complex variations of verb

The circumstances of verbal inflexion are often mixed so that the verb of one repeated pāda differs in more than one single respect from the verb of the other. These complex qualities appear occasionally in the lists given hitherto. Such cases will not be repeated here. The following list contains additional sporadic interchanges of tense, mode, and so on. Some of them share qualities of the pairs in the preceding list, but for the most part they exhibit relations differing from them :

jjok paḥyāt (10.59.6, paḥyema) sūryam uccarantam 4.25.4; 10.59.6
 apatyasācam ṇṛtyam rarāthām (6.72.5, rarāthe) 1.117.23; 6.72.5

B 7. Variation of vocatives and other cases

In a great many instances the repeated pādas contain a single predicative or attributive expression in which one or more case forms are varied to suit the connexion in the stanza. Especially vocative expressions vary with expressions with other cases, according as a divinity is mentioned in the third person, or addressed directly in the second person (cf. p. 561, bottom):

B 8. Variation of nominatives and accusatives

Similar circumstances operate to produce an equally large number of pāda-pairs, one of which is throughout in the nominative; the other in the accusative. Or, an important single word shows the same change in a pāda-pair:

- duḥçāṁso martyo ripuḥ 2.41.8

 indrāya madhumattamam 9.63.19

B 9. Other variations of case

Very much rarer and more mixed than the relations between vocative and other cases, or nominative and accusative, are the relations between other (mostly oblique) cases. In a number of instances the pādas are not convertible by the mere process of changing a single given case into another. The correspondence of such pāda-pairs is more complicated and problematic; it involves a remoter and less certain kind of imitateness, calling up the question of priority more insistently than do the conditions of the pairs discussed so far. I have alluded above (p. 562) to the more complicated relations of the pair:

- ṛghāyamāṇa invasi 1.176.1
 ṛghāyamāṇam invataḥ 1.10.8. Cf. also under 1.12.7^b.

Similar pairs, whose meaning and chronology are, where profitable, discussed in the body of the work, are contained in the following list, which gathers up the remaining varieties of case relations:

- uçanā (nominative) yat parāvataḥ 1.130.9
 uçanā (apparently instrumental) yat parāvataḥ 8.7.26

B 10. Variation of number and gender

The remaining changes in substantival inflexion concern different numbers or genders, in nouns, adjectives, or participles. The instances are mostly pādas applied to different divinities, which pādas, except for these variations, are of identical tenor. At times, however, it is a question of different objects or things. Occasionally the relations of such pāda-pairs are more intricate: these cases, it should be remembered, have already been discussed in due order in the main body of this work; see, e.g. (under 4.56.2):

devī (dual) devebhir yajate yajatrāḥ 4.56.2

devī (singular) devebhir yajatā yajatrāḥ 7.75.7

devī (singular) devebhir yajatā yajatra 10.11.8

B 11. Variation of pronouns

Interchange of person, number, or case, in pronouns occurs quite frequently in accord with obvious differences in the persons or situations described by the poets. The distinction between single, dual, and plural gods appears quite frequently, showing, of course, that much that may be said of a single god applies indifferently to a plurality of gods:

brahmā ko vaḥ (8.64.7, kas taṁ) saparyati 8.7.20; 68.7
bhakṣīya te (5.57.7, vo) 'vaso dāivyasya 4.21.10; 5.57.7
yat te (10.2.4, vo) vayan̄ pramināma vratāni 8.48.9; 10.2.4
viçvet tā te (10.39.4, vān̄) savaneṣu pravācyā 1.51.13; 10.39.4
arvāñcā vān̄ (8.4.14, arvāñcam tvā) saptayo 'dhvaraçriyaḥ 1.47.8; 8.4.14
asme vo (7.70.5, vām) astu sumatiç canīṣṭhā 7.57.4; 70.5
sam u vo (7.61.6, vān̄) yajñam mahayan̄ (7.61.6, 'yam) namobhiḥ 7.42.3; 61.6
ā vām (8.8.1, no) viçvābhir ūtibhiḥ 8.8.1, 18; 87.3 mo ca naḥ (10.59.8, mo ṣu te) kiṁ canānamat 9.114.4; 10.59.8-10 taṁ (7.94.5, tā) hi çaçvanta ilate 5.14.3; 7.94.5
sa (9.65.24, te) no vṛṣṭim̄ divas pari 2.6.5; 9.65.24 sa (6.61.9, sā) no viçvā ati dviṣaḥ 5.29.9; 6.61.9
eta u tye (7.83.3, etā u tyāḥ) praty adṛṣṭan̄ (7.83.3, adṛṣṭan̄ purastāt) 1.191.5; 7.83.3
toke vā goṣu tanaye yad (6.66.8, yam) apsu 6.25.4; 66.8
yaḥ (5.86.2, yā) pañca carṣan̄r abhi 5.86.2; 7.15.2; 9.101.9
ye cid dhi tvām̄ ṛṣayaḥ pūrva ūtaye 1.48.14; yac cid dhi vām̄ pura ṛṣayaḥ 1.48.14; 8.8.6
imaṁ stomam̄ juṣasva naḥ (8.43.16, me) 1.12.12; 8.43.16 mama (10.6.7, tam̄ te) devāso anu ketam̄ āyan̄ 4.26.2; 10.6.7
imām̄ ma (8.12.31, ta) indra suṣṭutim̄ 8.6.32; 12.31

Note a few cases of gratuitous change in pronominal stems and the like, under 1.16.6^a, 9^a; 5.35.5^a; 7.32.22^a.

Supplementary statement as to suspension of the Nati, as revealed by the repetitions.—Certain repeated pādas show that the alteration of initial s to ṣ at the beginning of a word by an alterant vowel in the last syllable of the preceding word is suspended in case that syllable itself contains ṣ. This may be seen in the last two words of the first two pādas as compared with the third in the following group:

çyeno na vaṁsu sīdati 9.57.3 (cf. RPr. v. 8)

The same phonetic contrast in two related pādas which are not repetitions of one another:

camūṣy ā ni sīdasi 9.63.2; 99.8

Also in scattered expressions like barhiṣi sadatam, 5.72.1; yajñeṣu sīdasi, 1.14.11; ni ṣu svapa, 7.55.2 ff., we may observe the suspended alteration. It must be considered in the light of dissimilation; antecedently we may guess that *yajñeṣu sīdasi, or the like, was cacophonous to the ears of the Vedic reciters. Compare RPr. v. 2 (323).

Perhaps the omission of the alteration of s in carṣan̄r-saḥ, as compared with rayi-saḥ, abhi-saḥ, çatrū-saḥ, &c., is similarly prevented by the preceding syllable n̄i.

CHAPTER IV : THE THEMES OF THE REPETITIONS

Stability or flexibility of the verses according as they are applied to the same or to different themes.—The themes of the repeated pādas cover in a way the entire range of Vedic thought and expression. That is to say, a very great deal that is stated in the Veda is repeated once, twice, or even more often in the same metrical units, pādas or stanzas. An account of the most prominent divinities can be rendered in 'double chalk': we should have a fairly connected natural history, e.g., of the god Indra, if we had nothing but the repeated pādas concerning him. The repeated verse lines concerning Indra amount to about 250. The same statement is approximately true of Agni and Soma. But an even larger number of pādas repeat statements not about one and the same god, but rather about two or more gods. Especially the broader and more general cosmic activities of the gods, such as establishing heaven and earth or placing the sun in the sky, are expressed to some extent in repeated formulaic pādas, and are applied indifferently to a large variety of divinities. The relations of the pious sacrificer to the gods; his prayers and requests addressed to the gods; his asseverations of piety; and summaries of the favours shown to him by the gods are stated in set, repeated formulas. Aside from the personal concerns of gods and men, identical similes and figures of speech and poetic turns of many sorts, involving the entire range of Vedic diction, frequently extend over entire verses. The last-mentioned class of repetitions furnishes, perhaps, the most complete and final expression of the 'school-character' of the diction which pervades to some extent every hymn of the Rīg-Veda. In this respect the hymns are unique, when regarded from the point of view of the general history of literature. This is so true as to invite the attention of the students of that subject with especial attractiveness.

of Indra that his valorous worshippers, 'disregarding their own bodies, make him their protector', ririkvānsas tanvaḥ kṛvata trām, 4.24.3, surely spoke before the poet who makes, in 1.72.9, a similar statement about Agni, in language that is by no means as clear. Or, on the other hand, Indra seems, in 10.119.13, to carry oblations to the gods, devebhyo havyavāhanaḥ (!): the intrinsic oddity of this assertion is shown up by the occurrence of devebhyo havyavāhana, as a verse-line epithet of Agni, three times, in 3.9.6; 10.118.5; 150.1; see under 3.9.6.

Formulaic lines and their adaptation to different themes.—Nothing, however, shows the advanced formalism or mechanicalness in the use of repeated materials as well as the following. The idea contained in a certain pāda assumes, to a considerable extent, the nature of an independent entity, and is fitted into situations which differ from one another sometimes a little and sometimes a good deal. When needful the wording of the pāda is accommodated to the differing situation, at times in such a way that we can distinguish neatly the adapted form from the original. These cases are of first-class interest and deserve to be illustrated quite fully:

In 1.142.3 Narācaṁsa, a form of Agni in an Āpri-hymn, is said to be çuciḥ pāvako adbhutaḥ, 'bright, pure, wonderful'; in 9.24.6 Soma Pavamāna is referred to in the same pāda; in 9.24.7 we have, again of Soma Pavamāna, the statement, çuciḥ pāvaka ucyate. Now, further, in 8.13.19 the words of these pādas are soldered together in a longer composite pāda (see p. 535), çuciḥ pāvaka ucyate so adbhutaḥ. This time these words are applied neither to Agni nor Soma, but, forsooth, to a devoted poet (stotā anuvrataḥ). By a bold figure of speech the standard qualities of these gods are adapted to the worshipper of these gods. The relative lateness of 8.13.19 is obvious. Similarly Uṣas is said to go straight on the path of the ṛta, 'cosmic law', in 1.124.3; 5.80.4 (ṛtasya panthām anv eti sādhu); the same statement about a sacrificer in 10.66.3 (ṛtasya panthām anv emi sādhu) shows the pāda, as a parenthesis, in secondary application, with ṛta in the sense of 'sacrificial canon'. A few other pādas are degraded, as it were, from their high position as describing divinities to sundry secondary subsidiary and lower uses. Goddess Aurora (Uṣas) is described as 'spreading farther and farther' in 1.124.5, vy u prathate vitaraṁ variyāḥ; the same statement is mere bathos, as applied to the sacrificial straw (barhis) in 10.110.4. The clever Ṛbhus are said in 3.60.3 to exert themselves laboriously and skilfully, viṣṭvi çamibhiḥ sukrtaḥ sukrtyayā; again, in 10.94.2, this poetic pāda has sunk to a description of the primarily insensate press-stones (grāvāṇaḥ). In 1.139.3 God Sūrya, like God Savitar, controls unfailing laws, deva iva savitā satyadharmaḥ; in the charm against gambling, 10.34.8, the same pāda figures irrelevantly, or at least obscurely. The pāda, devo na yaḥ savitā satyamanmā, like the one just mentioned, applies primarily to Agni in 1.73.2; secondarily to Soma in 9.97.48; see under 1.73.2^a. We may note in the preceding examples that the tenth book looms as the gathering place of secondary pādas, quite in keeping with its aloofness from the main purpose of the hieratic hymns (see p. xvi, l. 3).

Again, the pāda, yāhvī ṛtasya mātaraḥ, 'swift mothers of the cosmic order', is a standard formula applied to cosmic divinity pairs: to Night and Morn in the apri-stanzas, 1.142.7; 5.5.6 (probably also 9.102.7); to the two spheres of the world (Rodasī) in 10.59.8. But in 9.33.5 the formula is changed to the plural, yāhvī ṛtasya mātaraḥ, and applied loftily, yet secondarily, to the 'cows of prayer', brahmīḥ, who are the mothers of ṛta in the sense of 'sacrificial law', i.e., 'sacrifice'; see under 1.142.7^c. In 1.8.5 Indra's might is said to be as extensive as the sky, dyāur na prathinā çavaḥ; in 8.56 (Vāl. 8).1, a dānastuti, the same pāda figures loosely as an attribute of Dasyave Vṛka's generosity to sacrificing priests. In 1.35.10 Agni is implored to come hither kindly and helpfully, sumṛlikāḥ svavāḥ yātv arvāḥ; if this were not a sort of formula the tour de force which makes it possible to address the same prayer to the Aṇvins' chariot in 1.118.11 would be greater than it really is. Very similarly in 7.61.1 Sūrya is said to look upon all beings, abhi viçvāni bhuvanāni caṣṭe, and the same power is transferred to the inanimate car of Indra-Agni in 1.108.1. Little better is the transfer of the epithet jetāram aparājitam 'unconquered conqueror', from Indra in 1.11.2, to a steed furnished by Agni in 5.25.6.

The pāda, pari no (or vo) hetī rudrasya vṛjyāḥ, 'May Rudra's missile spare us', and the like, 2.33.14; 6.28.7, is continued in the poetry and prose of the Vedic texts in a considerable variety of forms, making up the following list, the items of which may be placed by means of my Concordance:

pari no (no) rudrasya hetī vṛṇaktu pari no hetī rudrasya vṛjyāḥ (vṛjyāt) pari tvā rudrasya hetī vṛṇaktu pari vo rudrasya hetī vṛṇaktu pari vo hetī rudrasya vṛjyāḥ (vṛjyāt)

At the base of these is probably an old rhythmic prose prayer which was freely adopted by poets and liturgists. Once, 7.84.2, occurs a parallel pāda, much changed in form and sense: pari no heḷo varuṇasya vṛjyāḥ, 'may the wrath of Varuṇa spare us'. It is possible, of course, that the similarity of the two forms is accidental, the instinctive expression in similar words of similar thought. Yet I think it more likely that the Rudra version served as the pattern of the Varuṇa version. The pāda, guhā hitaṁ guhyaṁ gulham apsu, occurs thrice: in 2.11.5 it is applied to Vṛtra-Ahi, the dragon 'hidden in the waters'. But in 3.39.6 and in 10.148.2 this is no longer certain. If, in these two cases, it should finally turn out to refer to madhu or soma, its various uses surely are critically important; see its discussion under 2.11.4^d. In 4.36.1, anaçvo jāto anabhiçur ukthyāḥ (sc. rathāḥ), a wonderful car which the Rbhus have contrived for the Aṇvins is described as 'going without horses without bridle, a fit subject for song of praise'. In 1.152.5, anaçvo jāto anabhiçur arvā, 'a steed which is after all no horse', &c., imitates very secondarily and fantastically the previous pāda; see under 1.152.5^a. I have reserved half a dozen or more cases of this sort to show (below, p. 578) how repeated pādas are adapted with or without change from their primary use in connexion with a given divinity to a clearly marked secondary use in connexion with another divinity whose case they fit badly, or not at all.

Verses containing figures of speech adapted to different situations.—

The mass of these formulaic pādas which shift their meaning more or less may be studied in their proper places in the body of this work. At times the shift is simple and natural, so easy as to preclude judgement as to priority; at other times the connexion and relation of the pādas are obscure and involve subjective, and therefore inconclusive criticism. They betray a rather surprising facility to adapt themselves to different connexions, and impress one occasionally as if the poets employed them as verse-fillers when they had nothing better to say that would go to make up the number of pādas requisite for a given stanza. Thus:

samudram iva sindhavaḥ, 'as rivers to the sea': of songs of praise which cause Indra to grow in strength, 8.6.35; of soma which enters Indra, 8.92.22; 9.108.16.

samudrāyeva sindhavaḥ, 'as rivers to the sea': of songs going to Agni, 8.44.25; of bending under Indra's anger, 8.6.4.

samudra iva pinvate, 'swells as the sea': of Indra's belly, 1.8.7; of a song of praise to Indra, 8.12.5. Cf. also under 8.3.4^b.

samudre na sindhavo yādamānāḥ 'as streams uniting in the sea': of wealth concentrated in Indra, 6.19.5; the same pāda in a disturbed form in 3.36.7 (q.v.), of worshippers bringing soma to Indra.

āpo na pravatā yatiḥ, 'as waters go down a hill': of the Kāṇvas' song, 8.6.34; of Indra's liberality, 8.13.8; of the flow of milk (gāvaḥ), 2.24.2. Cf. nimnaḥ na yanti sindhavaḥ 5.51.7. samudram na samcarane sanīṣyavaḥ. Obscure figure of speech in different applications, 1.56.2; 4.55.6.

yā parvateṣv oṣadhīṣv apsu, 'which are in the mountains, in plants, in the waters': of riches contained in Agni, 1.59.3; of Soma's homesteads (dhāmāni), 1.91.4. Cf. AV. 2.31.5.

pareṣu yā guhyeṣu vrāteṣu, 'which are in the highest secret laws' (obscurely mystic): of the seats of the Gods, 3.54.5; of the three Nirṛtis (Goddesses of Destruction), 10.114.2.

divi pravācyam kṛtaḥ (or, kṛtam), 'made a theme of praise in heaven': of the path of the Ādityas, 1.105.16; of Indra's heroic might, 2.22.4.

utso deva hiraṇyayaḥ ('thou art), O god, a spring of gold': of Indra as source of wealth, 8.61.6; of Soma's flow, 9.107.4.

anārambhane tamasi praviddham, 'cast into bottomless darkness': of Tugra's son, so treated by his father, 1.182.6; . . . pra vidhyatam, 'cast ye into bottomless darkness', prayer to Indra and Soma to punish evil-doers, 7.104.3.

yadā te marto anu bhogam ānat, 'when a mortal has come to the enjoyment of thee': in a hymn to Agni, 10.7.2; in praise of the horse at the horse-sacrifice, 1.163.7.

pari tmanā viṣurūpo jigāsi, 'by thyself thou goest about in diverse forms': of Agni, 5.15.4; pari tmanā viṣurūpā jigāti 'by herself she goes about in various forms': of the sacrificial ladle (in its various shapes), ghṛtācī, &c. (sc. juhū), 7.88.1.

salaksmā yad viṣurūpā bhavāti, 'that she who has the same character (origin) shall be as though of different kind': in the dialogue between Yama and Yamī, 10.10.2; apparently quoted from the same dialogue, but of obscure application, 10.12.6.

iyarti vācam ariteva nāvam, 'lets go his voice as an oarsman his boat': of a bird of omen, 2.42.1; of Soma, 9.95.2.

Verses ascribing creative or cosmic acts to the gods (Henotheism).—In the preceding cases repeated pādas betray their formulaic character in that they are established and freely handled as items of the poet's technique, used in more or less different connexions and ways. Such a pāda must originally have expressed but one idea; yet the various surroundings in which it appears manage to conform so well with the primary idea that we are rarely, if ever, able to say just how and when that idea arose. Another rather numerous class of repeated pādas is not very different, except that their original application, in the nature of the case, is even less easy to distinguish from their applied use. I mean the pādas which describe the larger creative or cosmic activities of the gods. Because the subject is every time a theoretically omnipotent god, we have no means of ruling him out from even the most extravagant ascriptions of these creative and cosmic powers. As is well known, the characters of the Vedic gods are as a rule made up of only a few essential traits, to which are added features, notably certain great cosmical functions, which they share with a number of other gods. We come here upon the theme which has been treated frequently under the name of 'henotheism'. I am quite of the opinion that the notion of henotheism is not to be taken very seriously in the Veda. In a literature which depends so largely upon liturgic setting, as the Rīg-Veda unquestionably does, every god as he takes his turn in the ritual is eo ipso, for the time being, of prime importance. The gods are figures in the ritualistic drama; they are much more important collectively than singly.¹ Their collective qualities are therefore easily transferred to each individual in turn. They also for the most part have a long past, rife with the chances of obliterating their individual traits, and consequent assimilation to one another. The statement is made, in 8.36.4, that Indra is the progenitor of heaven and earth (janitā divo janitā prthivyāḥ); the same statement is repeated of Soma in 9.98.4. It is, of course, impossible that both should be the father of the same children; what is more, we must not take the statement too seriously in either case, as an ultimate and sincere verity of Vedic or Aryan cosmology. Almost any other god would do equally well²; such an assertion in the Rīg-Veda is a mere manner of speaking. This seems to me to be brought out by the cumulative testimony of these cosmic or creative pādas, as we may call them for short.

List of verses mentioning creative or cosmic acts.—Here we have, first of all, the vacillating notions of the poets as to who established, begot, built, filled, or controlled the two cosmic hemispheres (rodasī, rajasī), or heaven and earth:

vi yas tastambha rodasī: of Pavamāna Soma, 9.101.15; ... rodasī cid urvī, of Varuṇa, 7.86.1. vi yo mame rajasī sukratūyayā: of Sūrya, 1.160.4; ... rajaṁsī amimīta sukratuh, of Vāiṣṇava, 6.7.7. Cf. yo rajaṁsī vimame pārthivāni, of Viṣṇu, 6.40.13.

They also for the most part have a long past, rife with the chances of obliterating their individual traits, and consequent assimilation to one another. The statement is made, in 8.36.4, that Indra is the progenitor of heaven and earth (janitā divo janitā prthivyāḥ); the same statement is repeated of Soma in 9.98.4. It is, of course, impossible that both should be the father of the same children; what is more, we must not take the statement too seriously in either case, as an ultimate and sincere verity of Vedic or Aryan cosmology. Almost any other god would do equally well²; such an assertion in the Rig-Veda is a mere manner of speaking. This seems to me to be brought out by the cumulative testimony of these cosmic or creative pādas, as we may call them for short.

List of verses mentioning creative or cosmic acts.—Here we have, first of all, the vacillating notions of the poets as to who established, begot, built, filled, or controlled the two cosmic hemispheres (rodasī, rajasī), or heaven and earth:

āpapruṣī pārthivāny uru rajo antarikṣam: of Sarasvatī, 6.61.11; ā paprāu pārthivam rajaḥ: of Indra, 1.81.5.

ā rodasī aprṇā (or, aprṇā) jāyamānaḥ: of Agni, 3.6.2; 10.45.6; of Vaiṣvānara, 7.13.2; of Indra, 4.18.5.

āpaprivān rodasī antarikṣam: of Agni, 1.73.8; of Sūrya, 10.139.2.

ubhe ā paprāu rodasī mahitvā: of Indra, 3.54.15; 4.16.5; of Sūrya, 8.25.18.

janitā divo janitā prthivyāḥ: of Indra, 8.36.4; of Soma Pavamāna, 9.98.4. Cf. above, p. 575.
divaḥ ca gmaḥ ca rājasi: of Varuṇa, 1.25.20; ... rājathah, of Indra and some other divinity, 5.38.3.

ap Rathayan prthivīm mātaram vi: of Aṅgirasah, 10.62.3; aprathataṁ, &c., of Indra and Soma, 6.72.2. Cf. sa dhārayat prthivīm paprathac ca, of Indra, 1.103.2; 2.15.2.

paro divā para enā prthivyā: of Viṣvakarman, 10.82.5; of Vāc, 10.125.8.

saṁ kṣoṇī sam u sūryam: (sc. dadhuḥ) of Maruts, 8.7.22; (sc. adhūnuta) of Indra, 8.52 (Vāl. 4).10.

Cosmic acts connected with the sun and heaven and light.—Next of divine attributes in scope and importance are those which ascribe to different gods the act of placing the sun in the sky; illumining the spaces of the heavens (rocanā); or dwelling in, or coming from the heavens or their shining regions: ā sūryam rohayad (or, rohayo) divi: of Indra, 1.7.3; 8.89.7; of Pavamāna Soma, 9.107.7; of Agni, 10.156.4. Cf. 7.78.3, and also under 1.32.4°; 6.44.23°.

tvaṁ sūryam rocayaḥ: of Indra, 8.98.2; yayā sūryam rocayaḥ: of Soma, 9.63.7.

viṣvam ā bhāsi (or, bhāti) rocanam: of Uṣas, 1.49.4; of Sūrya, 1.10.4; of Indra, 3.44.4.

vibhrājaṁ jyotiṣā svar agacho rocanam divaḥ: of Indra, 8.98.3; of Sūrya, 10.170.4.

divaḥ cid rocanād adhi: of Uṣas, 1.49.1; of Maruts, 5.56.1; of Aṇvins, 8.8.7.

trī rocanā divyā dhārayanta: of Ādityas, 2.27.9; of Indra (with Ādityas), 5.29.1.

trīṣv ā rocane divaḥ: of Viṣve Devāḥ, 1.105.5; of Soma in a hymn to Indra, 8.69.8. Cf. trītye prṣṭhe adhi rocane divaḥ, of Soma, 9.86.27.

nāma trītyam adhi rocane divaḥ: in a hymn to Viṣṇu and Indra, 1.155.3; to Pavamāna Soma, 9.75.2.

ubhā devā diviṣprṇā: of Indra and Vāyu, 1.23.2; of Aṇvins, 1.22.2.

saṁ sūryeṇa rocace (or, rocate): of Uṣas, 8.9.18; of Pavamāna Soma, 9.2.6.

ā yad yoniṁ hiranyayam: (sc. sadathah) of Mitra and Varuṇa, 5.67.2; (sc. sīdati) of Pavamāna Soma, 9.64.20.

madhye divaḥ svadhayā mādayante: of Pitarah, 10.15.14; ... mādayethe, of Indra and Agni, 1.108.12.

Control of the world and its creatures and its laws by the gods.—In another group of set pādas different gods are placed in control of the world, or of particular parts of the world; of its creatures, and of the races or clans of men; of the sacrifice and divine law; of the prosperity of gods; and of universal power:

sa retodhā vṛṣabhaḥ caṇvatinām: of Parjanya, 7.101.6; of a Tvaṣṭar-like god, 3.56.3.

viṣvasya sthātur jagato janitriḥ: of the Waters, 6.50.7; ... jagataḥ ca gopāu, of Mitra and Varuṇa, 7.60.2; ... jagataḥ ca mantavaḥ, of Viṣve Devāḥ, 10.63.8. Cf. 4.53.6.

dhartārā carṣaṇinām: of Indra and Agni, 1.17.2; of Mitra and Varuṇa, 5.66.3.

samrājāṁ carṣaṇinām: of Agni, 3.10.1; of Indra, 10.134.1. Cf. dhartāraṁ mānuṣiṇām, of Agni, 5.9.3.

viṣvā yaḥ carṣaṇir abhi: of Indra, 1.86.5; of Agni, 4.7.4; 5.23.1.

yaḥ pañca carṣaṇir abhi: of Agni, 7.15.2; of Pavamāna Soma, 9.101.9; yā, &c., of Indra and Agni.

viṣā sindhūnām viṣabhaṣṭiyānām : of Indra, 6.44.21 ; netā sindhūnām, &c., of Vaiṣvānara, 7.5.2
imam ca naḥ prthivīm viṣvadhāyā upakṣeti hitamitrona rājā : of Indra, 3.55.21 ; devo na yaḥ prthivīm, &c., of Agni, 1.73.3
urum yajñāya cakrathur u lokam : of Indra and Viṣṇu, 7.94.4 ; of Agni and Soma, 1.93.6
agnir deveṣu patyate 8.102.9 ; indur deveṣu patyate 9.45.4
tantum tanuṣva pūrvyam : of Agni, 1.142.1 ; ... pūrvyam yathā vide, of Indra, 8.13.14 yūyam ṛtasya rathyah : of Ādityās, 7.66.12 ; of Viṣve Devāḥ, 8.83.3. Cf. ṛtasya sāman (4.7.7, dhāman) raṇayanta devāḥ 1.147.1 ; 4.7.7
devo na yaḥ savitā satyamanmā : of Agni, 1.73.2 ; of Pavamāna Soma, 9.97.48
ṛju marteṣu vṛjinā ca paçyan : of Agni, 4.1.17 ; of Sūra, 6.51.2 ; of Sūrya, 7.60.2
yudhā devebhyo varivaç cakartha : of Vaiṣvānara, 1.59.5 ; of Indra, 7.98.3
uru jyotiṣ cakrathur āryāya : of Aṇvins, 1.117.21 ; uru jyotir janayann āryāya, of Vaiṣvānara, 7.5.6
haste dadhāno naryā purūni : of Agni, 1.72.1 ; of Savitar, 7.45.1
sadyo jajñāno havyo babhūtha : of Agni, 10.6.7 ; ... babhūva, of Indra, 8.96.21

Verses expressing more general ideas that befit a religious text.—In the preceding cases of repeated pādas the question of primary origin and secondary use suggests itself everywhere, and yet cannot, as a rule, be answered. It is therefore not surprising that there is a large stock of other, less personal verses which represent merely a habit of expressing a familiar or constantly needed idea in a fixed form. The expression, as a rule, fits one place about as well as another, and offers by itself no chronological indication of any kind. I mean the pādas in which are told the more general sentiments or desires that are likely to crop out in any religious poetry. They involve on the one hand the rhetoric that fits such a literature, on the other the large body of ideas that deal with the mutual relations that are imagined to exist between gods and men. Both of these tend to run in definite grooves, presenting results of much selection and old habit. At times such expressions border upon the yet more habitual or mechanical domain of the refrains (see Part 3, section 3).

A complete or perfect classification of repeated pādas of this sort is, from the nature of the case, impossible ; yet they group themselves largely in such a way as to bring out the main lines of thought which engaged the minds of the Vedic poets, in distinction from ritualistic and mythological conceptions. The following lists are to be supplemented at some points by those which have been treated above (pp. 571 ff.).

Expiatory formulas and the like

Passages which deal with sin against the gods and its expiation begin to take on set forms in the Rig-Veda. In the later ritual literature this theme (prāyaścitta) grows in importance and in definiteness of statement, as when, e.g., the expiatory stanza, RV. 4.2.14, starts a long train of similar products, TB. 3.7.12.3; TA. 2.3.1; 10.24; BDh. 2.4.7; 4.1.3¹. The following repeated pādas belong to this sphere; it would be an easy task to collect from the later mantras further parallels in large numbers; see Bloomfield, The Atharva-Veda, p. 83 ff., and especially note 3 at the bottom of p. 85:

Rivalry for the favour and presence of the gods

The marked notion that the gods cannot be in several places at the same time; that, therefore, their attendance upon one's own sacrifice must be secured by special cajolery, is an important Rig-Vedic theme. I have dealt with this recently in a sufficiently exhaustive manner in my paper 'On conflicting prayers and sacrifices', Johns Hopkins University Circulars, 1906, nr. 10, pp. 1049 ff. The following group of repeated verses and distichs bears directly upon this topic:

mā rīraman yajamānāso anye 2.18.3; 3.35.5. Cf. 10.160.1, mā tvā yajamānāso anye ni rīraman.

Figures of Speech and Formulas

A considerable number of similes, either extending over an entire pāda, or occupying most of it, have become set formulas repeated one or more times. I have treated a number of these above (p. 574) by way of illustrating the different surroundings and connexions in which such a formulaic pāda may be encased. In this rubric pādas which involve figures of speech are gathered together as fully as possible. Especially noticeable is the group of pādas which describe ready motion or action by the simile of waters on the way to the sea; or waters going down a hill; or, again, those which compare abundance with the ocean itself:

 samudrāyeva sindhavaḥ 8.6.4; 44.25 samudra (10.62.9, vi sindhur) iva paprathe 8.3.4; 10.62.9

samudre na (3.36.7, samudreṇa) sindhavo yādamānāḥ 3.36.7; 6.19.5
 samudraṁ na saṁcarane saṁśyavaḥ 1.56.2; 4.55.6

 samudra iva pinvate 1.8.7; 8.12.5
 Cf. also under 6.44.20^b.

The following contains the pādas which are largely taken up with poetic figures of speech of considerable variety of theme; and contains, in addition, quite a group of statements which have assumed a marked formulaic character.

Repetitions relating to the gods

The culminating circumstance in Rig-Veda repetitions is their relation to the individual gods. The phenomena present themselves under two main aspects, one about as important as the other. First, identical or nearly identical pādas, distichs, or stanzas are used two or more times of the same god, but of no other god. Secondly, the same kind of units may be used of different gods.

Repetitions relating to one and the same god.—As regards the first class, there is frequently no reason why the same expression should not be employed with one god as well as another. For example, vaṁsvā no vāryā puru is addressed to Agni only, 8.23.27; 60.14; in like wise, devaṁ martāsa ūtaye (havāmahe, or the like) to the same god, 1.144.5; 3.9.1; 5.22.3; 8.11.6. It is a mere accident that these pādas are not used, e.g., in connexion with Indra; they fit him just as well. In most cases, however, the pādas repeated in the service of a particular god present themselves as salient and standard expressions of his particular character and activity, in distinction from other gods. They are, as it were, his Leit-motifs, in the Wagnerian sense. We can tell from the pāda itself what god is meant; an occasional infringement is in the nature of an oddity. So, e.g., the testimony of the pāda, agne devāṁ ihā vaha, 1.12.3, 10; 15.4, is not needed to show that the following pādas belong to Agni:

- sa devāṁ eha vakṣati 1.1.2; 4.8.2
 devāṁ ā vitaye vaha 5.26.2; 7.16.4

In the same way we know that Agni is the subject of havyavāham amartyam, 3.10.9, &c.; or of yajisṭho havyavāhanaḥ and the like in 1.36.10, &c.; or of devebhyo havyavāhana in 3.9.6, &c. It comes, therefore, in the nature of a surprise to find the pāda devebhyo havyavāhanah apparently attributed to Indra in 10.119.13; see under 3.9.6.

Indra's character is particularly marked on account of the feats which he performs, and the names of the demons which he slays. I have been tempted to write what would be an approximately complete history of Indra in passages repeated one or more times, but have refrained because the classified list of his double or multiple pādas given below (pp. 592 ff.) speaks for itself; see especially under the heading, 'Indra as demiurge and cosmic power', on p. 593. The most conspicuous and at the same time most monotonous mass of repetitions is in the ninth book, the collection of pavamāna-stotras; here practically every important statement about the preparation of the drink and cult of the god Soma is repeated ad nauseam. This is so because the ninth book is the collective Soma-book of all the Vedic Rishis fused by the redactors into a single corpus,¹ to be recited by the udgātars. Either the ritual aspect of these hymns was so obvious and compelling as to override any other consideration; or, the hymns themselves, being associated with the traditional Rishi families only to a minor extent, and in a confused manner, resisted attempts at profitable historical arrangement. See Ludwig, Der Rig-Veda, vol. iii, p. 43; Oldenberg, Prol. p. 249 ff.; Geldner, Ved. Stud. iii. 99; and below, p. 644.

Other gods have their salient pādas repeated in proportion to the number of hymns devoted to their service. So particularly the Aṣvins, because of their wonderful deeds; the Maruts, because they are the most picturesque of the multiple gods; Uṣas, because of her very own grace and beauty which just miss quite covering up the angularity of her ritual skeleton.² To a lesser extent the old Ādityas, with Mitra and Varuṇa at their head, because their abstract and ethical qualities are not plastic, and tend to be stated in the same words. Even the few hymns to the Ṛbhus speak in formulaic pādas of their very fine magic work³ as contrivers of all sorts of wonderful objects. The repeated pādas are the vertebrae of the bodies of the gods.

Repetitions relating to different gods.—On the other hand, identical or nearly identical pādas are attributed to different gods. In the main this touches their character and their ritual treatment at points where they are naturally alike, similar, or indifferent. No comment is needed in regard to the use, e.g., of the pādas, iṇānam vāryānam in connexion with Indra, 1.5.2; with Savitar, 1.24.3; iṇānā vāryānam with the Waters, 10.9.5; iṇe yo vāryānam with Agni, 8.71.13; or, iṇānam rāya imahe with Pūṣan, 6.54.8; with Vāyu, 8.26.22; with Indra, 8.53(Vāl. 5).1. Such, and many similar statements fit every Vedic god, clear up to the abstract Hiranyagarbha-Prajāpati to whom is addressed in

³ Cf. their nivid, Ṛg. 8.20: . . . viṣṭvī svapasah, karmanā suhastāḥ, . . . ṇamā ṇamiṣṭhāḥ, ṇamā ṇamiṣṭhāḥ . . . citrāṇ citrābhīr ūtibhiḥ.

10.121.10 the frequent prayer, 'may we be lords of riches'! (vayaṁ syāma patayo rayiṇām). Or, again, it is natural to say of both Uṣas and Sūrya that 'they create light for all the world', jyotir viçvasmāi bhuvanāya kṛṇvati (kṛṇvan), 1.92.4; 4.14.2. I have shown above (pp. 575 ff.) that the broader cosmic activities are, according to settled Vedic habit of thought, attributed to many of the gods in turn. E.g. Indra, Agni, and Pavamāna Soma each places the sun in the sky. We may regard it as a principle, that the application of the same pāda to different gods, when general ideas of any sort are involved, does not signify anything in Vedic interpretation or criticism beyond the fact that the gods are felt, syncretically, to be a good deal of one and the same sort. Bergaigne's interesting theory about the mythic identity in heaven of Agni and Soma, in distinction from their material and ritualistic individuality upon earth (La Religion Védique, i. 165 ff.), does not derive much aid and comfort from the repeated pādas which concern the two gods.¹ They are not very numerous, and they are precisely of the sort spoken of just now: general, broadly cosmic, or rhetorical; see p. 612, below. At most we may remember that both are mighty gods; are brilliantly luminous²; have descended from heaven; and are the main factors in the ritual. It is therefore natural that they should be correlated, and that their correlation should at times be exaggerated beyond the point of intrinsic fitness.

Some nice points of Vedic criticism, especially as regards relative date, attach themselves to pādas repeated in connexion with different gods. The mechanical imitateness, and the tangle of ideas which, I am sure, had become habitual with the Vedic poets even before the time of the Rig-Veda redaction, comes out very strongly in these transfers from god to god. In the body of this work many repeated passages definitely show these qualities in one of the parallel forms; in many others we suspect it without being able to render clear proof.

Repetitions containing similes based on verses containing direct statements.—This matter has been alluded to above (p. 574); it may be well to illustrate it by additional examples, and in connexion with a variety of gods involved. Thus particularly it is interesting to observe that the poets occasionally compare one god with another in such a way that the original and the compared are clearly distinguished: the compared is palpably secondary. The statement is made three times that 'Savitar has placed a light or beacon on high':

ūrdhvaṁ ketuṁ savitā devo açret 4.14.2

If, now, we find the statement about Agni, that he 'like Savitar has placed a light on high':

ūrdhvaṁ bhānuṁ savitevāçret 4.6.2

there can be no doubt that this pāda is patterned after the other three.

² Cf. çardhan tamāṁsi jighnase, of Agni 8.43.32; of Soma 9.61.19. In 9.96.17^b Soma as vahni is assimilated to Agni, but so are other gods.

In 1.73.3 it is declared that Agni like a god, nourishing all beings, dwells upon the earth, &c., devo na yaḥ pṛthivīm viṣvadhāyā upakṣeti, &c. This, of itself, would pass well enough, that is to say, without arousing any kind of critical alertness. Yet we might note how bathetic is the statement that Agni does anything at all like a god. For in the Rig-Veda Agni is himself a god. We find, however, the same statement without comparison made in regard to Indra in 3.55.21, imām ca naḥ pṛthivīm viṣvadhāyā upakṣeti, &c. At once it is clear that the deva with whom Agni is compared is the deva par excellence, Indra, the god and king. For this and other reasons, which may be studied under 1.73.3, the latter stanza betrays itself as an imitation of 3.55.21.

An excellent example is furnished by the relation of 5.80.6 to 6.50.8. In the latter stanza it is stated that Savitar unfolds treasures for the pious like the face of Uṣas, yo . . . uṣaso na pratikaṁ vyūrṇute dācuṣe vāryāni. The comparison is rather forced; the poet is reminded of Uṣas' brightness, because he has in very fact borrowed the pāda, vyūrṇute dācuṣe vāryāni, from the Uṣas stanza 5.80.6, vyūrṇvatī dācuṣe vāryāni.

Another case of this sort is involved in the relation of 9.101.7 to 8.31.11 (q. v.), where Soma is boldly assimilated to Pūṣan by means of a pāda borrowed from the sphere of Pūṣan. Cf. my remark on ṛṇviṣe under 4.19.5^d.

Verses clearly transferred from one god to another.—We may now illustrate, by additional examples, the transfer of pādas from god to god, as part of the broader chapter of transfer of pādas from primary to secondary use (cf. above, p. 573).

In 3.10.9 the inspired Seers when they have awakened are said to kindle Agni, taṁ tvā viprā vipanyavo jāgrvānsaḥ sam indhate. In 1.22.21 the same statement is made, except that Viṣṇu's highest step is substituted for Agni: tad viprāso vipanyavo jāgrvānsaḥ sam indhate (sc. viṣṇor yat paramaṁ padam). Without doubt 3.10.9 is primary; see under 1.22.21^{ab}.

Agni is said to irradiate or rule the sacrifice, rājantam adhvarāṇām, 1.1.8; 45.4; samrājantam adhvarāṇām, 1.27.1. The epithet rājantāv adhvarāṇām, attributed to the Aṅvins in 8.8.18, is secondary. See under 1.1.8^a where are discussed the relative dates of all three forms of the pāda.

In 6.66.1, in a stanza to the Maruts, we have the statement, sakṛc chukraṁ duduhe pṛṇir ūdhaḥ, 'but once did Pṛṇi milk her bright udder'. I have spoken of the tangled sophistry of some Vedic ideas. The change certainly hits the author of 4.3.10. This is addressed to Agni, vṛṣā cūkraṁ duduhe pṛṇir ūdhaḥ, 'he a bull, a Pṛṇi, milks his bright udder'; see under 4.3.10^d.

In 5.15.4 Agni is described in the fitting pāda, pari tmanā viṣurūpo jigāsi, 'of thyself thou goest about in various shapes'. In 7.84.1 we have essentially the same pāda, pari tmanā viṣurūpā jigāti, attributed to the ghṛtāci (sc. juhū), the personified sacrificial ladle. I have explained how the ladle may be regarded as of many shapes, and pointed out that the pāda involving this statement is pretty certainly patterned after the Agni pāda; see under 5.14.4^d.

In 6.49.10 the Rudra pāda, br̥hantam ṛṣvam ajaraṁ suṣumnam, is adapted from the Indra pāda, br̥hantam ṛṣvam ajaraṁ yuvānam, 3.32.7; 6.19.2; see under 3.32.7^b.

In 5.83.1 the pāda, stuhi parjanyaṁ namaṣā vivāsa, requires no commentary; the parallel pāda, 8.96.12, stuhi suṣṭutīm namaṣā vivāsa, is clap-trap. Cf. my Religion of the Veda, p. 206.

Three classes of repetitions relating to the gods.—The repeated pādas that concern the gods may be primarily and roughly classified under three heads, according as their theme is one or two or more divinities. Thus:

Class A: Repetitions relating to the same god or group of divinities (p. 589).

Class B: Repetitions relating to two different gods or groups of divinities (p. 610).

Class C: Repetitions relating to more than two divinities (p. 631).

As regards the first class, the repetitions naturally bring out the commoner conceptions of the gods—what we may call the average conceptions. In the case of gods of many hymns, especially Agni, Indra, and Soma, the repeated materials are classifiable in accordance with these gods' most familiar traits, and they present a fairly complete Rig-Vedic portrait of these gods. As regards the third class, namely, the repeated pādas which are applied to more than two divinities, they tend to colourless formulaic statements applicable to the gods in general. They illustrate in a conspicuous manner the syncretism of Vedic mythologic ideas, but they are rarely of critical importance. As regards the second class, namely, the pādas which belong to two gods alone, they occur in large numbers, and establish relations between almost any two mentionable Rig-Vedic personalities. This class, on the one hand, illustrates, like the preceding, the enormous mix-up of mythological ideas in the Rig-Veda; on the other, it challenges in many cases judgement as to priority of the ideas involved (see above, p. 587). The question often asked, and not always answered, is, which of the two divinities concerned is the primary subject of a given statement, and which the secondary. Occasionally the question arises whether an entire class of statements belongs originally to one god or another. So in the list, Agni and Indra (p. 611) there are a considerable number of repeated pādas which exhibit both gods, in the same words, as warlike and victorious. Is this equally natural for both gods, or have the qualities of the true war-god Indra in some measure been transferred to Agni? The second alternative is, of course, more probable. My collections present the raw materials for the consideration of such questions, but I have restricted my own conclusions, in the main, to exceptionally clear cases, which, being stated in the body of the work, are not here repeated.

CLASS A : REPETITIONS RELATING TO THE SAME GOD OR GROUP OF DIVINITIES¹

Agni

The repetitions concerning Agni alone number nearly 200. They present a fairly complete account of the character of the god in the Rig-Veda, and may be arranged as follows : Agni as burning, shining, consuming, and pervading fire ; Agni as mediator and messenger between men and gods ; Agni as embodiment of priesthood ; Agni as oblation-bearer and leader of the sacrifice ; mythological and cosmic aspects of Agni ; Agni as protector and enricher of men ; Agni as recipient of praise and sacrifice.

In 6.49.10 the Rudra pāda, br̥hantam ṛṣvam ajaram suṣumnam, is adapted from the Indra pāda, br̥hantam ṛṣvam ajaram yuvānam, 3.32.7; 6.19.2; see under 3.32.7^b.

Indra

General statement.—The repetitions concerning Indra alone number 250. Indra's chief traits, on the evidence of the repetitions, are two : first, his quality of demiurge, particularly as slayer of demons, and yet more particularly as slayer of Vṛtra-Ahi and liberator of the rivers or waters ; second, his conspicuous position as chief consumer of soma. In both these respects the repetitions present Indra's history and character with approximate completeness, twice, sometimes thrice. More specifically Indra's traits, repeated in metrical units, present themselves under the following heads : Indra as demiurge ; Indra as cosmic power and his relation to other gods ; Indra's warlike might ; Indra as chief consumer of soma; Indra as protector and enricher of men; Indra as recipient of praise and sacrifice. The rubric, Indra as chief consumer of soma, is to be supplemented by the corresponding rubric, Soma benefits Indra and other gods, under the head of Soma (p. 600); the latter treats essentially the same theme from the point of view of Soma Pavamāna of the ninth maṇḍala.

Soma

General statement.—The repetitions concerning Soma alone number 200, the majority of them coming from the ninth maṇḍala, the Pavamāna book (see above, p. 585). The ratio of the repetitions to the entire mass contained in that book is greater than in any other Vedic collection; hence they come nearer giving a complete picture of the drink, or the god than in the case of any other god. No attempt is made here to separate the ritual drink from the personified god, if for no other reason, because the texts themselves fail to do so. Soma is intimately connected with Indra ; therefore many passages of the ninth book, though primarily Soma-passages, belong to Indra as well ; see the rubric, Soma benefits Indra and other gods (p. 600 ; cf. 9.97.5). Soma's repeated pādas may be arranged under the following heads : Ritual preparation of Soma (washing and cleaning ; straining ; pressing and flowing and clearing) ; Soma and his admixtures ; Soma and his vessels ; Soma benefits Indra and other gods ; Soma as protector and enricher of men ; Soma's divine and other qualities ; Soma-worship. The boundary line between these rubrics is often effaced, because one and the same passage presents more than a single aspect of the plant, fluid, or god.

Açvins

General statement.—The repetitions concerning the Açvins alone number close to 70. They are sufficient to bring to light some of the leading feats of the Açvins, as succourers from distress and genii that perform kind and helpful acts. Especial prominence is given to the wonderful car of the Açvins which helps to establish their later description as tramp physicians (e.g. ÇB. 4.1.5). The repeated Açvin verses are classified as follows: Wonderful deeds of the Açvins; Açvins' chariot; Açvins as protectors and enrichers of men; Açvins as recipients of praise and sacrifice.

Āditya-group: Mitra, Varuṇa, Aryaman, Aditi

General Statement.—In this rubric are collected promiscuously the repeated pādas, addressed to the Ādityas generically; to Varuṇa alone; to Mitra and Varuṇa together; to both of these with Aryaman as third; and to Aditi who, for the most part, goes with the Ādityas. These groups and individuals are treated in the same religious spirit. The place which with other divinities is occupied by mythological description is here taken by insistence upon ethical qualities, with the word ṛta or its derivatives in the foreground. The pādas are grouped under the following heads: Ādityas as upholders of the divine order, or as endowed with other lofty qualities; Ādityas as protectors and enrichers of men; worship of Ādityas in general.

Ṛbhus

The special quality of the Ṛbhus as cunning artificers or magic contrivers comes out in four of their five repeated pādas ; cf. p. 18 :

niç carmaṇo gām ariṇīta dhītibhiḥ 1.161.7 ; 4.36.4

ekaṁ vicakra camasaṁ caturdhā (4.36.4, caturvayam) 4.35.2 ; 36.4

Vāyu

The span of Vāyu, the so-called niyutaḥ (Nighaṇṭu 1.15 ; Bṛhaddevatā 4.140), and Vāyu's character as a charioteer appear prominently in these repeated pādas. Note that there is only one repeated pāda pertaining to Vāta, Vāyu's later and less personal double (5.78.8 : 10.23.4) :

Āpri-divinities

The following repeated pādas serve to illustrate the close parallelism of the themes of the Āpri ; the regularity, on the whole, of their arrangement in the hymns ; and the formulaic character of the language addressed to their divinities and ritual objects. See above, p. 16 bottom. Hymns 1.13 and 1.142 share no less than six of these pādas ; stanzas 3.4.7–11 are identical with 7.2.7–11 ; see p. 17.

Dissimilar Dual Gods or Devatādvandvas

General statement.—Repeated pādas addressed to dual divinities, such as the Aṇvins on the one hand, or Indra and Agni on the other, are in the main given to such generalities as fit indifferently the character of either god of the pair. This indifference is shown even more clearly in the case of such repeated pādas as are applied to two or more pairs of dual divinities (below, p. 628). The ritualistic origin of the dissimilar combinations is reflected in all these repetitions; cf. Hillebrandt, Ved. Myth. iii. 294 ff. The degree of dissimilarity varies in different pairs. Of course, the Aṇvins, later differentiated as Dasra and Nāsadya, are not dissimilar at all. The Dāivyāu Hotarāu of the Āpri-stanzas are an undifferentiated, colourless unit. Mitra and Varuṇa also, although each exists independently, represent, whenever they occur together, whether in or out of the dual, the same ancient ethical Āditya conception. Similarly Naktośasā or Uśāsānakta represent in reality the unit idea of the junction (saṁdhyā), or seam between night and morn, and that, too, ritualistically; that is to say, they represent the beginning of the ritual day much as does Uśas by herself. In the following list the Aṇvins are left out because they have been treated above (p. 602). Also, the pair Mitra and Varuṇa, whether they occur singly by the side of one another, or in devatādvandva, may be easily gathered up from the rubric 'Āditya-group' (p. 605). The repetitions concerning Uśāsānakta and Dāivyā Hotarā are listed under the Āpri-pādas (p. 608). The remaining repetitions are addressed to dissimilar dual divinities, either in the Vedic double dual (devatādvandva), or in the singular, side by side, to wit:

Indra and Agni

CLASS B : REPETITIONS RELATING TO TWO DIFFERENT GODS OR GROUPS OF DIVINITIES

General statement.—The mass of repetitions which concern two gods or groups of gods is large, perhaps, as a whole, out of proportion to its significance (cf. above, p. 585). In the majority of cases it is difficult to detect any very great meaning in this extensive use of the same verses in connexion with two different divinities, because their value is of that general sort which makes them applicable indifferently to more than one god. For the most part these repetitions do not touch the most peculiar qualities of a given god, what may be called his leitmotifs. E.g., Indra's heroic fight against Vṛtra for the waters or rivers does not figure in the pādas which belong to Indra and Agni, though both gods are warrior gods, and share quite a number of pādas redolent of war. If we find, on the other hand, that Indra and the Maruts are assimilated rather more closely (p. 616), this is due to the official position of the Maruts as Indra's Myrmidons. Again, however, the repetitions do not touch really the most intimate qualities of either.

That the difference between the gods is felt is shown in this that a good many of the repetitions contain variations which do justice, sometimes very neatly, to the different characters of the two gods (see above, p. 587) ; at times, again, the same expression has really a slightly different sense in its two applications. So, e.g., sadyo jajñāno havyo babhūtha (or, babhūva) is applied to Indra in 8.96.21 ; to Agni in 10.6.7. In the former case it refers to the youthful exploits of Indra which render him worthy of adoration ; in the latter case the meaning is, more simply, that Agni flares up quickly, and so becomes at once fit for sacrifice. Throughout it is a question of detail, rather than a question of far-reaching mythological principle or tendency.

What these repetitions really do show are the settled habits of expression, the imitateness, and, underneath the glittering wealth of Vedic diction, a certain mental sterility on the part of the Vedic poets of historical times. This is supported, as we know, by that henotheistic indifference to the special mythological and ritual character of the individual gods which we have tried to put into the right light above (p. 575).

The lists given in the present class may be supplemented at the proper points from the following (third) general class in the manner indicated above, p. 588.

Agni with other divinities

Agni and Indra

The two gods share something like 50 items. This number is increased still further in the third general class, which contains a considerable number of cases that belong in common to Agni and Indra and some additional god. More than half the items under the present rubric deal in general terms with the benevolence of the two gods and the piety of their worshippers. As for the remainder, the chief emphasis is upon the warlike character of both gods; they share also some cosmic qualities. The pair Indrāgni (above, p. 609) does not add anything to this account (cf. Hillebrandt, Ved. Myth. ii. 294 ff.). Also, the pādas which Indrāgni share with other dual gods (below, p. 629) exhibit no signs of real individuality:

Agni and Soma

The repetitions which belong to these two gods, 20 in number, show in part the close ritual relationship of the two gods; in part their assumed origin in heaven. They do not point to any general mythic identification; see above, p. 586, and cf. Hillebrandt, Ved. Myth. i. 330 ff., 458 ff.:

Indra with other divinities

Indra and Agni: see Agni and Indra, p. 611.

Indra and Soma

The connexion and alliance between Indra and Soma, is peculiarly close and intimate: Soma is Indra's beloved friend, 5.31.12; 9.98.6; see Bergaigne's collections, i. 217-219; ii. 251-253; 263-265. Indu, of course, is a synonym of Soma; cf. SV. 2.231^a with RV. 9.62.9^a. The names Indu and Indra are occasionally put together rather playfully, e.g. 9.5.9; 63.9. In one repetition, ā na indra (9.65.13, indo) mahīm iṣam, 8.6.23; 9.65.13, the two words and some of their attributes interchange. Indu delights in Indra's friendship: indav (or indur) indrasya sakhyam juṣāṇaḥ, 8.48.2; 9.97.11. Cf. also 9.27.6; 66.28. I do not believe that it follows from this that there is any etymological connexion between the two words (so Bergaigne ii. 244, and others), or that there is any mythological or mystic identification of the two. Statements that fit Indra fit also his inspirer, Soma-Indu, and vice versa; see Hillebrandt, Ved. Myth. i. 314 ff. In general, passages redolent of battle are primarily Indra passages; see e.g. under 8.32.2. Similarly cosmic statements, e.g. 8.3.6 and 9.28.5. The following 30 repetitions must be supplemented by the Indra passages (above, p. 595) which exhibit Indra as the chief consumer of soma, and the Soma passages (above, p. 600) in which Soma benefits Indra as well as other gods. Occasionally this relation is calculated to clarify a passage descriptive of either god, as when, e.g. the pāda, utso deva hiraṇyayaḥ, applies primarily to Soma in 9.107.4, secondarily to Indra 8.61.6 (see under 8.61.6):

Ādityas with other divinities

The correspondence of pādas addressed to Mitra, Mitra-Varuṇa, and the Ādityas, with pādas of other divinities is such as to make convenient here a rather different arrangement from that of the preceding and following cases; cf. above, p. 605. I have listed first the pādas which Varuṇa alone shares with other gods. Next those which Mitra and Varuṇa share with others: they contain especially the pādas which Mitra-Varuṇa share with other dvandva-gods. Finally the pādas which the plural Ādityas, or Mitra, Varuṇa, and Aryaman, in a group, share with others. Each of these three rubrics is small; it is therefore easy to pick out the particular contacts concerning which information is desired:

Āpri-divinities in miscellaneous relations

Under this rubric are united all the correspondences of āpri-pādas with pādas outside the sphere of the āpra. The technical character of these ritual lines is in general very evident, and is properly illustrated by the repeated āpri-pādas collected on p. 608. It is interesting to observe that the ideas of the āpra are, nevertheless, not shut off from the main body of mythic poetry, and that they are, occasionally, evidently of secondary origin. Thus the pāda, vy u prathate vitarāṁ varīyaḥ, below, belongs primarily to Uṣas, 1.124.5; secondarily to Barhis, 10.110.4; the pāda, ṛtasya panthām anv, &c., with equal certainty originated with Uṣas in 1.124.3; 5.80.4, rather than with the Two Divine Hotars in 10.66.13. Perhaps also the pāda çueiḥ pāvako adbhutaḥ, addressed to Narāçaṁsa in 1.142.3, originated in the sphere of Agni or Soma Pavamāna. In the main, however, contacts with outside pādas concern statements of the most general sort. It would seem that the āpra contain ancient technical (ritualistic) conceptions very much blended with the ideas of a later time, and dressed out in the language of the poets of a later time:

ṛtasya pathā namasā miyedah, to Narāṇsa 10.70.2; ... namasā haviṣmatā, to Agni 1.128.2; ... namasā vivāset, to Waters 10.31.2

Dānastuti in miscellaneous relations

It will be observed that the language of the dānastuti occasionally draws upon that of the mythic descriptions of the gods or upon that of prayers to the gods. Antecedently it is likely that the language of the dānastuti is secondary in all such cases. The case of dyāur na prathinā çavaḥ, the first of the following three, is particularly clear; see under 1.8.5. I have assumed that the dānastuti is secondary in all three cases; see the body of the work under the respective pādas.

Minor divinities and personifications in relation with major gods

In the mass of correspondences given above there appear from time to time less important divine personifications which are so sporadic, or faint, or momentary that it did not seem worth while to furnish them with a rubric of their own. At times they shade off to a mere sacrificial object or some inanimate object which is supposed to contain some power or virtue. For instance, the group 'Agni in miscellaneous relations' (p. 614) contains a repeated pāda which involves Agni and Juhū (Ghṛtācī). Now Juhū is not rubricated by itself in the preceding lists. And so on, through the rest of the gods from that point on to the present rubric, there are items of personification of the most variegated character; the more characteristic of these are conveniently brought together under the present rubric. These may be supplemented, according to the judgement of the reader, from the Third Class (Repetitions relating to more than two divinities), which follows a little below, p. 631:

Dual gods in relation to other dual gods and also to plural gods

In this last rubric of the second general class are gathered all the correspondences of dual gods, both similar and dissimilar, with other dual gods and with plural gods. The correspondences of dual gods with single gods are not repeated here a second time, because they may be easily collected from the preceding lists (pp. 611 ff.). In order to show the habits of the poets in this matter with approximate completeness, I have added all correspondences of this sort that are contained in the Third Class (p. 632 ff.). The present list shows very pointedly that phrases about the dual gods tend to repetition in a superior degree. As might be expected, the themes of the repetitions are of the most general, almost vacuous sort, just such as are universally applicable, and no others. There is in this list perhaps not a single pāda which could not be fitted to any Vedic god, and there is not a single pāda which marks the character of a devatādvandva so that it could be properly placed, unless the names of the gods are actually mentioned therein. This corresponds precisely to the intrinsic quality of the repetitions concerning one and the same pair of dual gods, as stated above, pp. 609 ff. The following two examples illustrate this indifference in a quite ideal fashion:

8.38.9 : 8.42.6

evā vām ahva ūtaye yathāhuvanta medhirāḥ, indrāgnī (8.42.6, nāsatyā) somapītaye

CLASS C: REPETITIONS RELATING TO MORE THAN TWO DIVINITIES

General statement.—From the nature of the case a passage which applies to three or more gods, or fits into three or more different situations or connexions, tends to become a formula. The formulaic character of much that appears here is evident on the surface; some passages, such as, e.g., suvīryasya patayaḥ syāma, or, suvīrāso vidatham ā vadema, border on refrain. The latter differs from brhad vadema vidathe suvīrāḥ (2.1.16 ff.), a true refrain, in that it occurs much less often, and not in a continuous chain of hymns in a given book, ascribed to the same author. I have included in this list all repetitions that are concerned with three or more divinities, or three or more different situations, prayers, figures of speech, and so on. These passages mark high water in the poets' imitateness and reciprocal dependence. For obvious reasons, namely compactness and dislike of repetition, these passages have not been listed in the second general class which deals with the repetitions that concern no more than two gods; see pp. 610 ff. The present class, therefore, is in more than one aspect a supplement to the second class. E. g. in considering the repetitions which concern Agni and Indra alone, the reader should turn to the present class. He will then observe that its first item, a sūryam rohayad (rohayo) divi describes Agni, Indra, and Soma. It is to be noted, too, that in some cases the present class shows contact between two divinities which does not reappear in the second class; e. g., viṣvasya sthātūr jagato janitriḥ (jagataḥ ca gopāḥ, and jagataḥ ca mantavaḥ) which applies to the Waters, to Sūrya, and Viṣve Devāḥ. All this may be readily supplied under the rubrics of the second class which are concerned:

CHAPTER V: RELATIVE CHRONOLOGY OF BOOKS (MAṆḌALAS) AND MINOR COLLECTIONS

Untrustworthiness of Anukramaṇī-statements shown by the repetitions.—I have endeavoured to show in the earlier parts of this work that RV. repetitions are often due to more or less conscious imitation. Such imitations, moreover, frequently are so clearly inferior in structure and style as to furnish fairly good criteria for the relative age of the passages concerned.

The statements of the Sarvānukramaṇī, ascribed to Kātyāyana, and its commentary, the Vedārthadīpikā of Śaḍguruṇiṣya,¹ betray the dubiousness of their authority in no particular more than in relation to the repetitions. As is generally known their account of the authors of the hymns is based in part upon a slender stock of true tradition as to the chief families of Vedic poets. But their more precise statements shrink for the most part into puerile inventions. Especially, the Anukramaṇī finds it in its heart to assign, with unruffled insouciance, one and the same verse to two or more authors, or to ascribe it to two or more divinities, according as it occurs in one book or another, in one connexion or another. The āpri stanzas, 3.4.8-11 = 7.2.8-11 are ascribed in the third book to Viṣvāmitra Gāthina; in the seventh book, to Vasiṣṭha Maitravaruṇi. And thus many more times, as may be seen in the main body of this work, where each verse is furnished with the data of the Anukramaṇī.

Critical value of author-names mentioned in the verses themselves.—In these circumstances the quasi-historical statements of the Anukramaṇī do not help to determine the relative values or dates of repetitions. On the other hand, the names of authors mentioned in repeated passages do at times throw light on their relative dates. The distich 6.25.9^{cd} mentions the name Bhara-dvājaḥ; this word is changed, secondarily, to Viṣvāmitrāḥ in the solitary Viṣvāmitra hymn of the tenth book, 10.89.17; see under 1.4.3. Stanza 1.147.3, belonging to the Dirghatamas group, mentions the metronymic Māmateya which occurs otherwise also only in the Dirghatamas hymns. The same stanza is repeated, secondarily no doubt, in the Vāmadeva book, 4.4.13; see under 1.147.3. The direct mention of Vasiṣṭha in 10.65.15 = 10.66.15, together with the

Vasiṣṭha refrain, yūyam pāta svastibhiḥ sadā naḥ, render it exceedingly likely that the stanza in question is an imitation of 7.35.15 (q.v.).

Such cases are rare; in the main the criteria by which the relative value of repetitions may be judged are purely intrinsic: subject-matter, style, grammar, metre, and so on.

Intrinsic criteria of relative dates.—A repeated passage fits one god or one connexion better than another; see above, pp. 587 ff. Anacoluthon marks a certain repetition as inferior; see under 1.12.12; 1.107.2. The subject of parenthesis develops new character in the light of repetitions, because parenthetic pādas often recur in primary well-knit connexions; see under 1.10.7; 12.6; 12.11; 15.9; 24.10; 134.2; 176.1; 3.19.2; 52.3; 4.55.1, &c.¹ Tautology is liable to betray the inferiority of a repetition, as when 8.44.19 is inferior to 1.5.1 (q.v.): see also under 6.19.8; 7.44.1; 8.26.21. Original and intentional antithesis may be disturbed in repetition; see 1.92.11, 12; 3.22.7; 7.15.8. Longer passages may reveal themselves as dilutions of earlier shorter passages; see under 1.12.1; 1.23.20; 1.142.3; 4.46.3; 5.51.3. Or, on the other hand, a passage may represent a condensed version of a fuller and earlier composition, as is probably the case in 1.105.8 as compared with 10.33.2, 3; or 8.13.31 as compared with 8.33.11. Ellipsis shows inferiority; see under 2.3.11; 8.5.7. Grammatical differences of one sort or another may determine priority: see under 1.30.21; 39.6; 4.17.3. Finally metrical differences of considerable variety quite frequently teach the relative value and date of repeated passages; see under 1.14.1; 14.12; 41.2; 62.12; 80.10; 144.7, &c.; and the chapter on metre. All these, and, in addition, many subtler and less easily statable criteria play their part in the appraisal of the relative character and date of repeated materials. The Index of subjects at the end of this book contains them all to the extent to which they can be expressed in definite catchwords.

How these criteria determine the relative dates of single hymns.—To what extent, now, may these indications be used to establish the relative date of entire hymns, groups of hymns, or entire books (maṇḍalas)?

The repetitions often show that imitative stanzas are inferior to their patterns. As a rule the inferior stanza is not a later addition to its hymn, but part of it in good standing: in such cases we may therefore assume that the hymn which contains the imitative and later stanza is itself later than the hymn which contains the pattern. Thus 1.10.7 contains the parenthesis, indra tvādatam id yaçāḥ, borrowed from 3.40.6; nothing is in the way of assuming that the entire hymn, ascribed to a Viçvamiṭrid poet by the name of Madhuchandas, is a later product of the poetic school which had previously produced 3.40, whose author is plain Viçvamiṭra (in both cases, of course, according to the Anukramanī).² When Gotama Rāhūgaṇa composed the obviously truncated or elliptic pāda addressed to Indra, vṛtram jaghanvān asrjat, 1.80.10, the pāda, vṛtram jaghanvān asrjad vi sindhūn, must have been present to his mind. The latter occurs in 4.18.7; 19.8, ascribed to Vāmadeva: we may therefore conclude that 1.80 as a whole was composed after these Vāmadeva hymns; cf. the similar relation between 7.24.3 and 8.79.4. The body of this work shows seriatim, whenever possible, the relative dates of the individual items, namely, pādas, distichs and stanzas; my conclusions on this subject are throughout intrinsic, that is to say, they are based upon the merits of the passage itself without reference, as a rule, to other indications as to the relative standing, or the chronology of the hymns or the books confronted in the comparisons.

² Note that 1.10.7 shares another pāda, namely d with 8.64.1^b.

Examination of such hymns for other indications of relative date.—It would seem now a natural next step to examine the hymns that contain the repeated pādas for which relative chronology has been assumed, in order to see whether they contain other criteria which corroborate the verdict of the repetitions. Such criteria would be linguistic, metrical, traditional (questions of authorship), order of the stanzas in the hymns and of the hymns in the māṇḍalas, and so on. This sort of examination would of necessity assume very large proportions; would indeed be the larger whole in which the present results could figure but as the smaller part. I confess to great scepticism as to the fruitfulness of such an examination, because I am loath to trust most of these criteria when it is a question of smaller subdivisions of the RV. I do not, of course, mean such broad distinctions as those which separate the tenth book from the rest of the canon, and the like.

In the tangled web of the epigonal and hackneyed mass of ṛcaḥ which we have in our hands such an investigation is certainly very difficult, probably premature, and perhaps destined never to become timely. Of the ritual background of the Rig-Veda in general we have mere glimpses¹; the rôle and extent of the Sāman compositions in the RV. is not altogether determined, nor their meaning defined; the distinction between hieratic and popular passages, which I proposed some years ago,² is not as yet applied definitely and clearly to the entire body of the text; and there are liable to be clannish and geographical dialecticisms of great intricacy and covering very large periods of time. Indeed the most serious criticism of the attempts to arrange the Rig-Veda 'historically' is, that they have hitherto been undertaken without regard to the fact that something like one-fifth of the mass is repeated in the most haphazard manner imaginable, and the rest honeycombed almost infinitely with identical, technical, and intentional groups of two, three, and more words.³ The first thing to do, surely, with a hymn that shares, say, half a dozen lines with other hymns is to correlate it with those hymns. That has not been done, and, as we shall see, is not easy to do.

637] Examination of hymns for indications of relative date

sa jāyamānaḥ parame vyoman 7.5.7

sa jāyamānaḥ parame vyomani 1.143.2 ; 6.8.2.

The expression applies every time to Agni, or some form of Agni (Vaiṣvānara. Jātavedas). Which is the older? Under the influence of a certain type of specious linguistic 'history' we should say the version with vyoman, which is Vedic only, is the older, whereas vyomani, which is both Vedic and Classical, is the younger. Yet so far as the Vedic authors are concerned, the two forms are metrical doublets, and nothing more.¹ Or, it is a well-known fact that the hieratic language, on the whole, shows a preponderance of nom. acc. neuter plurals in -ā from a-stems, as compared with forms in āni, whereas the popular language favours the forms in āni, which finally prevail in Classical Sanskrit. Is it possible really to fit this observation to such cases in hymns taken individually? Can we judge with its help, e.g., the relative chronology of the two hymns which contain the forms viṣvā and viṣvāni, viṣvā jātāny abhy asmi mahnā 8.100.4

viṣvāni sānty abhy astu mahnā 2.28.1 ?

Here viṣvā jātāni and viṣvāni sānti are metrical doublets, and if, forsooth, viṣvā is 'older' than viṣvāni, the markedly hieratic form sānti bids us pause in casting any reflection upon viṣvāni sānti. I confess, myself, to a prejudice in favour of the priority of 2.28.1, because hymns in which Indra brags in the first person (ātmastuti) are presumably late: 'Here I am, O poet, look at me ; I excel in greatness all things born !' Cf. under 4.17.3. For the interchange between -ā and -āni cf. the even-syllable verse-endings viṣvāni vārīā, 9.3.4 ; 11.9 ; 18.4 ; 21.4 ; 42.5 ; 63.30, or viṣvāni kāvīā 2.5.3 ; 8.41.6 ; 9.23.1, with the odd-syllable verse-endings duritāni viṣvā, 5.77.3, or bhuvanāni viṣvā 1.154.2, 4 ; 3.61.3 ; 7.80.1 ; 10.82.3. I cannot imagine Vedic composition without both viṣvāni and viṣvā. See for this entire matter Lanman, JAOS. x. 347.

The technique of the verses is responsible for a great many pairs of words, one of which is for some reason or other suspected of being of later origin than the other, and therefore a sign of lateness on the part of the hymn in which it figures.² As far as the hieratic hymns taken by themselves are concerned, choices like the ones just discussed, or between nom. plurals in ās and āsas, or nom. acc. duals in ā and āu are simply literary. The late Vāṭakhilya hymns are almost impudent in their choice of the 'older' forms in the case of all these doublets. They archaize smirkingly.³ In cases, therefore, like the relation of 1.10 to 3.40, or 1.80 to 4.18 and 19, I have been content to let the repeated pādas speak for themselves. The hymn 1.10 contains seven pādas repeated elsewhere. The only other correspondence which suggests relative date is that of 1.10.8^b = 1.176.1^c. Here 1.176.1 is open to the charge of lateness because its second pāda, indram indo vṛṣā viṣa, is surely a parenthesis which occurs elsewhere (9.2.1) in good connexion; see under 1.176.1. I have considered circumspectly all the circumstances of 1.10: its authorship; its place in the set of Madhuchandas Vāiṣvāmītra hymns (1.1-11); its possible relation to sāman; and its language which is good hieratic speech, rather archaic than otherwise (kartvam, kakṣyapṛā, puruniṣṣidhe, ṛghāyamānam, āṛutkarna, &c.). I cannot find anything in these quarters which connects itself profitably or constructively with the conviction that the hymn has borrowed its parenthetic pāda 8^b, and that the same stanza shares its pāda d with 8.64.1^b. And yet I should not wish my abstemiousness to be construed into a doubt that 1.10 is later than 3.40. On the contrary I believe that just this kind of comparison, carried out as it is here completely, furnishes us with the most certain indication of the relative age of individual hymns.

² Cf. e.g. the use of sahasrāṇi and sahasrebhiḥ in 8.73.14, 15 ; or somāsaḥ and somāḥ in 5.30.10, 11.

³ See Hopkins, JAOS. xvii. 25.

Massing of repetitions as a criterion of the relative date of maṇḍalas or other collections.—On the other hand, when it comes to the question of the relative date of larger parts of the Rīg-Veda, the repeated verses become an important criterion. It may happen that a larger continuous tract of the text contains so many repeated pādas as to become suspect on that account alone. For, I take it, a hymn which contains an unusual amount of repetition is, on the whole, not the source of these repetitions, but is itself the borrower.¹ Consider, e.g., the strophic hymn 8.8, which the Anukramaṇī ascribes to a Kaṇvid poet of the name of Sadhvaṇsa, but which itself mentions several times Vatsa, 'the son of Kaṇva', as its author. Its first 19 stanzas of 76 pādas contain no less than 34 repeated pādas. I would ask the reader to underline the repeated pādas (1a^{bcd}, 2a^b, 4^c, 5a^b, 6a^{bcd}, 7a^d, 8c^d, 10a, 11a^b, 12a^b, 13^d, 14a^{bcd}, 15^b, 16^d, 17a, 18a^b, 19^d) in his Aufrecht text, and then see how the text looks. Let him then consider whether he can escape the conviction that that particular hymn belongs to a late period of hieratic composition. Similarly, the three preceding hymns 5-7 abound in repetitions, whereas the first four hymns of the book are decidedly more sparing in this practice. The tract 8.5-8 (as also, to be sure, some of the neighbouring hymns) is related to the Praskaṇva collection, 1.44-50. Oldenberg, Prol., p. 262 ff., has had occasion to guess that the Praskaṇva hymns show signs of being older than those parts of the eighth book, notably the Vatsa-hymns, which exhibit correspondences with them. So, very conspicuously, the pāda, rājantāv adhvarāṇām, applied to the Aṛvins in 8.8.18, is palpably inferior to rājantam adhvarāṇām, applied to Agni in 1.45.4 (also 1.1.8, q. v.). The mix-up between dual harī and plural saptayah in 8.4.14 shows that that stanza is patterned upon 1.47.8. And the expression yajñasya sādhanam, applied to Indra in 8.6.3, is inferior to the same expression applied to Agni in 1.44.11. All this is evidence for the relatively late date of 8.5-8.

Massing of repetitions in the eighth book.—If we should in due time be led to regard massing of repetitions as a criterion of lateness, hymns 8.12 and 13, respectively with 26 and 27 repeated pādas, decidedly attract attention. Both belong to the class of hymns in uṣṇih metre with tetrasyllabic refrain pāda (8+8+8+4).¹ There need be no squeamishness in associating this artificial form with the frequency of the repetitions. Similarly the short hymn 8.87 has two stanzas, 2 and 4, which repeat the same statement in Vāḥkilya fashion; and altogether fifteen of its twenty-four pādas are repeated. The eighth book, as a whole, is the most markedly repetitious book in the RV., aside from the ninth which iterates endlessly its own Soma Pavamāna formulas, but shows in this respect, as also in other respects, comparatively little contact with other books. Contrariwise the three short Viṣve Devāḥ hymns, 8.28-30, have only a few partial repetitions, yet by no means impress with the sense of their antiquity. Especially the riddle nivid 8.29 is certainly an extremely clever, ingeniously constructed product of later Brahman theology.²

Hopkins, JAOS. xvii. 23 ff., has examined the vocabulary of Book VIII, with a view to its relative chronology. He criticizes the claims of extreme antiquity which had been made in behalf of the book for grammatical and lexical reasons (Ludwig, Hirth, Lanman), and, conversely, is not very much taken with Brunnhofer's statistic which makes the book out to be very late.³ His own conclusion is that much of the Kāṇva collection is late. It seems to me that no exception can be taken to this moderate statement,⁴ and that the great mass of repeated material, the many refrains, and the frequent uṣṇih stanzas with tetrasyllabic refrain go to establish at least as much as that. But the matter is not ripe for final decision as long as there is wanting a clear conception of the ritual relations of the strophic hymns of the Veda. They are in some way dependent upon Sāman and the ritual of the Udgātar,—of that I have no doubt. But this throws this type of composition, though not all its products, back into extreme antiquity, for the Veda cannot be imagined without Sāman and Udgātar.⁵ Therefore, surely, some of the trcas and pragāthas of those Kanvids and suppositious Aṅgirasids who are so prominent in books 8 and 1.1-50 are sure to belong to the oldest stock. But which? The question in this form is no easier to answer than the parallel question, which hymns in the RV. as a whole are surely old? We have some sense here and there of relatively younger hymns, but we can nowhere point to primordial or aboriginal hymns. I do not imagine that there will be any one so bold as to question the lateness of 10.98 or 1.191, but, conversely where is the brahma purāṇam (jyestham) or the pratnaṁ manma in the Vedic? Now this sense that the eighth book is plethoric with relatively younger and inferior products of the Rishis' muse is well supported by the great number of its repetitions. Nevertheless, just as there are old words and forms in the book, so also it is very likely that some—probably not very many—of its strophes date from the early period of Vedic composition.

⁵ Cf. Oldenberg ZDMG. xlii. 445, 464. In my articles, 'On ṛcīṣama, an epithet of Indra', JAOS. xxi. 50 ff.; and, 'The God Indra and the Sāmaveda', WZKM. xvii. 156 ff., I have shown that the old and characteristic epithet of Indra, ṛcīṣama, means 'he for whom the Sāman is sung upon the Rc', and that this word is essentially, though not entirely, a word which belongs to the sphere of strophic composition. The word marks both the antiquity and originality of some aspects of this type of composition.

Superior or inferior quality of repetitions in a given collection as a criterion of date.—In book VIII the steady trickle of repetitions amounts in the end to quite a stream, as we pass from the beginning to the end of the book as a whole, especially if we include the Vāḷakhilya hymns. The same condition, perhaps, prevails in the related strophic collections of the first book (hymns 1-50). Here also repetitions are constant and frequent. Book IX is self-repeating; its repetitions represent a formulaic ritualistic type which, again without doubt, roots in antiquity, but became common property at a very early time. In the rest of the books and minor author-collections the repetitions are constant, but their numerical distribution is not such as to prejudice for or against any one of them. There is yet another possibility that the repetitions might throw light on the relative age of the books, or some larger tracts in the books. Let us suppose that we compare the repetitions in a given book¹ with their correspondents in other books, and find that the repeated verses in the book which is made the basis of the comparison are regularly either superior or inferior in sense to their correspondents in the other books. We should then possess a criterion for the relative age of that book, really more substantial or certain than any other that has been so far suggested.

Application of this criterion to the Vāḷakhilya hymns.—The Vāḷakhilya hymns share the following pādas with the rest of the collection :

1. ā na stomam upa dravat Vāl. 1.5^a : 8.5.7^a. Here Vāl. has to supply a verb ; in 8.5.7 yātam follows in the sequel.
2. Val. 2.9^b : 8.24.8^b. There is good reason to assume that Vāl. is secondary : see the discussion under 8.24.8.
3. Vāl. 4.4^{cd}, taṁ tvā vyaṁ sudughām iva goduhe juhūmasi ṇavasyavaḥ : 1.4.1^{ab}, surūpakṛtnum ūtaye sudughām iva goduhe (juhūmasi). Here, as I have shown under 1.4.1, the canny proportion, surūpakṛtnum : sudughām = ūtaye : goduḥe, marks 1.4.1 as the source of the repeated expression.

4. Vāl. 4.10 and 8.7.22 are patterned after one another. There can be no doubt that the Vāl. stanza is a conglomeration, so banal as to be almost incredible: sam indro rāyo brhatr adhūnuta sam kṣonī sam u sūryam 'Indra has shaken together (brought together) great wealth, the sun, and heaven and earth!' See under 8.7.22.

5. Vāl. 5.7, yas te sādhiṣṭho 'vase te syāma bhareṣu te, simply makes no sense, but is founded on the plainest of sense in 5.35.1, yas te sādhiṣṭho 'vasa indra kratuṣ ṭam ā bhara; see under 5.35.1.

6. The pāda dyāur na prathinā ṇavaḥ in the dānastuti, Vāl. 8.1, is a mere solecistic tag to the stanza, borrowed from the simple connexion in 1.8.5. q.v.

There are only two other pāda correspondences of Vāl. with outside stanzas. One is Vāl. 1.1^d, yat sunvate yajamānāya cikṣathaḥ, addressed to Indra and Varuṇa, parallel to 10.27.1^b, yat sunvate yajamānāya cikṣam, in which Indra utters the same sentiment in the first person. As I have said before (p. 637). I am prejudiced against these first person statements, especially when they recur in the third person. It is quite possible, though I perceive no other criterion (both stanzas are very good), that 10.27 is here the borrower. See under 8.59(Vāl. 1).1.—The other case involves the formulaic pāda, dhuḥsasva (and dhuḥsanta) pipyuṣm iṣam, Vāl. 6.7^d, and shows nothing as far as Vāl. is concerned; see under 8.7.3.

We need not hesitate to say that, in the case of Vāl. repetitions, priority is obviously with the outside hymns, just what we should expect in the general circumstances attending this batch of hymns.

Application of the same criterion to the eighth book as a whole leads to a more positive sense of its lateness.—Could we but find, similarly, one-sided priority in the relations of the pādas in any two other books, or continuous tracts of the Saṁhitā, we should then have in hand a truly solid instrument for judging their relative age. If, e.g., the eighth book steadily showed its repeated pādas in sense connexions inferior to those in which the same pādas occur in the other books, this result, supported as it is by other considerations, would amount to certainty. As may be readily guessed, such is not altogether the case. The repetitions of the eighth book are to a large extent within the book itself; in this respect the eighth book is next to the ninth. So, e.g., nānā havanta ūtaye 8.1.3; 15.12; 68.5; or gantārā dāṇuṣo gr̥ham 8.5.5; 13.10; 22.3. Neither pāda occurs outside the eighth book. The materials which it shares with other books are to a considerable extent quite indifferent, sometimes mere formulas. E. g., bhadraṁ manah kṛṇuṣva vṛtratūrye 'have good courage in the demon fight' is used indifferently in 2.26.2; 8.19.20. Or, a sūryam rohayo (rohayad) divi is a 'henotheistic' formula, 1.7.3; 8.89.7; 9.107.7; 10.156.4; see p. 576.

Yet, in a surprising number of cases, book VIII is indeed more or less markedly inferior. Who will question that 8.1.24 is a diluted version of 4.46.3?

brahmayujo haraya indra keçino vahantu somapitaye (8.1.24).
ā vām sahasraṁ haraya indrāvāyū abhi prayah, vahantu somapitaye (4.46.3).

The indications of relative date on the part of the repetitions are discussed in the body of this work; for briefness' sake I must content myself with recalling here the best instances in which book VIII shows itself to be inferior to its correspondents:

Sporadic instances in which the eighth book shows superior verses.—Let me repeat that, as a rule, repetitions tend to be indifferently well used in the several connexions in which they appear. Hence it must be granted that a list of about fifty instances of inferiority has a good deal of significance. The list is evidently supported by other tests that have been applied to the date of the maṇḍala, and shows beyond doubt that book VIII contains late materials on a large scale. This is well borne out by the negative test: the book shows very few, scarcely any, cases of superiority over the family books, and not many as compared with the remaining books. As regards the latter class, 10.83.7 contains a stanza addressed to the secondary conception Manyu, 'God Wrath', which is an undisguised replica of the Indra stanza, 8.100.2. More or less certainly 8.18.3 is superior to 10.126.7; and 8.11.6 to 10.141.3; and 8.14.7 to 10.153.3; and 8.18.10 to 10.175.2. In a couple of cases, 8.60.3 to 1.127.2; and 8.6.19 to 1.134.6, our book shows itself superior to Parucchepa's artificial compositions. A number of cases of contact with other parts of the first book involve less certain relations: 8.5.7 with 1.14.5; 8.5.17 with 1.47.4; 8.7.11 with 1.37.12; and 8.7.12 with 1.15.2. But again, 8.36.4 seems better and prior to 9.96.5; and 8.32.2 to 9.109.22. As regards the family books, the pāda, a no viṣvabhīr ūtibhiḥ sajoṣāḥ, 7.24.4, is composite as compared with a no (or vām) viṣvabhīr ūtibhiḥ, in 8.8.1, 18; 87.3. Less clear are the relations of 8.12.4 and 5.86.6; or 8.12.4 and 7.66.6;—and that apparently exhausts the possibilities in that direction. I conclude, therefore, that both the frequency of repetitions in the eighth book, as well as the sense and connexion of its repeated verses point unmistakably to its late date in the main.

Quality of repetitions in the strophic collections of the first book (hymns 1-50).—Interested inquiry in this direction turns next to the six smaller, mostly strophic collections at the beginning of the first book, hymns 1-50. Their consanguinity with book VIII is obvious. Like book VIII they abound in repeated pādas, many of which they indeed share with that book. So, e.g., the hymn 8.8 shares no less than ten of its pādas with the Praskaṇva hymns, 1.45-49; or, four pādas of 8.7 recur in the Kaṇva Ghāura hymns 1.37-39. The relative date of books 8 and 1.1-50 as a whole resolves itself into a question of the relation of book VIII to each of the six minor collections embraced in 1.1-50. But the smallness of these minor groups prevents judgement, aside from the above mentioned (p. 638) fairly clear superiority of the Praskaṇva hymns to their correspondents in the eighth book.

On the whole the Madhuchandas hymns, 1.1-11, show a considerable degree of inferiority in the use of verses which recur in the family books.¹ So, e.g. the trochaic pāda, 1.2.7^a, mitram huve pūtadakṣam, is a scooped-out form of mitram huve varuṇam pūtadakṣam, 7.65.1^b; the pāda, ṛtena mitravaruṇāu, 1.2.8^a, is, perhaps, a truncated remnant of ṛtena mitravaruṇāu sacethe, 1.152.1^d; and 1.10.7^b is a parenthetic pāda borrowed directly from 3.40.6^c. It is tempting even to regard 1.3.6^b, upa brahmāṇi harivaḥ, as a truncated form of upa brahmāṇi harivo haribhyām, 10.104.6^a.

In the group of Medhātithi Kaṇva, 1.12-23, the pāda, kavir grhapatir yuvā, 1.12.6^b, feels like a secondary parenthesis, as soon as we compare its use in 7.15.2^c. Pāda 1.12.11^b is a parenthetic intrusion between two pādas that are a modulated form of 9.61.6^{ab}. Stanza 1.12.12 is patchwork. Pāda 1.14.6^c, in a strained connexion, seems to come from 6.16.44^c. The ṛtuyāja hymn 1.15 contains three lines, 2^c, 7^a, and 9^b in awkward connexions, or bad form, as compared with their form or connexion elsewhere. Finally the distich 1.22.21^{ab} was originally addressed to Agni, 3.10.9^{ab}, and adapted, from real to mystic, in a stanza to Viṣṇu.

The group of Ṣunaḥṣepa Ājigarti, 1.24-30, has in 1.24.10 a stanza addressed to Varuṇa, one of the gems of Rīg-Veda composition. The stanza seems superior to 3.54.18 with which it shares the pāda, adabdhāni varuṇasya vratāni. Contrariwise, the vocative pāda, aṣve na citre aruṣi, 1.30.21^c, is pretty certainly an imitation of the nominative pāda, aṣveva citrāruṣi, 4.52.2^a. The banal stanza 1.25.15 is apparently patterned after 10.22.2. The additional pāda in 1.23.20 as compared with 10.9.6 is surplusage. Note especially the certainly secondary pāda 1.27.1^c, samrājantam adhvarāṇām, which for its own purposes turns trochaic the iambic pāda, rājantam adhvarāṇām, 1.1.8^a; 45.4^a.

In the Hiranyastūpa Āṅgīrasa group (1.31-35) 1.33.12^c seems to be an insipid imitation of 7.91.4^a. In the Kaṇva Ghāura group (1.36-43) 1.36.15^{ab} is patterned after 7.1.13^{ab}; and 1.40.4^d is inferior to 3.9.1^d. Perhaps, also, on grounds of metre, 1.43.3^a is a truncated remnant of 3.4.6^c. The group of Praskanva Kaṇva, 1.44-50, which, with reasonable certainty, shows signs of superiority to parts of book VIII¹, happens also to betray no inferiority to the family books, as far as its repeated pādas are concerned.

This is none too much, but enough to show that the strophic collection, 1.1-50, is, on the whole, in the same relation to the rest of the collection as is book VIII. Like book VIII the hymns 1.1-50 exhibit a few cases of superiority to the rest of the collection. As stated above, 1.24.10 is distinctly superior to 3.54.18, which sinks 1.24.10^c into a parenthesis. In 1.26.4^c the reading, sīdantu manuṣo yathā, seems to me the mother of the pāda, sīdanto vanuṣo yathā, in 9.64.29. The pāda, sumṛīkaḥ svavān yātv arvān, is addressed better to Savitar in 1.35.10 than to the Aṣvins' car in 1.118.1.

The ninth, or Pavamāna Soma book.—It is apart from my purpose to examine with any great degree of precision the proportions between primary and secondary uses of verses in each of the remaining books or other recognized subdivisions of the Saṁhitā. The Pavamāna book does not lend itself well to such inquiries, because for the most part it repeats itself. I would merely remark that there are about 30 cases of repetitions which book IX shares with other books, of which 10 are with book VIII. In these correspondences book IX is regularly superior to book VIII: 9.2.9: 8.6.1;—9.14.3: 8.69.1;—9.24.2: 8.6.34; 13.8;—9.24.5: 8.92.25;—9.24.6: 8.13.19;—9.25.4: 8.15.13;—9.61.14: 8.69.11;—9.69.8: 8.93.3;—9.107.4: 8.86.6. This adds a little extra emphasis to the character which we have assigned to the eighth book (p. 642).

Quality of the repetitions in the family-books: The second maṇḍala.—The family books are in a perfect tangle: not one of them is there that has not lines in both superior and inferior connexion. Thus, as regards the second book, 2.3.11 shows the pāda, anuṣvadham ā vaha mādayasva, without the object devān, which rightly and originally precedes the same pāda in 3.6.9. On the other hand my discussion shows that the Āditya stanza, 2.27.9, is the original source of the pāda, tri rocanā divyā dhārayanta, and that the same pāda owes its presence in the Indra stanza, 5.29.1, to a tour de force. Book II shows furthermore inferiority in 2.1.13: 1.94.3; but superiority in 2.5.4: 8.13.6;—2.15.2: 1.103.2;—2.22.4: 1.105.16;—2.23.8: 6.61.3.

The third maṇḍala.—In this book 3.2.10 is inferior to 5.4.3 and 6.1.8;—3.5.5: 4.5.8;—3.17.5: 5.3.5;—3.48.4: 7.101.3;—3.52.3 (62.8): 4.32.16. On the other hand 3.1.21; 59.4 are superior to 6.47.13;—3.2.5: 10.140.6;—3.2.8: 10.150.4;—3.4.6: 1.43.3;—3.4.11 = 7.2.11: 10.15.10;—3.6.9: 2.3.11;—3.9.1: 1.40.4;—3.19.2: 4.6.3;—3.31.8: 10.111.5;—3.34.8: 1.79.8;—3.40.6: 1.10.7;—3.52.1: 8.91.2;—3.53.7: 7.103.10;—3.55.21: 1.73.3;—3.56.7: 1.71.9;—3.62.9: 10.187.4;—3.60.3: 10.94.2;—3.62.9: 10.187.4;—3.62.16: 7.103.10. Note that the third book exhibits its superiority mostly over the extra-family books.

The fourth maṇḍala.—The fourth book is conspicuous for the rather large number of its inferior repetitions. As an example, the glaring paradox, vṛṣā çukraṁ duduhe pṛṇir ūdhaḥ, 4.3.10, is certainly patterned after sakre çukraṁ duduhe pṛṇir ūdhaḥ, in 6.66.1. The following additional cases show the book in the same relation to its compeers: 4.4.13: 1.147.3;—4.6.3: 3.19.2;—4.12.3: 7.16.12;—4.37.7: 5.10.6;—4.45.2: 7.60.4;—4.54.6: 1.107.2; 10.66.3;—4.55.1: 7.62.4. On the other hand 4.17.5 is superior to 1.177.1;—4.18.7 or 4.19.8 are conspicuously the source of the truncated pāda 1.80.10^d;—4.24.3 is superior to 1.72.5;—4.32.16 to 3.52.3; 62.8;—4.36.1 to the mythic tour de force 1.152.5;—4.37.5 to the punning tangle 8.93.34;—4.41.7 to 9.66.18;—4.45.2 to 7.60.4;—4.46.3 to 8.1.24;—4.47.2 to 8.32.23;—and 4.52.2 to 1.30.21. Again we note that book IV exhibits its superiority mostly over the extra-family books.

The fifth maṇḍala.—In the fifth book 5.29.1 is inferior to 2.27.9. Very strikingly 5.56.6 betrays itself by various tests as inferior to both 1.14.12 and 1.134.3; and 5.86.6 is, less certainly, patterned after 8.12.4. On the other hand the book contains many repetitions that place it in a position of vantage as regards the other family books: 5.3.5: 3.17.5;—5.9.4: 6.2.9;—5.10.6: 4.37.7;—5.15.4: 7.84.1;—5.35.2: 6.46.7;—5.46.8: 7.34.22;—5.51.5: 7.90.1;—5.52.4: 6.16.22;—5.80.6: 6.50.8;—5.82.3: 7.66.4;—5.87.5: 7.56.11. The fifth book contains also many repetitions that betray its superiority over the extra-family books; see 5.2.8: 10.32.6;—5.2.11 and 5.29.15: 1.130.6;—5.28.6: 8.71.12;—5.35.1: 8.53 (Vāl. 5).7;—5.43.10: 10.35.13;—5.51.3: 8.38.7;—5.51.8: 1.44.14;—5.55.9: 10.78.8;—5.67.4: 8.18.5;—5.87.2: 8.20.14.

The sixth maṇḍala.—The sixth book, rather in contrast with the preceding, exhibits quite a number of inferior repetitions. Thus 6.2.9: 5.9.4;—6.16.22: 5.52.4;—6.46.7: 5.35.2;—6.47.12: 10.131.6;—6.52.12: 8.44.9. The superiority of the book is, for the most part, in relation to the extra-family books. Thus 6.16.44: 1.14.6;—6.19.8: 10.47.4;—6.25.9: 10.89.17;—6.45.30: 8.5.18;—

6.45.32: 10.62.8;—6.45.33: 8.94.3;—6.47.12, 13: 10.131.6, 7;—6.59.7: 8.75.12;—6.60.14: 8.73.14;—6.66.1: 4.3.10;—6.72.2: 10.62.3.

The seventh maṇḍala.—The seventh book also has a surprising number of inferior repetitions. When it asserts its superiority it does so rather over the extra-family books. Thus 7.24.4^a seems composite and secondary to 8.8.1^a, 18^a; 87.3^a. Also the following repetitions show book VII in an unfavourable light: 7.34.22: 5.46.8;—7.56.11: 5.85.5;—7.58.6: 6.47.13;—7.60.4: 4.45.2;—7.65.4: 3.62.16;—7.66.4: 5.82.3;—7.66.6: 8.12.4;—7.84.1: 5.15.4;—7.90.1: 5.51.5;—7.92.5: 1.135.3;—7.101.3: 3.48.4;—7.103.10: 3.53.7. On the other hand repetitions of book VII are superior in the following cases, mostly in relation to the extra-family books: 7.1.13: 1.36.15;—7.2.6: 1.186.4;—7.10.5: 1.70.5;—7.15.2: 9.101.9, and 1.12.6; 8.102.1;—7.15.8: 8.19.7;—7.16.12: 4.12.3;—7.32.11: 10.103.4;—7.32.23: 1.81.5;—7.35.14: 10.53.5;—7.35.15: 10.65.14;—7.37.5: 8.97.15;—7.44.1: 10.36.1;—7.46.4: 1.104.8;—7.60.4: 1.186.2;—7.61.1: 1.108.1;—7.62.4: 4.55.1;—7.62.5: 1.22.6;—7.65.1: 1.2.7;—7.71.5: 1.117.9;—7.78.3: 1.191.5;—7.86.1: 9.101.15;—7.91.4: 1.33.12;—7.93.7: 1.179.5.

Conclusions as to the family books as a whole.—Neither does the mass of repetitions as a whole, which permeate the family books, become so unbalancing at any point, as to arouse the suspicion that some particular book, or part of a book, is of peculiarly late date. The sound conclusion that may be drawn from repetitions in the family books, in their every aspect, is simply this, that all these books depend upon a long antecedent activity, and that they represent the mixed final precipitate of a later time, and to some extent also, the eclectic choice of a comparatively late redaction, but that they are, on the whole, earlier than the non-family books.

On the relations of the third and seventh maṇḍalas.—There comes to mind in this connexion the traditional hostility of the Viçvāmitras, the reputed authors of the third book, and the Vasiṣṭhas, the reputed authors of the seventh book.¹ This centres about the so-called vasiṣṭhadveṣiṇyaḥ (sc. roaḥ), RV.3.53.21–23, which are supposed to contain a curse of the Viçvāmitras against the Vasiṣṭhas; see BṛhadD. 4.117; Śaḍguruṣiṣya to Kātyāyana's Sarvānukramaṇī (ed. Macdonell), p. 108; ṚVidh. 2.4.2; Durga to Nirukta 4.14; Sayana to RV. 3.53.21. As early as TS. 3.1.7.3; 5.4.11.3 Viçvāmitra and Vasiṣṭha are opposing parties in a viḥava, or conflicting call upon the gods.² Roth, ibid., p. 141, and Geldner, l.c., regard the traditional hostility of the two Ṛṣi clans as old. But the hymns do not express it. At least it is strange that their two Āpri-hymns, 3.4 and 7.2, share no less than four stanzas word for word. We should expect diversity there if anywhere.¹ Of course the two books share quite a number of other lines: 3.6.2^a: 7.13.2^b;—3.6.6^d: 7.13.2^b;—3.10.3^b: 7.14.1^a;—3.11.4^c: 7.16.12^b;—3.16.2^a: 7.18.25^a;—3.35.1^b: 7.23.4^c;—3.41.7^a: 7.31.4^a;—3.48.4^b: 7.101.3^b;—3.50.2^d: 7.29.1^c;—3.53.7^d: 7.103.10^d;—3.56.3^d: 7.101.6^a;—3.62.16^{ab}: 7.65.4^{ab};—3.62.18^a: 7.96.3^c;—and 3.62.18^c: 7.66.19^c.

These parallels do not make the smallest impression of historical difference. All we can see is a collection ascribed to a shadowy Vasiṣṭha and his family (book VII) in an advanced stage of assimilation to another collection, ascribed to a somewhat less shadowy Viṣvāmitra and his family (book III). There is no difference between the relation of these two books and the relations of any other two family books. The supposititious tradition of hostility between the two is probably founded on the notion of the rivalry of the two as Purohitas of King Sudās.² This is likely to have induced later Vasiṣṭhas to insinuate that Viṣvāmitra was no Brahman, but a Kṣatriya; a claim, to be sure, which is not on all fours with RV. 3.53.9, where Viṣvāmitra is designated as mahān ṛṣir devajā devajūtaḥ.

The remaining groups of the first maṇḍala (hymns 51-191).—There are left to consider the first book from hymn 50 onwards, and the tenth book. The former, as is known, consists of nine minor groups of hymns, each of which shows a steady though by no means excessive flow of repetitions. Their quantity tells nothing about the relative date of these minor collections, nor is their quality by any means one-sided. Yet, as the whole, the repetitions of 1.51-191 seem such as to favour the view that this mass of hymns is to a considerable extent of later origin and redaction. This is true, in a noteworthy degree, of the groups of Parācāra Ṣaktya, 1.65-73; Gotama Rāhūgaṇa, 1.74-93; and Paruccheḥpa Dāivodāsi, 1.127-139. Even in these there appear, however, some cases that point in the opposite direction. The repetitions in these nine groups appear under the following aspects:

The group of Savya Āṅgīrasa, 1.51-57, contains rather strikingly, a jagati stanza, 1.56.2, one of whose pādas, samudraṁ na saṁcarāṇe saṁśyavaḥ, is imbedded in the triṣṭubh stanza 4.55.6, and is therefore suspicious in the latter connexion.

The group of Nodhas Gāutama, 1.58-64, shows one or two inferior pādas: 1.59.5: 7.98.3; and 1.59.3: 1.91.4, where the inferiority of 1.59.3 is quite characteristic. On the other hand 1.60.4 is superior to 1.72.1; and, very obviously 1.62.3 is primary in relation to 10.68.11.

The group of Parācāra Ṣaktya, 1.65-73 (in Aufrecht's judgement,³ 'rubbish'), contains, indeed, a number of inferior repetitions: 1.70.5^a is probably a direct loan from 7.10.5; and still more probably 1.71.9^c is a reminiscence of 3.56.7^b.

The pāda 1.72.5^c, ririkvānsaḥ tanvaḥ kṛvata svāḥ, is a curious 'verballhornung' of 4.24.3^b, ririkvānsaḥ tanvaḥ kṛvata trām; and the stanza 1.73.3 is an imitation of 3.55.21. Also 1.72.3 is inferior to 1.60.4. On the other hand, though less stringently, 1.71.4 seems superior to 1.148.1, and very certainly 1.73.2 is superior to 9.97.48, although the pāda in question, devo no yaḥ savitā satyamanmā, may be an older formula, original in neither connexion.

The group of Gotama Rāhūgana, 1.74-93, has attached to it a traditional name which is kept rather vividly alive in later Vedic times.¹ Repetition in this group points to some sort of modernity: 1.78.1 is inferior to 4.32.9;—1.79.8: 3.34.8 (cf. 9.63.11);—1.81.5: 7.32.23 (cf. 1.102.8);—1.81.9: 5.6.6;—1.84.7: 1.7.8;—1.85.9: 1.56.5;—1.92.11, 12: 1.124.2;—and 1.92.13: 4.55.9 and 9.74.5. On the other hand the group contains some repetitions that mark superiority over books VIII and X, to wit: 1.76.4: 10.2.2;—1.82.2: 8.25.24;—1.91.4: 1.59.3;—1.91.8: 10.25.7;—1.91.13: 8.92.12;—and 1.92.16: 8.35.22. Note that this group has no indications of superiority to any of the family books.

The group of Kutsa Āṅgīrasa, 1.94-115, falls into line with the general aspect of these small collections: it contains a noteworthy number of inferior repetitions. The pāda 1.103.2^a seems a direct loan from 2.15.2, where it appears in a well-knit connexion. The Indra pāda 1.104.8^a seems epigonal to the Rudra pāda 7.46.4^a; and 1.105.16 is inferior to 2.22.4. Perhaps most convincingly, 1.108.1 is secondary to 7.61.1. I believe also that the stanza 1.105.8 is a contracted form of 10.33.2, 3. As against this, 1.96.8 is decidedly better than 1.15.7;—1.96.6 furnishes one of its pādas to the rubbishy conglomerate, 10.139.3;—and 1.107.2 seems superior to 4.54.6.

The group of Kaksīvat Dairghatamasa, 1.116-126, contains few and rather dubious indications as to priority: 1.122.6 is probably posterior to 7.62.5; and 1.118.1 to 1.35.10. On the other hand 1.124.2 is demonstrably part source of 1.92.11, 12; and in the same beautiful Uṣas hymn, 1.124 pāda 7^c, jāyeva patya uṇṇatī suvāsāḥ, appears in its primary application, to be repeated in various applied secondary connexions in 10.71.4; 10.91.3; and 4.3.2.

The group of Parucchepa Dāivodāsi, 1.127-139. I have always been of one mind with reference to the relative date of the hymns of this group, the locus classicus of the complicated atyaṣṭi metre.² They are certainly very late. Thus the very first repeated pāda in this group, viprebhiḥ cakra manmabhiḥ, 1.127.2^c, is evidently wrenched from another connexion, 8.60.3^d, and given a meaning which originally did not belong to it. The distich, ṣuṣmintamo hi te mado dyumnintama uta kratuḥ, applied to Agni in 1.127.9^{de}, is primarily an Indra motif, as in 1.175.5^{ab}. And so 1.128.2 is composite and secondary in relation to 6.14.2 and 5.1.7;—1.130.6 is secondary to 5.2.11: 29.15;—1.134.6 to 4.47.2; 5.51.6;—1.135.2 to 8.82.5;—1.135.6 to 9.62.1; 67.7;—and 1.137.1 to 9.64.28.

¹ Cf. RV. 1.78.5; and the well-known legend ÇB. 1.4.1.10.

² Cf. Ludwig, Der Rīg-Veda, iii. 114.

For all that, the Paruccheṇa hymns occasionally appear in a better light than either the tenth book or the eighth book. Thus 1.129.9: 10.93.11; and 1.134.6: 8.6.19. And in an instance or two Paruccheṇa is in better form than the family books: 1.135.3: 7.92.5;—1.135.7: 4.49.3;—and possibly 1.134.2: 3.13.2.

The group of Dirghatamas Āucathya, 1.140-164, is very non-committal, especially as regards its correspondences with the family books. Conspicuously 1.152.5 is an overdone version of 4.36.1. On the other hand the stanza 1.147.3 = 4.4.3 must have been composed in the sphere of Dirghatamas, because it mentions Māmateya, a metronymic of Dirghatamas. As regards the extra-family books, 1.144.7 is superior to both 8.74.7 and 10.64.11;—1.152.1 to 1.2.8 (less certainly);—and 1.155.4 to 8.63.9. But 1.148.1 seems inferior to 1.71.4;—and 1.149.1 to 10.93.1.

The group of Agastya Maitrāvaruṇi, 1.165-191. In this, the last group, the pādas 1.176.1^{bc} are inferior respectively to 9.2.1^c and 1.10.8^b; so also 1.176.5 to 1.4.8. Other cases of inferiority are: 1.177.1: 4.17.5;—1.177.3: 7.24.2;—1.179.5: 7.93.7;—1.186.2: 7.60.4;—1.186.4: 7.2.6;—and 1.191.5: 7.78.3. On the other hand 1.175.5 is superior to 1.127.9;—1.183.5: 8.85.1;—and 1.186.3: 8.84.1.

The tenth maṇḍala.—The appraisal of the relative value and date of the repetitions in the tenth book is somewhat more certain than in the case of 1.50-191. As a collection, or redactorial product, the book is an aftermath, later than the rest of the Saṁhitā.¹ Antecedently the most reasonable view of such a collection is that it is made up largely of really later compositions. It is equally probable that so large a collection—it contains 191 hymns, exactly the total of the minor collections of the first book—should contain some ancient materials, which either eluded the earlier collectors, or were alien to the literary or ritualistic purposes of the remaining collections. For instance, there is really no prejudice against 10.14-18, because they contain funeral stanzas, a theme which is foreign to the other books. The mere fact that they appear in an appendix does not tell whether they were composed late or early. As a matter of fact this little Yama-Saṁhitā shows few repetitions, and 10.14.14 is pretty certainly prior to 1.15.9; and 10.15.14 to 1.108.12. It is similarly imaginable that some of the popular (Atharvanic), or epic, or theosophic hymns of book X come from an early time.

The tenth book is not excessive in the quantity of its repetitions, if we bear in mind its very large size. Perhaps the most notable quantity is in the Vimada hymns which have seven repeated pādas, to which they add their various refrains; see above, p. 536. I have taken this as a good sign of lateness. But the book as a whole contains so large a number of repetitions inferior in quality, as to leave no room for doubt that its hymns, in the main, were composed at a later time; conversely, its exhibit of superior repetitions is comparatively small. It is not going too far to say that the repetitions of the tenth book amply justify the universal conviction that the great majority of these hymns were not only gathered at a later time, but also composed at a later time. The tenth book, on the one hand, is pivotal in these questions. On the other hand, the relative valuation of its repeated pādas is not likely to be entirely free from subjective elements. Therefore I would recommend the reader to test for himself and check off the following list of repetitions, all of which seem to me to show the inferiority of this book; on most of them opinion cannot but be unanimous:

Part 2, Ch. 5: Relative Chronology of Books and Minor Collections [650

10.10.2: 1.76.4 (less certain)	10.83.7: 8.100.2
10.11.8: 4.56.2; 7.75.7	10.88.2: 4.3.11
10.15.10: 3.4.11 = 7.2.11	10.89.17: 1.4.3; 6.25.9
10.21.1: 3.9.8; 5.20.3, &c.	10.93.11: 1.129.9
10.25.7: 1.91.8	10.94.2: 3.60.3
10.28.7: 4.17.3	10.103.4: 7.32.11
10.22.6: 5.2.8	10.104.6: 7.11.1
10.34.8 and 10.139.3 (both inferior)	10.110.4: 1.124.5
10.35.13: 5.43.10	10.111.5: 3.31.8
10.36.1: 7.44.1	10.111.9: 4.17.1
10.40.13: 8.87.2 (less certain)	10.119.13: 3.9.6, &c.
10.45.11: 4.1.15; 16.6	10.126.1: 2.23.5
10.47.4: 6.19.8	10.126.7: 8.18.3
10.53.5: 7.35.14	10.131.3: 4.17.16
10.62.3: 6.72.2	10.133.6: 9.61.4; 65.9
10.62.8: 6.45.32	10.139.3: 1.96.6
10.63.13: 8.27.16	10.140.6: 1.45.7
10.64.11: 1.144.7	10.141.3: 8.11.6
10.65.7: 1.44.14; 7.66.10	10.141.7: 1.14.3
10.65.14: 7.35.15	10.153.3: 8.14.7
10.65.15 = 10.66.15: 7.35.15	10.154.4: 1.179.2
10.66.13: 1.124.3; 5.80.4	10.175.2: 8.18.10
10.68.11: 1.62.3	10.183.1: 4.36.9
10.69.7: 1.100.12	10.187.4: 3.62.9

The tenth book shows very few, and, on the whole, much less certain cases of superior repetitions. I have pointed out above that the two funeral stanzas 10.14.14 and 10.15.14 seem to me to be respectively superior to 1.15.9 and 1.108.12. Similarly 10.9.6 antedates 1.23.10. Other good cases are 10.22.2: 1.25.15;—10.23.7: 7.22.9;—10.33.2, 3: 1.105.8;—and 10.6.7: 8.96.21. Less certain are the following: 10.45.12: 9.68.10;—10.61.10: 2.1.2;—10.93.1: 6.68.4;—10.93.6: 1.149.1;—and 10.131.6: 6.47.12. It is observable that the superiority of book X is frequently over book I, and that the family books play almost no rôle in these confrontations.

PART THE THIRD

LISTS AND INDEXES

1. REPEATED CADENCES OF RIG-VEDA LINES ALPHABETIZED REVERSELY

This list of repeated cadences of Rig-Veda verses is of course arranged according to the usual direct order of the letters of the Sanskrit alphabet, but the alphabetization is based on the sequence of the letters of each line taking these letters in a reversed order, that is, from the end of each line backwards towards the beginning of each line. Thus the list begins with -ka; it then gives the cadences in -ca, under which come -ā ca, -i ca, -m̐ ca, -ç ca; then the cadences in -cha, under which come -m̐ acha, -ty acha, -hy acha, v̐ acha; then the cadences in -ṭha; in -ṇa; in -ta; and so on.

The interest and value of the list for the purposes of Vedic study appear abundantly in the course of this work. Incidentally the list reveals the extreme lack of variety of the finals of the Vedic vocables. Apart from k and ñ and ṭ, which occur sporadically as finals, these cadences all end either in vowel-sounds (a, ā, i, ī, u, ū, e, ai, o, au), or else in ḥ (s) or m̐ (m̐) or n or t.

Taking the list of about 1675 repeated cadences as it stands, and not counting the repetitions, the approximate number of occurrences of each final is as follows:

1. Vowel-sounds, 575.

In particular,	a, 157	i, 68	u, 37
	ā, 96	ī, 19	ū, 4
		e, 177	o, 4
		ai, 7	au, 5

2. Visarga, 652.

3. Other consonants, 448. In particular,

Sporadic :	k, 7	ñ, 2	ṭ, 1
Final t, 79
Final n, 81
Final m, 278

The frequent finals in the order of frequency are:

Visarga, 652	Final ā, 96
Final m, 278	Final n, 81
Final e, 177	Final t, 79
Final a, 157	Final i, 68

2. LIST OF LINES REPEATED IN ONE AND THE SAME HYMN

WHEN verses are repeated in contiguous or nearly contiguous stanzas of the same hymn these repetitions encroach upon the domain of concatenation. This latter kind of repetition does not in general figure here, because it is outside of the proper limits of our theme. Sufficient reference to it is made above, on pages 5 ff. Some of the repeated lines below are clearly catenary; others, less obviously, may be the same. Thus 1.101.8^d, 9^b, or 9.67.31^{ab}, 32^{ab}, and others. It is not easy to draw the line.

In a few cases the present repetitions approach refrains in character. Thus 8.8.8^d, 15^b, 19^d, gīrbhīr vatso avivṛdhat, if it occurred at the end of successive stanzas would be counted a refrain. The same impression, rather than that of concatenation, is produced by 1.191.5^c, 6^c, adṛṣṭā viṇvadrṣṭāḥ.

In two cases, 8.97.7^a, 7^d and 8.97.8^a, 8^d, we have the suggestion of a type of repetition which occurs in a completed fashion when the refrain appears first at the beginning of the first stanza and again at its end, and then continues to reappear at the end of each stanza of the remainder of the hymn; see the introduction to the next list (3).

The lines repeated in the same hymn now follow:

3. LIST OF REFRAIN-LINES

REGULAR refrain-lines occur at the end of two or more successive stanzas in the same hymn, or at the end of a number of stanzas in more or less contiguous hymns in the same book. There are also quite a number of obvious refrain-lines which betray their character in that they occur a fair number of times scatteringly throughout the collection, but every time at the end of stanzas. These are not included in the present List, because they are on their face not sufficiently differentiated from many other formulaic verses which are certainly not refrains.

Thus br̥had vadema vidathe suvīraḥ is a regular refrain at the end of many verses of the second book (see 2.1.16^d ff.). This refrain does not differ in spirit from suvīrāso vidatham ā vadema, which occurs thrice scatteringly as the last verse of 1.117.25; 2.12.15; 8.48.14; or from suvīryasya patayaḥ syāma, which occurs scatteringly four times at the end of stanzas (see under 4.51.10^d); or from vayaṁ syāma patayo rayīṇām, which occurs scatteringly five times at the end of stanzas (see under 4.50.6^d).

Similarly the type, rayīm dhattam vasumantam çatagvinam, 1.159.5^d ff. (q. v.), though somewhat varied in its several recurrences, occurs every time at the end of a stanza, and is distinctly in the nature of a refrain. Cf. also the type, tasya vayaṁ sumatāu, &c., under 3.1.21^{cd}, and many others. Thus the question as to the character and extent of refrain in the RV. is really an open one, to be determined by intrinsic as well as extrinsic consideration, and not marked off by hard and fast lines from other kinds of formulaic repetition.

On the other hand there is a second type of refrain, namely that of entire stanzas repeated at the end of hymns. These are considered and listed by themselves on pp. 493 ff.; they are, of course, to be treated in connexion with the present list.

In three cases we have a type of refrain in which a verse is repeated, first at the beginning and the end of a first stanza, and then continued at the end only of the remaining stanzas. This peculiar rhetoric appears in 1.97.1^a, 1^c-8^c, apanaḥ çocucad agham; in 8.93.31^a, 31^c-33^c, upa no haribhiḥ sutam; and in 9.58.1^a, 1^c-4^c, tarat sa mandī dhāvati. See also 8.97.7^a, 7^d and 8.97.8^a, 8^d, and the remark at the end of the introduction to the preceding List (2). This type, if it continues at all, is sporadic in Vedic literature, not destined to survive in spite of a certain rhetorical effectiveness.

The refrains of the hymn 8.35 constitute themselves the verse-lines of a continuous new hymn of the Rig-Veda, whose verses are plucked apart, padded, and made to serve as refrains of the existing hymn. See especially the sequence beginning with 8.35.4^b-6^b. Both the existing hymn and the refrain-hymn are Aṣvin hymns, and each of the stanzas ends with the word aṣvinā :

viṣveha devāu savanāva gachatam, iṣam no vjham aṣvinā somaṁ sutaṁ mahiṣeva gachathaḥ, trir vartir yātam aṣvinā prajāṁ ca dhataṁ draviṇam ca dhattam, marutvantā jaritur gachatho havam, ādityāir yātam aṣvinā

hataṁ rakṣāṁsi sedhatam amivāḥ,

HARVARD ORIENTAL SERIES

- Volumes 5 and 6. Brihad-Devatā (attributed to Čāunaka), a summary of the deities and myths of the Rig-Veda. Critically edited in the original Sanskrit (Nāgarī letters), with an introduction and seven appendices (volume 5), and translated into English with critical and illustrative notes (volume 6), by Professor A. A. MACDONELL, University of Oxford. 1904. Pages, 234+350=584.
- Volumes 7 and 8. Atharva-Veda. Translated, with a critical and exegetical commentary, by the late Professor W. D. WHITNEY, of Yale University; revised and brought nearer to completion and edited by C. R. LANMAN. 1905. Pages, 1212. (The work includes critical notes on the text, with various readings of European and Hindu mss.; readings of the Kashmirian version; notices of corresponding passages in the other Vedas, with report of variants; data of the scholiasts as to authorship and divinity and meter of each verse; extracts from the ancillary literature concerning ritual and exegesis; literal translation; elaborate critical and historical introduction.)
- Volume 9. The Little Clay Cart (Mṛcchakaṭika), a Hindu drama attributed to King Shūdraka. Translated from the original Sanskrit and Prākritis into English prose and verse by A. W. RYDER, Instructor in Sanskrit in Harvard University. 1905. Pages, 207.
- Volume 10. Vedic Concordance: being an alphabetic index to every line of every stanza of the published Vedic literature and to the liturgical formulas thereof, that is, an index (in Roman letters) to the Vedic mantras, together with an account of their variations in the different Vedic books. By Professor MAURICE BLOOMFIELD, of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. 1906. Pages, 1102.
- Volume 11. The Pañchatantra: a collection of ancient Hindu tales, in the recension (called Pañchākhyānaka, and dated 1199 A.D.) of the Jaina monk, Pūrṇabhadra, critically edited in the original Sanskrit (in Nāgarī letters; and, for the sake of beginners, with word-division) by Dr. JOHANNES HERTEL, Professor am königlichen Realgymnasium, Doebeln, Saxony. 1908. Pages, 344.
- Volume 12. The Pañchatantra-text of Pūrṇabhadra: critical introduction and list of variants. By Professor HERTEL. 1912. Pages, 245. (Includes an index of stanzas.)
- Volume 13. The Pañchatantra-text of Pūrṇabhadra, and its relation to texts of allied recensions as shown in Parallel Specimens. By Professor HERTEL. 1912. (Nineteen sheets, mounted on guards and issued in atlas-form. They give, in parallel columns, four typical specimens of the text of Pūrṇabhadra's Pañchatantra, in order to show the genetic relations in which the Sanskrit recensions of the Pañchatantra stand to one another, and the value of the manuscripts of the single recensions.)
- Volume 14. The Pañchatantra: a collection of ancient Hindu tales, in its oldest recension, the Kashmirian, entitled Tantrākhyāyika. Sanskrit text, reprinted from the critical editio major by Professor HERTEL. Editio minor. 1915. Pages, 160.
- Volume 15. Bhāravi's poem Kirātārjuniya or Arjuna's combat with the Kirāta. Translated from the original Sanskrit into German and explained by CARL CAPPELLER, Professor at the University of Jena. 1912. Pages, 231. (Introduction, notes, and various other useful additions.)
- Volume 16. The Čakuntalā, a Hindu drama by Kālidāsa: the Bengālī recension critically edited in the original Sanskrit and Prākritis by RICHARD FISCHER, late Professor of Sanskrit at the University of Berlin. (Nearly ready.)
